City Employs Nurse For Health Department

A public health nurse has been hired for the city of Circleville, Mayor Frank Barnhill informed city council members Tuesday.

Mrs. Tom Wells, 340 Walnut Creek Pike, has accepted the position at a salary of $3 per hour. Mayor Barnhill said she will attend public health nurse training sessions at the expense of the state.

The classes will be held in Chillicothe. Barnhill noted the salary offered Mrs. Wells is more than that appropriated for the post by council and asked that an ordinance changing the salary be approved.

He said a transfer of funds is unnecessary since the city has been without a health nurse for an extended period of time. Although at one time the City Schools contributed $1,500 to the city toward the nurse's salary, this is no longer the case. The schools have their own health nurse and the city nurse's services are no longer required.

Mayor Barnhill said the next step in improving the services provided by the city health department will be to employ a fulltime sanitarian. Those services are now being provided by the state department of health.

In addition to the ordinance increasing the salary of the city health nurse from $5,336 per year to $6,240 per year, councilmen approved two other ordinances and two resolutions.

The other ordinances amended the annual appropriations. A sum of $925 was transferred from the Federal Revenue Sharing Fund to the general fund to pay for the new tape recorder for Municipal Court. Records must be kept of criminal trials and hearings conducted in Municipal Court as required by the new rules of criminal procedure.

A sum of $1,200 was transferred from the general fund to Municipal Court Legal Supplies Fund to pay for new legal supplies also required by the rules of criminal procedure.

A resolution permitting Fulton

Cablevision to change its name to Circleville Cablevision Associates was approved. A resolution accepting the amounts and rates of taxation as determined by the Pickaway County Budget Commission was approved.

Council Briefs

Council President Joseph Bell reminded members a public hearing is scheduled 8 p.m. Oct. 2 for rezoning the Renick property in the general area between Nicholas Drive and Hargus Creek.

Mayor Frank Barnhill reported the pigeon eradication program has not been forgotten. Officials from the United States Fish and Wildlife Department have said such programs should be delayed until migratory song birds have left in the fall and actually work best when there is snow on the ground.

Service Director Atwood Jones announced a janitor for the city building has been employed. He also reported work is underway on increasing the radius of the corners at Main and Scioto, the installation of a storm sewer under South Court Street has been completed and the repair of Walnut Street has been completed.

The monthly financial statement of City Auditor Marvene L. Turner was presented to council. General Fund balance Oct. 31 is $105,322.45. The only deficit shown on the report was $4,010.97 in the police and firemen pension levy. Finance Committee chairman David Goldschmidt explained that the rate certified by the budget commission for the pension fund is inadequate and moneys must be transferred from the general fund to make up the deficit.

Council members present were: Ben Gordon, David Crawford, Keith Wagner, David Goldschmidt, Robert Kenworthy, Harold Hoffman, Gladden Troutman.

House Votes Today On Nixon Wage Veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House is expected today to sustain President Nixon's veto of a bill increasing the minimum wage despite a determined effort by labor leaders to salvage the legislation.

House Democratic leaders failed in four previous efforts to muster the two-thirds majority needed to override a veto and a fifth effort failed in the Senate. Now they are letting labor make the main fight.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, has sent every House member a letter urging the veto be overridden and has called on all union local leaders to carry the message to their representatives in Congress.

Meany also sent the members a 12-page analysis of Nixon's veto message, rebutting it point by point and calling it "a collection of myth and distortion of fact."

Although the bill finally passed 287 to 130 last June, Republican and conservative Democratic opponents came within 20 votes of scrapping it for an administration-backed substitute.

In his veto message Nixon said the bill, which would raise the $1.60 an hour minimum to $2 this year and $2.20 next year, would increase unemployment and add to inflation.

The bill also would expand coverage of the minimum wage law by bringing five million state and local government employees and one million domestics under its protection.

Nixon has proposed a slower increase in the minimum — to $1.90 this year, $2.10 next year, $2.20 in 1975 and

$2.30 in 1976, with no increase in coverage, and a lower rate for teenage workers.

The difficulty facing the labor lobbyists is mainly one of arithmetic.

There are 192 Republicans in the House, and if all 435 members vote it only takes 146 to sustain a veto.

The House Republican Policy Committee, chief policy arm of the GOP leadership, overwhelmingly supported Nixon's position Tuesday and issued a statement urging the veto be sustained.

The statement said Republicans would support "a moderate and useful increase in the minimum wage."

Elliott Roosevelt Scoffs At Bahama Death Plot Link

WASHINGTON (AP) — A convicted stock swindler says Elliott Roosevelt and a reputed big-time gambler offered him $100,000 to assassinate the Bahamian prime minister.

Roosevelt, son of former President Franklin D. Roosevelt and once mayor of Miami Beach, Fla., called the allegation "an utter and complete fabrication."

Louis P. Mastriana told the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations Tuesday that the assassination contract was offered because Prime Minister Lynden O.

Pindling allegedly failed to grant a gambling license to Michael McLaney. Mastriana identified McLaney as a onetime employee of U.S. gambling kingpin Meyer Lansky.

Mastriana served time in a federal penitentiary for illegal securities dealings in Florida and is serving an eight-year sentence for mail fraud in Texas.

Roosevelt, contacted at his Lisbon, Portugal ranch, said, "It is an utter and complete fabrication and outright lie made by a man who is a known con-artist and has been convicted, who has been put in jail, who has been adjudged by the courts of New Jersey as a mental incompetent, and who conned me and my associates at one time out of $10,000 in Miami."

Mastriana said he had had himself adjudicated insane purposely "so I could do anything." Later, he said, "I was examined by government psychiatrists who found me to be of sound mind and legally competent."

Mastriana testified that McLaney, who was convicted in 1971 of a securities violation, gave $1 million to Pindling for a 1968 political campaign. In return, Mastriana said, McLaney was to receive a gambling license in the Bahamas.

"But he didn't deliver," Mastriana said of the Bahamian prime minister. "They came to me and offered me $100,000 to kill, to whack (Pindling)," said Mastriana.

Mastriana identified "they" as Roosevelt and McLaney. Mastriana said he was paid $10,000 immediately. He said he got $2,500 in a check from McLaney to Roosevelt.

A committee staff member produced a photostatic copy of a check for that amount signed by McLaney and Roosevelt. The committee member said the check had been endorsed by Roosevelt over to Mastriana.

Mastriana said there was no assassination attempt made, because he said he feared he would be unable to escape from the island nation.

Mastriana said he had a concealed recording device on his body and had taped his conversations with Roosevelt. He said the equipment was furnished by the U.S. Postal Service, which he said he had worked for at that time "in an undercover capacity."

A U.S. Postal Service spokesman said there would be no comment on the allegation until a check of the files is completed.

'Bloodbath' In Chile Unlikely?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite thousands of arrests, the United States does not expect the military junta ruling Chile to engage in a blood bath, according to a high government official.

Americans caught in the convulsive overthrow of the Marxist Allende government evidently will be free to go home when the airports are opened, probably on Saturday, the official said in an interview.

Although a couple have been detained, the U.S. embassy in Santiago reports Americans generally are safe.

The military officers running Chile are considered here to be responsible professionals without the yen to engage in politics that is common in some other Latin American countries.

At the same time, the official said, they are likely to rule with a firm hand and to deal sternly with Chilean and other leftists found with caches of arms.

The Pinochet junta apparently will gain U.S. recognition on the theory that diplomatic relations do not necessarily imply approval of a country's political system.

Washington would be vastly surprised if the new regime reversed the nationalization policy that led to the expropriation of copper mines and other vast properties owned by American interests. This policy is deeply rooted in Chilean history, predating the late President Salvador Allende.

Nixon Proposes Cash Help As Housing Answer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Terming the federal government "the biggest slumlord in history," President Nixon urged Congress today to authorize a new experiment that would provide the needy with direct cash payments to help meet their housing needs.

Nixon said the direct payments should be considered as a potential substitute for massive public housing projects.

In a long-promised special message, Nixon said that the cash payments appear to be "the most promising way to achieve decent housing for all our families at an acceptable cost."

Recommending that first priority be given to the elderly poor, Nixon said the cash subsidies "would be carefully scaled to make up the difference between what a family could afford on its own for housing and the cost of safe and sanitary housing in that geographic area."

The President said a final decision on the wisdom of the innovative approach probably would come "late in 1974 or early in 1975."

For the moment, Nixon said, there would be a continuing need to provide some federally subsidized housing projects. But he recommended, as a new approach, that developers make newly-built units "available at special rents for low-income families and the government in return would pay the developer the difference between such rents and fair market rents."

In the field of public housing, Nixon announced he was lifting his Jan. 5 suspension of "the section 23 program under which new and existing housing is leased for low-income families."

Nixon also proposed a major experiment designed to ease the home-buying burden on young families.

He asked Congress for authority to test a program that would gear mortgage payments to expected changes in family income.

"Rather than make the same flat payment over the life of the loan, families would make smaller payments in the earlier years — when they are hardest pressed — and larger payments later on — when their incomes are higher," Nixon said.

One Of Sextuplets Dies; Three Others Are Ailing

DENVER (AP) — One of the Stanek sextuplets has died from a lung disease common in prematurely born babies. A doctor says three of the other infants show signs of the same ailment.

Julia Stanek lived about 44 hours before severe hyaline membrane disease caused her death Tuesday night.

Skylab Crew Prepares For Return Trip

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — "It won't be long now," said Skylab 2 commander Alan L. Bean.

The three-man crew of the orbiting laboratory began preparations for its return to earth next Tuesday at the end of the 59-day space trip.

Bean made his remark Tuesday during a discussion with mission control about procedures for flying the Apollo ferry ship after leaving the space lab.

Bean, Owen K. Garriott and Jack R. Lousma also discussed with ground controllers the complicated plan for deactivating the station — shutting off some systems, turning others on and stowing equipment in preparation for a visit by the Skylab 3 crew starting Nov. 11.

The astronauts completed two earth resources surveys over the United States on Tuesday. They planned another today to gather data over the Great Lakes, New York state and the Atlantic ocean.

Gov. Gilligan Accused Of Force Play

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John J. Gilligan refused today to comment on charges of political bossism leveled by Col. John Glenn until the former astronaut lodges his complaints "face to face."

Gilligan, at a news conference called for the signing of an ethics bill, said he considered Glenn a personal friend. He said Glenn, who wants to be a candidate for the U.S. Senate in 1974, had visited his home and office.

"I'm simply saying I'm not going to comment on remarks that come to me second hand," Gilligan said. "Unless and until he faces me with it, I will have no comment to make."

Glenn, at a meeting of the Ohio Democratic Executive Committee Tuesday night, charged Gilligan was trying to force him to run for lieutenant governor and put Howard Metzenbaum of Cleveland in line for the party's Senate nomination.

Gilligan said less than two years ago he was being criticized for failing to hold the state delegation together by refusing to run as a favorite son candidate for President.

"I believe in open primaries," the governor added.

Asked if he considered the lieutenant governor's post more important than the U.S. Senate, Gilligan replied: "I have run for the U.S. Senate. I never ran for lieutenant governor. I obviously do not regard a Senate seat as a bauble."

Agnew Office Denies Rumor He'll Resign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's office has rejected fresh speculation that he may resign, insisting instead that he is determined to clear himself of political corruption charges in Maryland.

Agnew himself refused to comment on the latest report that he was close to quitting, and the White House also would not comment.

Leaving a luncheon where he acted as host to visiting Pakistani Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, the vice president was confronted by newsmen and asked whether he was going to resign.

"Gentlemen, as you know it is my practice not to comment on stories from undisclosed sources," Agnew replied. Smiling tautly, he ignored their shouted pleas to say something more and drove away in his limousine.

Bhutto, who chatted with the vice president later in the day at a White House reception, said Agnew was in a "fine mood" and "laughing all the time."

The furor was triggered by a Washington Post story that said Agnew had discussed resigning with a senior Republican figure. The unnamed Republican told the Post he was "99½ per cent sure" that Agnew would quit — probably before the end of this week.

It was the second time in three weeks that a possible Agnew resignation was reported. On Sept. 1, he was said to have discussed the subject with President Nixon, but both Agnew's staff and the White House denied that the subject came up in their 2½-hour meeting.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices rose sharply today in active trading. Brokers said that the market's strength despite earlier dramatic downward movements in some bellwether stocks had attracted investors back to the market.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 9.40 at 900.66 at noon. The Dow last broke the 900 mark on Sept. 6.

Advances overpowered declines nearly 3 to 1 in active trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The broad-based NYSE index of some 1,500 common stocks was up .62 at 56.40.

On the American Stock Exchange, trading was active, and advances broadly led declines. The Amex market value index was up .71 at 100.53 at noon.

IBM was up 7½ points in heavy trading after its opening was delayed for the third straight session since a U.S. District Court ruling against the company in an antitrust suit with Telex. IBM had lost nearly 40 points in the last two sessions. Telex, which had gained more than 4 points in previous sessions, gave up ¾ point at 7½.

Twelve Arraigned In Common Pleas Court

Three of the defendants indicted by the September grand jury pleaded guilty to charges in common pleas court this morning. The court also accepted 11 pleas of not guilty and scheduled these cases for trial.

Judge William Ammer ordered presentence reports on the three persons entering guilty pleas. Richard Ray Parson, Columbus, pleaded guilty to forgery. Gary Lee Martin and Larry R. Webb of Columbus entered pleas of guilty to Grand larceny.

Webb and Martin are free at present on $2,000 recognizance bonds while Parson remains in jail under $2,500 bond.

Entering a plea of not guilty to incest was George Williams, Route 2, Ashville. The case is scheduled for trial on Oct. 29 at 9 a.m. Williams's $5,000 recognizance bond was continued.

Three charges against Arthur Lowery, 156 W. Water St. are set for trial on Oct. 11. Lowery faces two counts of breaking and entering an uninhabited building in the night season and one count of grand larceny. He is under three $1,000 recognizance bonds.

Kenneth Ray Harris, 402 N. Scioto St., pleaded not guilty to assault with a dangerous weapon and was scheduled for trial Oct. 15. Bond was continued at $500.

Two Cincinnati men, Harry Thomas Bolton and Ronald Lee Scott, pleaded not guilty to breaking and entering an uninhabited dwelling in the night season. Each man was released under

$5,000 recognizance bond. Bolton was scheduled for trial on Oct. 24 and Scott on Nov. 26.

Similar charges will be heard against Kenneth Willis Certain 386 Walnut St., on Nov. 19. Upon accepting Certain's plea of not guilty, Judge Ammer continued his bond at $1,000.

Requesting court appointed counsel at the arraignment were Willetta Sue Frey, Route 1, Lockbourne, Mack David Showalter, Mt. Sterling, and Richard L. LaFollette, 342 E. Mound St. These three persons did not enter pleas but filed the necessary papers for such counsel.

Mrs. Frey is charged with breaking and entering an inhabited dwelling in the night season and grand larceny. She is being held under $2,500 bond. Showalter remains under $2,000 bond on breaking and entering and grand larceny charges.

LaFollette, charged with three counts of insufficient funds, was released under a total of $2,500 bond.

Harold Jamie Colter is being held in Madison County jail and was not present at the arraignment. He was indicted for breaking and entering an inhabited dwelling in the day season and grand larceny.

Also coming before the court was Ronald Keith Lowery. Lowery changed his plea to guilty on a charge of breaking and entering an uninhabited dwelling in the night season. The prosecution dismissed a charge of grand larceny and a presentence report was ordered.

Canada Newsprint Strikes Hit U.S. Paper Supply

MONTREAL (AP) — Strikes in Canada's newsprint industry have meant the loss of about 250,000 tons of production so far this year, a spokesman for the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association said today.

He noted that this is a small percentage of Canada's total annual output of about 10 million tons. But he said it came at a time of heavy demand for big fall issues of newspapers and magazines.

He also pointed out that customers in the United States are suffering most because the struck companies export most of their newsprint to the United States.

New Pension Reform Bill Awaits Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise pension reform bill was ready for Senate action today.

Senate leaders said they were hopeful of obtaining a final vote, although numerous amendments remained to be disposed of.

The compromise merges the provisions of separate versions from the Labor and Finance committees.

Several senators interested in making individual changes in the bill said they were prepared to offer their amendments today.

There seemed to be little chance, however, that any of the basic protections of the bill would be weakened.

These would establish vesting standards for the 40 million Americans covered by private pension plans, mandate that the plans be adequately funded, establish a government insurance program to make pension payments where a company goes out of business or a plan has insufficient assets, set up a voluntary portability program to enable an employee to transfer pension rights from one company to another and tighten standards for fiduciaries and trustees of pension funds.

Anders Celsius, the Swedish inventor of what we know as centigrade measuring, divided the heat gradient between freezing and boiling water into a handier 100 degrees than the Fahrenheit scale and inadvertently created the conversion problem for Americans.

Dr. Heckert Is Elected DuPont Vice President

The DuPont Company's Board of Directors elected Dr. Richard E. Heckert a director, senior vice president and member of the Executive Committee, effective Oct. 1. David H. Dawson, who has 40 years of service with the company, will retire Sept. 30 as a senior vice president and Executive Committee member, but he will remain on the board.

Dr. Heckert, 49, vice president and general manager of the company's Fabrics and Finishes Department, joined Du Pont in 1949 as a research chemist. Mr. Dawson, 65, has become widely known as a spokesman for the chemical industry on foreign trade and energy matters and has been prominent in community affairs in Wilmington.

The new senior vice president began his Du Pont career in the Central Research Department, working in the field of cyanocarbon chemistry. He holds several patents on inventions in this field and is the author of papers on this subject published in scientific journals.

In 1954 Dr. Heckert moved to the Film Department as a supervisor at the Cellophane Research and Development Laboratory in Richmond, Va. He later was promoted to assistant manager of the laboratory and, in 1957, was appointed technical superintendent of the Spruance cellophane plant in Richmond.

Dr. Heckert became technical superintendent of the Clinton, Iowa, cellophane plant in 1958. In May, 1959, he was appointed assistant manager of the Circleville, Ohio, plant for the manufacture of "Mylar" polyester film and was advanced to plant manager in October of that same year. He returned to Wilmington in February of 1963 and was named to the newly created position of director of supporting research in the Research and Development Division, advancing to director of the division the following June. He was named assistant general manager of the Film Department in 1965, assistant general manager of the Plastics Department in 1967 and general manager of the Fabrics and Finishes Department in January, 1969. In January, 1972, he was named a vice president.

Dr. Heckert was born Jan. 13, 1924, in Oxford, Ohio, and was graduated from Miami University in Oxford in 1944 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. From 1944 to 1946 he served in the United States Army as a technician with a special engineering detachment at Oak Ridge, Tenn., atomic energy facility. He then attended the University of Illinois, receiving the degrees of Master of Arts in 1947 and Doctor of Philosophy in organic chemistry in 1949.

He married the former Barbara Kennedy of Oxford, Ohio, in 1945. They have a son, Alex Y., and a daughter Andra. Dr. and Mrs. Heckert live on Glen Hall Road, near Unionville, Pa.

A Page Of Opinion

Processed Spuds

There is no doubt the traditional American diet of meat and potatoes has taken a beating in recent history. Not only has the fuss over meat prices caused experimentation with cheaper substitutes, but the potato has been going through some evolutionary changes of its own.

Potatoes formerly were baked, boiled or fried. Now a large percentage of them are frozen or dehydrated into packages for the housewife to heat and serve.

Per capita consumption of potatoes in the United States has declined for years, but the inroads made by processed potatoes have been dramatic. The average American consumes 70 pounds of fresh potatoes a year and 45 pounds of processed spuds.

Convenience foods of course have replaced fresh foods on many shelves of the supermarket. The trend is continuing.

The Department of Agriculture predicts that by the year 2000, 80 per cent of the Idaho potato crop will be going into processed foods. The kitchen stove may be one appliance with a limited future.

Billions For Pretense

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Dr. Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve, thought highly of Herbert Hoover's integrity, but considered him naive when it came to economics. Hoover failed to realize that there was one thing that government could do by waving a wand, and that was to create money.

In the early Thirties there was an excuse for the creation of money through government spending. Effective demand had fallen to a whisper; the farmers, glutted with corn, couldn't afford machinery. Joblessness was everywhere. Human nature being what it is, addicted to short-run thinking, the government had to do something to break the devastating downspiral of prices. As a reflex in academe, the economics departments quickly bred a race of Keynesians, young instructors to whom government spending became a matter of faith.

That was long ago, and the justification for heavy government spending has long since evaporated. Today we need all the food that farmers can produce without subsidy. Effective demand has been multiplied with every new issue of credit cards. With women working, many families have two breadwinners, making joblessness a matter of concern to a statistically marginal group.

In spite of the big change, however, the U.S. Senate is still topheavy with a generation weaned on the milk of Keynesianism. The big spenders still dominate in the upper House, making it virtually impossible for Richard Nixon to pull the budget into balance and stop inflation in its tracks.

A so-called Libertarian Task Force, sponsored by a curious combination of Ripon, or liberal, Republicans and academic conservatives of the stripe of Professor Yale Brozen of the University of Chicago Business School, has just completed a "fiscal rating" of the U.S. Senate for the full 92nd and the first quarter of the 93rd Congress. The Task Force, led by a 21-year-old Harvard student, Lawrence J. Siskind, put in some 2,500 man-hours of research into estimating the intended cost of 2,133 separate bills. One of the members of Siskind's advisory board was A. Ernest Fitzgerald, who was fired from his Pentagon job for revealing the $2.5 billion cost overrun of the C-5A.

Each Senator has been rated by the Task Force on his spending proclivities. The two ends of the scale tell us much about the fiscal heroes and villains who are playing out the inflationary drama, mostly a tragedy, as the Keynesian Era moves toward the bankruptcy of a Brazilian-type crisis.

The two worst spenders, well-intentioned men who have lived on, like two ancient dinosaurs, into an age meant for a new kind of animal, are Senator John O. Pastore of Rhode Island and Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota. They rate 100 on the big spending scale: if they could have their way, some $280 billion would be the "acceptable level" of government appropriations they would individually sanction. Pastore voted for $170 billion in appropriations during the 92nd Congress; to this he would have added, in the 93rd, some $109 billion more. Humphrey, in the 92nd Congress, voted for $170 billion appropriations, and has advocated spending $109 billion more to date in the 93rd.

Right behind Pastore and Humphrey on the "blow it all in" scale are Michigan's Senator Philip Hart (93 rating), Edmund Muskie of Maine (92), Jennings Randolph of Washington State (90), John V. Tunney of California (89), Alan Cranston of California (88), and Frank Moss of Utah (87). Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts, Claiborne Pell of Rhode Island and Walter Mondale of Minnesota are all tied at 86. McGovern's score is 84, and Jacob Javits of New York stands at 83.

The goodness of Hubert Humphrey's heart, as expressed in a willingness to spend other people's money, is practically bottomless. Whether it is to establish a national amateur sports fund or to promote national wild areas study, or to expand the food stamp program, or to create a workers' conservation corps for the elderly, Hubert is right in there pitching. Everything Humphrey advocates might be called a good in itself, but, added together, what Mr. Big Heart from Minnesota desires for his fellow countrymen would soon spell a ruined dollar.

At the other end of the scale are the Good Guys, those who realize that appropriations requiring higher taxes or more inflation are self-defeating. Senator William Roth of Delaware, no Keynesian he, leads the whole Senate with his anti-spending rating of zero on the 0-100 scale. Seantor Bill Brock of Tennessee has a 13 rating, Norris Cotton of New Hampshire, Wallace Bennett of Utah, Harry Byrd of Virginia, James Buckley of New York, James Allen of Alabama, and Clifford Hansen of Wyoming are all in the 20-to-30 spending bracket. These are the leaders in realizing that by trying to bring goodies to everybody, you can bring worthlessness to the weekly pay check. Ask the Germans who remember the early Twenties; ask the Brazilians who lived through the post-World War Two years.

The Age of Keynes is dead. Why can't Seantors Humphrey, Pastore and the rest let it be decently interred?

Claim Cambodia Growing Stronger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cambodian government is stronger now than when American air raids stopped a month ago, State Department officials say.

As evidence, these officials, who decline to be identified, point to the successful defense of Cambodia's second largest city, Kompong Cham, against a determined insurgent attack.

In addition, the officials say, the Cambodian government "is proceeding to implement important reforms to control inflation, assure adequate rice distribution and provide sufficient manpower" for its armed forces.

So, "despite the dire predictions for disaster following the Aug. 15 bombing halt," the officials state, "the situation in Cambodia appears to have improved significantly during the past month."

Led by President Nixon and Henry A. Kissinger, the administration had charged that moves by Congress to force an end to U.S. bombing in Cambodia would seriously undermine the Lon Nol regime.

Administration officials, military experts, and intelligence analysts nearly all agreed that without the massive B52 raids, the fall of Cambodia was only a matter of time, and a very short time at that.

The turnaround in the attitude of the State Department officials is the result of unexpected determination by the Cambodian military combined with some fortunate weather and shortages by the insurgents.

Seasonal rains have slowed the Communist forces and so has a lack of ammunition.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, former Cambodian ruler and figurehead leader of the insurgents, has acknowledged that the shortage has forced a delay until the December dry season of any major attack on Phnom Penh, the capital.

But the primary reason for the Cambodian success is the military, according to the State Department officials.

"Cambodian military forces — on their own — have turned back a major enemy offensive," the officials maintained.

The National Recovery Act was the subject of a talk before the Rotary Club at the Hotel Boggs by Prof. Theodore Beckman of the College of Commerce of Ohio State University.

Prof. Beckman was an authority on the NRA and provided valuable information for Rotarians and other interested parties who attended the meeting. Walter Nelson was in charge of the program.

Thirty milk distributors and producers met at the farm bureau office, E. Main St., and elected a committee of three to draw up a milk code for Pickaway County. The committee was composed of Ward W. Robinson, distributor; Clarence Ater, Route 3, producer and Charles Walters, Circleville Twp., producer-distributor.

The Circleville Oils were the 1933 champions of the city recreation baseball league after defeating the Walisa Sluggers by a score of 15-1. As soon as the game ended Dorcy Court-right, manager of the Oils and the man responsible for the city having recreational ball this year, announced it was the last game of the season as the lease for the use of the field from the Pennsylvania Railroad had expired. Later in the evening, Court-right took down the scoreboard, removed the bases and made plans to take down the backstops and fence.

The annual Barbecue and Corn roast at the Pickaway Country Club was held. It was the main event of the year and two hundred persons turned out for the event.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My mother had glaucoma and lost more than 50 per cent of her vision, mostly because she neglected herself.

With my family history, how can I avoid having the same thing happen to me?

Miss B. B., Wash., D. C.

Dear Miss B.:

You have pinpointed the reason for your mother's loss of vision. Neglect of early signs of glaucoma is probably one of the major reasons for the loss of vision.

This is particularly distressing to physicians because it indicates the failure of some people to respond to the vast national educational program about glaucoma.

There are some misconceptions that may be responsible for the fears about this condition.

Glaucoma is not a cataract. Glaucoma is not a cancer. Glaucoma is not contagious. Glaucoma is not a sign of brain tumor.

Glaucoma is a condition in which there is an increased pressure of the fluid within the eyeball.

The types of glaucoma and the fine anatomical differences are highly technical and a discussion of this does not serve to lessen the anxiety of people like you.

There is no reason you should go through life expecting that inevitably you will, like your mother, develop glaucoma.

Such fears are destructive to your happiness. Instead, you and all other people should avail themselves of regular eye examinations that include the measurement of the fluid tension within the eyeball.

The tonometer is an instrument by which the tension can be painlessly and rapidly measured. This is then recorded on the doctor's chart and kept as a reference and guide in future examinations.

When recognized early, glaucoma can be kept from progressing. Excellent modern drugs and surgery in carefully selected cases can now preserve the sight in most cases.

Is there complete agreement about the use of female hormones during the change of life to prevent the softening of bones that is said to accompany it?

Mrs. J.R.A., R.I.

Dear Mrs. A.:

The softening of bone, or osteoporosis, is a common disorder that affects women during and after their change of life (menopause).

Calcium is absorbed from the bones and tends to make them more brittle. When first it was recognized that there was a relationship between osteoporosis and a deficiency of female hormone, or estrogen, replacement therapy began.

There was at first a great deal of opposition to the use of estrogen, but slowly this attitude is changing. Today estrogen, calcium, and other drugs are being used in association with minerals and vitamins to retard the onset or progression of osteoporosis.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — If your business is home mortgages or home building, or if your ambition is to be a homeowner, you've learned to hold onto your hat, so to speak.

Every few years housing activity rises to a crest and then hurtles downward like a runaway roller coaster. Businesses and hopes are wrecked by the impact.

It happened in 1960, in 1966 and in 1969, accompanied each time by declarations from legislators that, for social if not business reasons, the ups and downs of the housing market must be flattened out.

Now, after what one observer remarks is enough rhetoric to be measured in millions of board feet, housing is in the midst of another serious tumble. Mortgage rates are rising, money is less available, construction is falling.

In the view of most homebuilders and many mortgage lenders, the basic problem is as always — that the Federal Reserve Board is seeking to fight inflation by allowing interest rates to rise.

Higher interest rates supposedly have a multiple impact on inflation: One, they discourage borrowing; two, they encourage people to put their money into savings instead of spending it.

This would appear to be helpful to the housing market, because savings and loan associations are designed specifically to channel funds into mortgages, but it's a bit more complicated than that.

Because they are committed to mortgages, and because it is considered socially desirable to keep money flowing into housing, thrift institutions have traditionally been permitted to offer savers a higher rate than commercial banks.

But now that rate advantage has been reduced to just one-quarter of one per cent. Commercial banks now can offer 5 per cent on passbook savings, the thrift institutions 5.25 per cent, a very narrow advantage.

The more serious regulatory change, however, was in permitting lending institutions to offer a so-called wild card certificate, a savings device on which there is no rate limit on funds left on account for four years.

This permitted commercial banks

still another advantage. Since they are allowed to charge more on the money they lend to business, they understandably can offer more on wild card savings. Thrift institutions, being limited to making relatively low-cost mortgage loans, cannot compete.

In August alone about $1.2 billion poured out of savings and loan associations and another $300 million from mutual savings banks. And unless rate competition eases, hundreds of millions more will spill away.

Says Norman Strunk, executive vice president of the U.S. Savings and Loan League:

"The only way savings associations could boost savings rates substantially over a short period would be to require that new borrowers pay unconscionably high loan rates, which in itself would bring residential construction to a halt."

The flow isn't headed only to commercial banks. Many withdrawals are going into other areas where yields are higher. U.S. Treasury and federal agency securities, for example, offer up to 10 per cent.

Neither are thrift institutions the only ones being hurt. Insurance companies are finding customers borrowing the cash value of their policies, at rates limited by law to 5 and 6 per cent, and reinvesting the money elsewhere.

This practice also deprives the housing market, especially that for multifamily buildings because insurers simply have less money to lend.

"Apartment lenders are issuing no new mortgage commitments for 1973 or early 1974 payout," notes Advance Mortgage Corp. It adds that insurance companies are again seeking a piece of the action, a percentage of the builder's profits, in addition to interest on the loan.

The impact on housing is reflected in this estimate of future starts by the National Association of Homebuilders: fourth quarter 1973, 1.7 million; first quarter 1974, 1.6 million; second quarter, 1.5 million. By comparison, the number of starts for the past two years was between 2.25 million and 2.5 million.

Meanwhile, prices continue to rise, leaving no easy solution for the couple contemplating a purchase.

They'll Do It Every Time

Answers To Questions About Social Security

(Q) I have already made over $10,800 this year. Now that I've changed jobs, I'm still contributing to social security. Since I'll end up paying more than I should, can't I get some money back?

(A) Yes. You'll get a refund after you file your Federal income tax return for 1973. The tax return is designed to show any overpayment of social security taxes during the previous year.

(Q) I'm attending beauty school and get monthly social security student payments on my father's earnings record. I work part time as a babysitter, and a friend tells me these earnings count for social security. Is this true?

(A) Yes it is if the same person pays you $50 or more in cash wages in any calendar quarter (January-March, April-June, July-September, October-December). As little as $3.85 weekly from the same employer can amount to $50 by the end of the 13 weeks in a calendar quarter. The law requires your employer to report your wages if they amount to $50 or more per quarter and send the social security contributions to the Internal Revenue Service. Only cash wages count — not room and board or other kinds of payments.

(Q) I recently read about a new Federal payment program for the aged, blind, and disabled. I know the program doesn't start for a while yet, but I heard that social security offices are now taking applications. Can you tell me who should apply now?

(A) The new supplemental security income payments will begin next January. The only people who should apply now are people 65 and over, or blind, or disabled who are not now getting State or local assistance payments and who believe they may be eligible for the new Federal payments. For information, contact any social security office.

(Q) I'm 63 now and my ex-husband and I had been married 23 years before we were divorced. But I couldn't get any social security payments on his work record when he died 2 years ago because I hadn't been receiving any support payments from him. Has there been a change in this requirement?

(A) Yes. The support requirement was eliminated. As long as your marriage lasted 20 years and your husband had worked long enough under social security, you are eligible for benefits. You should contact any social security office to apply for benefits.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Answers And Advice

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "Empty Arms" moved me. (She was the mother who gave up her illegitimate child for adoption, and wondered if the ache would ever go away.)

My husband and I were childless until some incredibly kind and unselfish mother gave up her newborn baby, who an agency placed in our home. My husband and I are bursting with joy, and plan to raise this beautiful little girl in a home filled with love and happiness. When she starts to ask questions, I shall tell her about her wonderful, generous "other mother" who loved her so much she gave her up.

I only wish I could tell our "other mother" that I would have given anything in the world to have shared her burden during the pregnancy and the birth, and how eternally grateful I am for her enormous sacrifice.

Abby, please tell "Empty Arms" that, anonymous though she is, I love her with all my heart, and pray that her arms, like mine, will soon be overflowing.

OVERFLOWING

DEAR ABBY: I, too, had "Empty Arms" when I gave up my fatherless child 13 years ago. But every year the ache grows more bearable.

I was only 16 then. But I kept my self-respect, went back to school, and worked my way through college as a waitress.

I am now married to a prominent man in public life, and we have a wonderful family of our own. (Yes, he knew all about me, and it made no difference.) Every year on my first-born's birthday I suffer just a little, but I have no regrets because, in my heart, I know I made the right decision. Time heals. And so does love.

BEEN THERE

DEAR ABBY: That "Empty Arms" letter hit me right between the eyes. How I envy her courage and good sense.

When I was young and foolish, I thought I was in love and gave myself to a man who skipped town as soon as I told him I was pregnant.

In those days only the rich could afford abortions, so I had to bear a child I didn't want. I felt my baby would be better off if I gave him to a couple who really wanted a child, but my mother talked me out of it. She said God would punish me for giving up my own flesh and blood.

I had to work two jobs to make ends meet, so my mother, who was a widow, raised my son. He didn't turn out good. In fact, he's serving time right now for armed robbery, but it's not all his fault. He never had a father's love and guidance.

I want to congratulate "empty Arms" for doing what she did. I'm sorry I didn't give my son a better break in life.

TOO LATE

DEAR ABBY: Tell "Empty Arms" for me that she can get over the ache of having given up her child, but it will take a lot of self-discipline.

I could have written that letter myself 15 years ago, and I confess, I read it through teardimmed eyes. For the first few years, on "his" birthday I used to get smashed. Then with the help of my local Mental Health Clinic (which charged me only what I could afford to pay-and that wasn't much) I learned to forgive myself. I had a lot of growing up to do. But thank God, I made it, and "Empty Arms" can make it too, if she tries. God bless her!

ME, TOO

Recreation Tax Break Postponed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An impasse over discrimination caused the legislature to postpone until next year an attempt to give the owners of Ohio recreational lands a break on their property taxes.

Sen. William H. Mussey, R-14 Batavia prime sponsor of a constitutional amendment that was to appear on the November ballot, said deliberations will resume when the legislature reconvenes in January.

He had hoped to get the proposal before voters this fall along with a similar resolution that would empower the legislature to extend similar tax relief to Ohio farmers. The latter will appear on the ballot as Issue No. 1.

Mussey's resolution cleared the Senate, 27-5, last June and later received a vote of 77-12 in the House, but not until the lower chamber added an amendment that would place into the constitution a restriction with regards to discrimination.

However, the Senate rejected the House amendment and the proposal went to a joint conference committee which failed to reach an agreement before the legislature adjourned Aug. 28. Mussey said he will seek a compromise in the committee so that his proposal can be placed on next May's primary ballot.

The amendment would prohibit the legislature from providing any property tax relief for the owners of property who discriminate as to its use on the basis of race, creed, sex, religion, or national origin.

Mussey and other senators objected. They said that while they were sympathetic with the intent of the House amendment, they did not believe it was appropriate.

"We felt that this did not belong in the constitution, and could be taken care of in the implementation," Mussey said.

"I researched the constitution line for line, and could not find a single other place where such language was used with regard to taxation."

Mussey said it would create problems because "there are boys camps, girls camps, and other recreational facilities operated by religious groups. It just wouldn't be workable."

The Batavia Republican's proposal, like the one involving farm property, would allow the legislature to provide that recreational lands be taxed on the basis of their current use rather than their current value.

Suburban housing and industrial development have sent property tax assessments soaring in many areas, putting farmers and others relying on their land for agricultural income in a bind to meet their higher taxes. The constitution presently requires that property taxes be based solely upon current market value.

MR. AND MRS. DARWIN E. SMITH

Miss Constance G. Flowers Bride Of Darwin E. Smith

Calvary United Methodist Church in Circleville was the setting for the wedding of Miss Constance G. Flowers and Mr. Darwin E. Smith, 4 p.m. Aug. 25th, with the Rev. Roy Osborn performing the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis A. Flowers, 138 Walnut St. and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith, Tarlton.

The church was decorated with altar vases and standing vases of white gladioli and pink carnations, two seven-branch candelabra decorated with garlands of sprengeri and pink carnations. White satin bows marking the pews were centered with pink carnations and sprengeri. A program of music preceding the ceremony was played by organist, Miss Nanissa Anderson.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She selected for her wedding a floor length gown of organza and Venice lace fashioned with a fitted bodice, high neckline with ruffle collar and long fitted sleeves with ruffled cuffs. The A-line skirt fell from the empire waistline with lace motifs over both the bodice and skirt and lace edging the hemline.

The bride's silk illusion mantilla was edged in matching Venice lace and held with a pillbox bridal bonnet. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink sweetheart roses, purple statice and baby's breath with a shower of satin peot ribbon.

Maid of honor, Miss Barbara Souders wore a lavender floor length dress with white flocking. The gown was enhanced with ruffles around the V-shaped neckline. She wore a white picture hat trimmed with lavender lace, bow and streamers. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink sweetheart roses accented with ming fern and satin peot ribbon.

Bridesmaid, Miss Joy Spradlin, was dressed as the honor attendant and carried a matching bouquet.

Miss Becky Featherston of Columbus and Miss Melissa Bosch of Lancaster, cousins of the bride, were flower girls. They carried white straw baskets with petals of pink roses.

Ring bearer was Master Keith Featherston of Columbus. He carried a satin pillow with lace and ribbons holding the rings.

Best man was Mr. Rick Brown, cousin of the bridegroom. Ushers were Mr. Charles Arledge, Mr. Jerry Riffle and Mr. Rick Davis.

The bride's mother wore a floor length gown of aqua double knit with long sleeves and lace trim around the neckline and ruffled sleeves.

The bridegroom's mother wore a double knit floor length gown of red and blue with short sleeves and V-neckline. Both mothers wore corsages of pink carnations with roses as an accent.

A reception in the basement of the FOE lodge, E. Main St. followed the ceremony. Decorations were streamers of lavender, pink, green and white with two large white wedding bells. Pink tapers in crystal holders flanked the four tiered cake topped with bride and groom figurines and surrounded with greenery and pink

SERVE CHEESE FOR DESSERT

For dessert tonight or sometime soon, break that sweet, high calorie, low nutrition habit. Serve your family something delightfully different — a platter of cheese and fresh fruit. This may be as simple or as elaborate as you choose. We have many types of cheese on sale during our Wisconsin Cheese Festival, and our Top Fresh Produce Department is full of delicious fall fruit. If you haven't tried serving cheese for dessert, you might start with the following: Gouda — mild, nut like flavor, creamy yellow inside; Brick — mild to sharp flavor, creamy yellow interior; Colby — mellow flavor, firm, soft, open texture. Generally, three types of cheese is a sufficient number for a dessert tray. To complement the flavor of the cheese, serve clusters of delicious green grapes, wedges of crisp, tart Jonathan apples and slices of juicy pears. Crackers or salted nuts might be added for additional flavor variety. To complete your dessert, adults may desire a light dessert wine, while children will enjoy the tanginess of cider to accompany this tasty and nutritious ending to their meal.

Air Force Told To Rehire Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Service Commission ruled Tuesday that the Air Force acted improperly in firing A. Ernest Fitzgerald three years ago and ordered him reinstated with back pay.

Fitzgerald, a former Air Force management analyst, had contended he was fired in retaliation for disclosing cost overruns on the C5A aircraft project in testimony before Congress.

Herman D. Staiman, chief of the Civil Service Commission's field examining office, did not uphold Fitzgerald's reasoning. But he found that Fitzgerald's dismissal was for "other purely personal reasons" and therefore was contrary to regulations providing for reductions in force.

Fitzgerald was fired from his $28,900-a-year post as deputy for management systems on Jan. 5, 1970, and was told it was because of an overall reduction in force.

Lieutenant Governorship Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Many Democrats who would like to make up the party's 1974 state ticket would like to see former astronaut John Glenn Jr. change his mind about running for lieutenant governor.

It isn't likely, unless someone can change what seems to be a completely made-up mind. Glenn wants to make another bid for U. S. Senate and says at this point he is interested in nothing else.

Gov. John J. Gilligan is known to be looking over other prospects to share the ticket with him next year. He and the lieutenant governor candidate will run separately, but Gilligan is sure to have a lot to say about the No. 2 candidate so the party will have a team in spirit if not in law.

Leaders of the Democratic-controlled Ohio House would seem a likely place for the governor to turn.

Dental Hygiene Course Saved By Contributor

OGDENSBURG, N.Y. (AP) — The 3,200 public school students here are learning how to care for their teeth because of an unknown woman's penchant for dental hygiene.

The full-time dental hygiene course was among the first programs to get the ax from the Greater Ogdensburg City School District Board of Education when the district was feeling a financial crunch.

The decision disturbed one city woman who wants to remain anonymous. She called Supt. John Karan to defend the students' need for dental hygiene instruction.

Monday night, the school board agreed to accept the woman's gift of $34,260 to retain the three dental hygiene teachers and reinstate the program.

More Large Banks Boost Interest Rate

NEW YORK (AP) — Several more large banks have raised their prime interest rate to the record-high level of 10 per cent.

The increases from 9 3/4 were announced Monday despite a government request for supporting data from two other major banks that began the current round of prime rate hikes.

and at least one leader makes no secret he is ready to accept the nod.

Rep. Richard F. Celeste, D-5 Cleveland, the House majority whip, is reported deeply interested in making a bid for lieutenant governor, but would like to get the nod either overtly or covertly from Gilligan, close associates say.

Celeste carried the ball in several key legislative programs for the governor in the 1973 session, and had a hand in producing a House-Senate compromise in a successful code of ethics bill which Gilligan called his No. 1 legislative priority.

Celeste, a second-term representative, impressed some political observers with his vote-getting ability in the 5th District of crucial Cuyahoga County where he polled 60 per cent of the votes in 1972. He overcame a 52-48 per cent Republican district registration edge.

Senate Democratic Leader Anthony O. Calabrese, D-22, Cleveland, was the party's candidate for lieutenant governor in 1970. He ran well against long-time GOP incumbent, Lt. Gov. John W. Brown. Brown won by only 155,186 votes out of 2,954,488 cast.

However, Gilligan and Calabrese, a tough political fighter and strong party voice for many years, have basic difference in style as well as philosophy. Their legislative differences in recent months seem only to have broadened the gap.

Meanwhile, Celeste — and no doubt others — are awaiting some word on Gilligan's preference. Friends describe the 35-year-old Celeste as "a party man," and say he will go along with the governor's choice. He reportedly would make the race for secretary of state if the No. 2 spot isn't open to him.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals will be received by the Hay Run Watershed Committee at the Secretary's address (George Skinner, R.F.D. 1, Clarksville, Ohio, 43115) until 12:00 o'clock noon (E.D.S.T.) on the 26th day of September, 1973, and at 7:30 p.m. (E.D.S.T.) the same day said proposals will be publicly opened and read, for furnishing the material and performing the labor for executing the required specifications on file in the Pickaway County A.S.C. office, 1440 North Court Street, Circleville, Ohio.

Each bid must be accompanied by a 5 per cent Bid Bond and Contract Bond in the sum of 100 per cent of the amount of the bid upon awarding of the contract. This amount must be stated in dollars and cents.

No bidder may withdraw his bid within thirty (30) days after the actual date of the opening thereof.

The Hay Run Watershed Committee reserves the right to waive any informalities or to reject any or all bids.

Seek Public Vote Cash

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new drive for public financing of federal election campaigns was launched today at hearings before the Senate elections subcommittee.

"Watergate is only the latest demonstration of the long overdue need to cleanse elections of the corrupting curse of huge private campaign contributions," said Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., spokesman for a bipartisan group of senators seeking such legislation.

"The only way to clean up the political process ... is to provide substantial financial support for elections from public funds," he said.

Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, in prepared testimony for the subcommittee, called public financing "our last best hope to restore full confidence in public officials and government."

The subcommittee's four days of hearings are expected to boost support for public financing of presidential and congressional campaigns, although the passage of such a bill this year is regarded as unlikely.

Watergate Panel To Hear Hunt On Resumption

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate committee announced Tuesday it will resume public hearings on Monday with the testimony of Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt, then question three other witnesses as part of the political sabotage phase of its probe.

Chairman Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., said the panel will hear from Hunt, then White House secret agent John J. Caulfield, presidential speech writer Patrick J. Pat Buchanan, and a man identified as John Ragan.

Ervin also said the panel will meet in executive session Wednesday with former special presidential counsel Charles W. Colson to determine whether Colson be called as a witness.

Colson was tentatively stricken from the witness list last week after his lawyer reportedly told the committee that Colson expected to be indicted in connection with the Ellsberg burglary. It also has been reported that Colson has indicated he would take the Fifth Amendment and refuse to testify if he were not given immunity.

Cincy Agency Faces License Revocation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Commerce officials say they have moved to revoke the license of a private Cincinnati employment agency.

The department said the Employers Service Bureau has been charged with five violations of Ohio licensing law. The firm has 30 days to ask for a hearing on the proposed license revocation.

"But dad, all you said was that Cutlass Salon had reclining seats. You didn't say it came in a new coupe, too."

Last year Cutlass Salon was a new kind of American car—a sedan built for its roadability.

This year there's a Salon two-door

coupe. Like the sedan, it has a new, lower steering ratio for quicker response. Steel-belted radial tires to grip the road. Special suspension for tight cornering.

Contoured seats that recline. And you can even order a Landau roof.

Cutlass Salon. Built in the Grand Touring Tradition.

"Look Walter! Now we can get an air conditioner that filters smells."

Not only does Tempmatic regulate temperature inside your car to a preset level, it also charcoal filters the air. The filter acts to reduce many offensive odors from the air entering the car. It's available on all full-size Oldsmobiles.

The '74 Delta 88 coupe has a brand new roofline. Hydraulic bumper systems, front and rear. And underneath—a suspension system that's as tough as ever.

Olds Delta 88. It's really put together. More than just another pretty car.

"Hey! I didn't know we could get these new little windows in the Toronado."

Order a Toronado with an opera roof and you get opera windows and a padded canopy of oxen-grain vinyl. You can also order a new interior with rich velour upholstery, a high-energy ignition system, and True-Track braking.

The 1974 Toronado has a new instrument panel with a message center that lights up to warn you when certain things such as your gas, oil pressure, seat belts, etc., require your attention; there's even an exceptionally accurate digital clock, with quartz-crystal controlled movement.

Engineers Nix

Canal Proposal

BUFFALO (AP) — The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has announced that an All-American Canal connecting Lakes Erie and Ontario is not economically justified.

In the report released Monday, the Buffalo district office of the Corps said that some major waterway improvement was needed in the Great Lakes area either in the form of a new waterway or major structural improvements to the Welland Canal in Ontario, Canada.

"A decision must be made by 1980, assuming maximum funding support, to prevent constraint of waterborne traffic by 1990," the report said.

U.S. Review

Of Kent Incident Seen

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The Plain Dealer said today the U.S. Department of Justice will review for the first time secret testimony given the special Ohio grand jury which investigated the May 4, 1970 incident at Kent State University.

A Justice Department source was quoted as saying there is an apparent difference between testimony of some witnesses and the final report written by the state grand jury.

The Plain Dealer quoted Ohio Atty. Gen. William Brown that if his department is asked to make grand jury testimony available to the justice department that request will be reviewed to see "whether they have authority to see the testimony."

That testimony includes statements from a score or more Ohio national guardsmen who were involved in the May 4 incident in which four Kent State students were shot to death and nine others wounded.

The state grand jury report, which later was quashed by a federal court order, blamed students and faculty members for antiwar protests which resulted in the bloody confrontation between demonstrators and guardsmen.

The grand jury exonerated the guardsmen of responsibility for the slayings.

Marathon Boosts

Station Owners

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—Gas costs Marathon Oil Co. filling station owners in the Midwest one penny a gallon more today.

A Marathon spokesman said Tuesday the price hike would go into effect at midnight. Affected are about 3,800 retail outlets in Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky.

The increase covered all grades of gasoline, but did not effect Marathon heating oil, the spokesman said.

"Under Phase 4, The Cost of Living Council has allowed us to pass along increased costs of domestic and foreign crude oil," he explained.

Dealers aren't so lucky. Economic controls prohibit them from passing the increased cost along to motorists at the gas pumps.

Police Investigate

Canton Bar Explosion

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Police say they have recovered parts of an explosive device and several gas-filled plastic bags from a Canton bar where an explosion Monday caused $2,000 to $3,000 damage.

The blast occurred early in the morning at the Three Deuces Bar. Canton detectives said no one was injured.

But some strident notes have brought a discord to the wedding march —mainly created by well-meaning admirers of the princess.

The house the young couple will call home, the cruise they'll call their honeymoon and one of their biggest wedding gifts have all come in for heavy criticism.

It's a far cry from the public goodwill that presaged the Nov. 20, 1947, wedding of Anne's mother, then Princess Elizabeth, to navy Lt. Philip Mountbatten, now Prince Philip.

Britain had then just emerged from an exhausting World War and the royal festivities were a glittering excuse to forget for a while the rigors of austerity. Food was rationed but fancy was free as the young couple approached their big day.

Now, in a richer, brighter Britain the biggest newspaper stories so far have centered on attacks against some marriage sidelines.

Capt. Phillips, 25, will work as an instructor at Sandhurst Military Academy and the royal couple will live in a five-bedroom Georgian mansion nestled between trees there. They will pay the defense ministry 8 pounds—$19.20—a week for the house.

Hay Run Watershed Project Progresses

Eleven landowners interested in the present drainage problems of the Hay Run Ditch project, located in western Pickaway County, met Sept. 5, at the Atlanta United Methodist Church.

Don Archer, manager of the Pickaway County ASCS office, presented the plans which had first been developed in 1965. During the evening's discussion, variations to the original plans were presented and discussed. Harry Wolfe, a New Holland contractor, was present to help answer questions. Other contractors have also been invited to present bids on the proposed project.

Mrs. M. A. Greenwood of Williamsport was elected chairman of the group. George Skinner of Clarksburg and J. C. Roberts of New Holland were elected secretary and treasurer respectively.

John Skinner and Harry Morris of Williamsport were appointed to contact Henry McCrady, County Engineer, with regard to necessary bridge dredging. The entire purpose of the proposed project is to improve crop

'Divorce Sale' Success In More Ways Than One

CHESTERLAND, Ohio (AP)—When Mr. and Mrs. George Najar decided to untie the knot, it was a good time to clear out the garageful of junk they'd collected in eight years of marriage.

They erected a sign announcing, "Divorce Sale," and put ads in the local newspapers.

After two weeks of sales, the garage is starting to clear up. And that's not all.

"We've found we can work together on something and communicate with each other," Mrs. Najar said. So they've decided to postpone the divorce.

Is It A Bird? Is It A Plane?

WASHINGTON (AP) — From out of the past, shouldering through city traffic jams, comes the latest heavyweight hope for getting America moving again.

It's "Superbus," so-called officially as the hero of a new government transportation project. But veterans of the commuter crush know it better as the double-decker.

Now it's tentatively toeing the comeback trail after retirement forced in the mid-1950s by those who said it was too costly to run, the National Geographic Society reports.

The idea is that these "high capacity" buses may help ease rush hour overcrowding by providing a seat for every passenger. And some point out that double-deckers are two buses in the space of one.

Train Derailed In Union Station

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An estimated 18 to 20 cars of an eastbound Penn Central freight train ran off the rails Tuesday at Union Station, fire officials reported.

A battalion chief said firefighters laid hose and stood by with foam in case a tank car filled with a flammable gasoline additive ignited.

Fire officials said a viaduct over the tracks collapsed on the derailed cars. Power lines and water mains were reported broken.

No injuries were reported.

land drainage which would result in more efficient use of the farm lands in the area.

Fourteen interested landowners were present for the second meeting Sept. 12. Don Archer and Tom Mountain were also present from the Federal ASCS office. George Skinner, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved as read. Bid prices from contractors were discussed, and it was decided to advertise for bids which will be opened at the next meeting Sept. 26, at 7:30 at the Atlanta Church.

Costs to each individual landowner were discussed. George McGhee of Williamsport proposed that a published list of each person's percentage and costs in the project be made open to all interested parties. John Skinner seconded the motion, which carried unanimously.

Don Archer was asked to present the entire revised project. John Skinner and Harry Morris reported on their meeting with Henry McCrady, the county engineer, with favorable results.

J. C. Roberts, Harry Morris, John Skinner, George Skinner, George McGhee, John Day, James Hamman and Don Archer met at 8:30 the next morning with Joe Rooney of Circleville, a state highway representative, to discuss problems with state highway bridges located in the project.

George McGhee proposed that the group share equally the cost of tile openings on each open-ditch property owner, and the motion was carried unanimously. It was agreed that there should be 24-foot outlets used from each tile opening into the ditch.

All concerned landowners are urged to attend the Sept. 26 meeting at the Atlanta United Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m.

Stolen Cross Is Returned

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A 60-year-old bronze cross that was stolen from the high altar of Trinity Episcopal Cathedral near downtown Cleveland has been returned.

Dean Perry Williams of the cathedral said Tuesday a church maintenance man received a telephone call from bar manager James Fabrick saying the cross had been left at his tavern a few blocks away.

Fabrick said a man in the bar Monday afternoon took the 40-pound cross from under the topcoat he was wearing, deposited it in an alcove and walked away.

Williams had promised there would be no prosecution if the cross were returned before the 66th anniversary of the consecration of the cathedral Sunday. The cross disappeared late Saturday when the cathedral was open to the public.

Alleged Art Lover Being Held By Police

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Bruce Howard Riley, 19, who claims he is an art lover, was charged with burglary and assault with a deadly weapon after, police said, he forced a guard to give him a 4 a.m. tour of the Cincinnati Art Museum Tuesday.

Police said Riley forced the guard to give him the tour by brandishing a machete.

McKinley Smith, 55, the guard, was hospitalized later with a possible heart attack, police said.

County Gridders In League Action Friday

By BILL McGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

It will be league grid action for all three county high schools Friday night with Westfall hosting Adena in a Scioto Valley tilt, Teays Valley at Olentangy in a Metropolitan League clash and Logan Elm at Canal Winchester in a Mid-State fray.

It will be the first league action for Westfall and Teays Valley while Logan Elm will be looking for its first Mid-State win after suffering a 22-0 setback Friday at the hands of Millersport.

Westfall will be going into the Adena game after a 16-14 win over Madison Plains last week. The Mustangs are now 1-1 for the season.

"The win over Madison Plains was a big one for us as it was a rivalry game and a shot in the arm to our kids," Westfall Coach John Glanton commented.

Adena, a perennial powerhouse in the SVC, will field another strong unit against the Mustangs. Primarily a running team, Adena will operate from the Wishbone T with Bob Garrison, 195-pound fullback, carrying the brunt of the attack. They also have good outside speed in halfback Richie Beverly.

The line is anchored by Phil Houser, 6-foot, 250-pound tackle, who also doubles as middle guard in the 5-2 defense.

The Mustangs will move from various offensive formations with quarterback Dave Shannon directing the attack. The 6-1 and 5-2 defense of Westfall is anchored by linebacker Artie Dick.

Randy Hildenbrand, Mustang end, suffered a rib injury in the Madison Plains game as it is doubtful if he will see any action Friday night.

The offensive unit of the Mustangs will be: Bill Kiser, center; Tim Lett and Tim Hegarty, guards; Walter Garland and Jim Dawson, tackles;

Randy Puckett at one end and Eric Schleich and Joe Angles sharing duties at the other; Shannon, quarterback; Dick, fullback; Rick Gaa and Terry Hegarty, halfbacks.

On defense it will be: Tim Hegarty, middle guard; John Long and Dick, linebackers; Dawson and Kiser, tackles; Puckett at one end and Schleich and Angles both seeing duty at the other; Gaa and Shannon, cornerbacks; Dave Bullock and Gary Thompson, halfbacks.

Teays Valley will be going into the Olentangy fray off a big win over the Circleville Tigers last week. The Vikings are now 1-1 for the year.

Olentangy operates from the triple option out of the Houston series with a balanced running and passing attack. The Braves have a fine quarterback in Mike Rannebarger who can run and throw. They have good size with better than average speed. A pair of 230-pound tackles make the Braves' line quite formidable.

Mike Pettibone, Viking fullback, suffered an arm injury in the Circleville game and is questionable for Friday night. If he is unable to play, the fullback duties will be shared by Bill Breen and Don Burgoon. Outside of some bumps and bruises, the rest of the Viking squad is healthy.

Teays Valley will move from a power I with split end, featuring off tackle slants, sweeps, the always dangerous Viking trap and the passing of Chuck Glitt.

Offensively the Vikings will start: Lance Henson and Boyd Palsgrove at the ends; Lee Stiles and Dennis Stir, tackles; Bill Hurley and Keith Pettibone, guards; Karl Snyder at center; Glitt, quarterback; Breen or Burgoon, fullback; Steve Williams, halfback;

Terry Lambert, tailback.

The defensive unit will be: Henson and Keith Pettibone, ends; Brad Black and Steve Gray, tackles; Hurley, middle guard; Breen and Mike Reed, linebackers; Tony Sayre and Bob Weber, invert backs; Lambert and Glitt, safeties.

Canal Winchester is undefeated, owning wins over Bexley and Lancaster Fisher.

LE coach Bob Stant had a chance to personally scout the Indians against Fisher last Saturday.

"They run from a full house T or wing T, have good size and are quick," he reports. Primarily a power team, they pass only when necessary he said.

"To beat them we must stop the run and this has been the weakest point in our defense," Coach Stant said.

"We are making some adjustments in our personnel on defense. Right now the only starters we are sure of are Steve Rawlins and Brian Barr at ends, Terry Crumley, Brad Luckhart and Steve Sargent in the secondary," the coach announced. The shakeup will come in the interior line and the linebacking corps.

On offense Brad Luckhart will start at split end, Jeff Reichelderfer at tight end, Seth Driesbach and Marty Fullen at tackles, Stewart Jones and Brian Herron at guards, Chris Payne at center. Steve Sargent will be calling the signals again, Dan Ramey will start at fullback, Wayne Linticum at I back and Steve Rawlins or Crumley at halfback.

Barr was named defensive player of the week against Millersport and Dan Ramey the offensive player of the week by the Logan Elm coaching staff.

Aaron's Biggest Handicap Is Mystique of Babe Ruth

NEW YORK (AP) — Babe Ruth didn't need as much time as Henry Aaron to hit his 714 home runs, baseball traditionalists will argue.

That's true, the younger fans will admit—but Ruth didn't have to put up with some of the travail that Aaron has had to face in his career, like coast-to-coast travel and night games.

Perhaps the biggest handicap Aaron has had to overcome is the memory and mystique of Ruth. What it comes down to is that it's easy to set a record when nobody's done it before. But to break one, especially one set by a legend, is a different matter entirely.

Roger Maris discovered that 12 years ago en route to breaking the Babe's one-season record of 60 homers. Aaron, with 711 home runs, is discovering the same thing now. Threaten a legend and your whole world is shaken.

Consider, for a moment, the "records" Ruth was pursuing when he began busting fences. When his major league career was beginning as a pitcher with the Boston Red Sox, the modern-era (post-1900) record for homers in a season was 24, set in 1915 by Gavvy Cravath of the Philadelphia Phillies. Cravath, whose 13-year career with the Red Sox, Chicago White Sox, Washington Senators and Phils ended in 1920, also owned the modern-era lifetime homer record with 119.

For purists, the pre-Ruth alltime career homer record was Roger Connor's 131 in an 18-year career that ended in 1897 and the single-season mark was Ned Williamson's 27 with the 1884 Chicago Cubs.

What it all means is that, back then, nobody made a big deal about records. There was no pressure on Ruth when he hit 29 homers with the Red Sox in 1919 and none when he hit his 132nd with the New York Yankees two years later, when he finished the season with 59, the record he himself broke six years after that in 1927.

Aaron, completing his 20th season in the majors, has remained silent when the comparisons with Ruth are flung at him. And, remarkably, he has shown no visible signs of reacting to the intense pressure, the flood of hate mail he has received and the downgrading by those who view him as a threat to the sanctity of the legend.

Ruth played for 22 years before retiring in 1935—but (and this is what a lot of his supporters will loudly proclaim) he batted only 8,399 times in that span. And in 11 of those years, he was a part-time pitcher, which conceivably cut down a bit on his at-bats.

Through Tuesday night, Aaron had batted 11,264 times. That's 2,865 times more than Ruth, the Bambino's supporters shrug. And, they add pointedly, the Babe had a career batting average of .342 while Aaron's is .311.

Oakland's Hunter Wins 20th

By BERT ROSENTHAL

Associated Press Sports Writer

Chief Bender... and Lefty Grove... great names out of baseball's hallowed past.

Their legends now are being revived...because of Jim Hunter's steadily brilliant pitching. The Oakland A's ace righthander, American League leader in winning percentage last year with a .750 mark on a 21-7 record, is bidding strongly to lead the league again. His current 20-4 record, an .833 percentage, is the best in the AL.

No AL pitcher has finished with the best winning percentage two years in a row since Grove did it three consecutive years, from 1929-31. The only other American League hurler to accomplish the feat was Bender, in 1910-11.

Ironically, both Grove and Bender pitched for the A's...when the team was in Philadelphia.

Hunter reached the 20-victory mark for the third straight season Tuesday night as the A's edged the California Angels 5-4 and maintained their 7 1/2-game lead over Kansas City in the AL West race.

In other AL games Tuesday night, Baltimore downed Detroit 6-2, Kansas City defeated Minnesota 4-3, Boston topped New York 4-2, Cleveland overcame Milwaukee 6-5, and Texas beat Chicago 7-2.

Orioles 6, Tigers 2

The Orioles moved closer toward clinching their fourth East title in the past five years—they finished third last year—beating the Tigers 6-2, and reducing their "magic number" to five over runner-up Boston.

Royals 4, Twins 3

Kurt Bevacqua drove in two runs with a triple and a sacrifice fly, and scored another, pacing Kansas City's 4-3 decision over Minnesota. Amos Otis smashed his 26th homer of the season for the Royals, giving him 278 total bases for the year, a club record.

Red Sox 4, Yankees 2

Bill Lee hurled a seven-hitter against the Yankees for his 17th triumph, and became Boston's biggest left-handed winner since Mel Parnell won 21 games in 1953. Homers by Reggie Smith, his 19th, and Cecil Cooper, his second, backed Lee's pitching in the Red Sox 4-2 victory.

Indians 6, Brewers 5

Piñch hitter Johnny Ellis, the first batter to face reliever Chris Short in the bottom of the ninth, slammed a two-run homer, lifting Cleveland to a 6-5 victory over Milwaukee and thwarting Jim Colborn's bid to become the first 20-game winner in the Brewers' brief history.

Rangers 7, White Sox 2

Jim Spencer's two-run homer and Jeff Burroughs' 27th homer of the season supported rookie Jim Bibby's five-hit pitching and helped Texas beat Chicago 7-2.

Aces Lose Rod Brobst For Season

Amanda-Clearcreek's football hopes suffered a setback when Rod Brobst, senior defensive end and offensive tackle, underwent knee surgery Monday in Doctor's West Hospital, Columbus, and will be lost for the season.

He was injured in the game against Fairfield Union Friday night. Doug Starner, a very promising sophomore, broke a finger in the game and will be out of action for approximately four weeks.

"Rod's loss is a severe blow to us as he was one of the building blocks of the 1973 team," Amanda-Clearcreek Coach Jim Flanagan stated. "It will not seem the same without him in an 'Aces' uniform and we hope that he knits properly."

"Although we are hurt physically and face Mid-State champion Berne Union Friday night, we are undaunted and I wouldn't trade this group of young men for a $1,000,000," Flanagan commented.

Kuntz Loft Wins Pigeon Race

The Circleville Pigeon Club held its second 150-mile race from Lexington, Ky., with the Homer Kuntz Loft taking first place with a speed of 1098.257 yards per minute.

Kuntz also captured fourth place with 1081.528 YPMs and won special and loft derbies. Stan Crosby Loft took second and third with speeds of 1084.553 and 1082.876 YPMs and won the bird derby.

Three Columbus area colleges and universities received $2,480 in unrestricted gifts under Connecticut General Insurance Corporation's program of aid to higher education this year. The amount represents a combination of employee gifts and the corporation's matching contribution.

They are Denison University,

Senate Panel OKs Kissinger Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee Tuesday approved the nomination of Henry A. Kissinger to be secretary of state.

The committee voted 16 to 1 to recommend Senate confirmation of President Nixon's choice to succeed William P. Rogers.

Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., said he voted against Kissinger as a symbolic protest against prolongation of the Vietnam war.

Kissinger, German-born former Harvard professor, is to retain his position as assistant to President Nixon for national security affairs.

Confirmation by the full Senate could come within the week.

The nomination was cleared for a committee vote with a report Monday by a two-member subcommittee that Kissinger's role in national security wiretapping "was not such as to bar him from confirmation by the Senate."

The report was filed by Sens. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J. and John Sparkman, D-Ala., who received an FBI summary of electronic surveillance of 13 government officials and four newsmen between May 1969 and February 1971.

Kissinger told the committee publicly that the telephone taps were recommended by the FBI and the attorney general to determine the source of leaks of national security information, and that he was required to identify individuals who had access to information of the type leaked.

The committee made public a two-paragraph conclusion of the Case-Sparkman report.

The two senators said the fact that the administration made the FBI summary available to them, after first resisting, "is a good omen for the development and continuation of the mutual trust which must exist between the Department of State and the executive branch in general and the Congress if the foreign policy of the nation is to have maximum support of the American people."

Meantime, Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., announced he would vote against confirmation as "symbolic testimony against Kissinger's role in the needless prolongation of the Indochina war, as well as the 1971 tragedy of Bangladesh."

Jogging Dangerous For Clermont Judge

MOUNT CARMEL, Ohio (AP) — Clermont County Judge Chris Rosehoffer won't be jogging for awhile when he gets out of the hospital.

One of his three German shepherd dogs got too exuberant Tuesday and jumped on the judge as he trotted.

The judge suffered a broken hip.

Dedicate World's Biggest Airport

GRAPEVINE, Tex. (AP) — Texas, a big state that likes to do things in a big way, dedicates the world's largest airport Thursday.

The Dallas-Fort Worth Airport is a $700 million venture sprawling over 17,500 acres of North Texas prairie midway between the two cities.

The airport is larger in area than Manhattan Island.

It initially will have 18,500 employees and 81,500 passengers daily — an airport population of 100,000 every day.

When it officially opens for business late next month, it will have 66 gate positions, ultimately 434 for passengers and cargo.

The airport will be completed in three phases. Runways will be 11,400 feet long at first. But plans call for two later runways of 20,000 feet. Planners presume that will take care of anything aircraft designers may come up with in the future.

The airport's 25,000-ton air conditioning system also is the world's biggest, enough to cool three Empire State buildings.

The "world's largest" claim, however, will be lost next year when Montreal completes its Mirabel Airport on 18,000 acres.

The Dallas-Fort Worth Airport dramatizes a new age of cooperation between the two cities, historic rivals.

"There's nothing like being cosigner on a $412 million bond issue to make you friends," says Fort Worth Mayor R. M. Stovall. "It will bring us together economically, environmentally and socially."

The airport was financed through an unusual political and economic alliance that bridged decades of bitter rivalry between the cities.

The land was purchased by the cities, but the construction is being financed through sale of joint revenue bonds.

Airport users will help foot the bill. It will cost 25 cents just to enter the airport property to drop off a friend. A telephone call also will cost a quarter. And there will be a 450-room hotel, restaurants, clubs, shops and other money-eaters to tantalize visitors and air passengers.

A cab ride from either city will cost more than $15. A bus ride is $2.50.

Simply put, the airport is four circular terminals, bisected by a 10-lane highway and bounded by parking space for 20,000 cars.

Being biggest is not what's best about the new airport, according to Tom Sullivan, the man behind the design. His goal was a return to the simplicity of the days when a passenger bought tickets at a single counter, then walked across the sod to his waiting plane.

Sullivan, who designed LaGuardia and Kennedy airports in New York, sees the venture as "taking a giant step forward into the simplicity of the past."

State To Stock Steelhead Trout

By JIM DAUBEL

Written for Associated Press

In the wake of Michigan's success, the State of Ohio is quietly gearing up for a serious effort to populate Lake Erie with steelhead trout.

The Ohio Division of Wildlife is rearing 90,000 rainbow trout of the steelhead strain at its hatchery on Erie's South Bass Island.

They will be released next spring as year-old fingerlings in Lake Erie tributary streams as yet unselected, said Russ Scholl, state fisheries biologist.

The steelhead is a breed of rainbow trout that lives part of its life in rivers, part in open water.

The anadromous species hatch from eggs in coastal freshwater streams then migrate to the sea, later returning to spawn and thereafter repeating the cycle annually for five or six seasons.

Inland steelhead follow essentially the same pattern except the fish live most of the time in large freshwater lakes such as Michigan, Huron and, on a much smaller scale, Erie.

Because they mature in big waters where food is abundant, steelhead grow many times the size of rainbow trout confined to rivers and streams.

In Michigan, where different strains run the rivers to spawn virtually all year but primarily in spring and fall, 10-pound steelhead are not unusual. It takes a fish in excess of 15 pounds to qualify as a trophy.

Considering various biological factors, the steelheads' chances in Lake Erie seem questionable, although Scholl is optimistic.

Scholl said lake-run rainbows "have 10 times more potential than coho," which Ohio has stocked by the thousands since 1968.

Steelheads he noted, are not doomed to a three-year life cycle. Cohos, stocked by Ohio in numbers up to 275,000 a year, live 18 months in the hatchery and another 18 months in Lake Erie before returning to the streams of their release where they spawn and die.

Because Ohio rivers do not support natural reproduction, salmon must be stripped of eggs and sperm and fertilized artificially to perpetuate the species.

The outcome of a major steelhead stocking effort is anybody's guess. It will be several years before the answer becomes clear.

The most capacious cycle in the world was built in 1968 in Switzerland. It seated 28 riders.

1974 Chevrolet

A better-than-ever way.

When the wheel belongs to you, the road goes anywhere you say. And it's so much better with a '74 Chevrolet.

Caprice Classic. Introducing an elegant motor car, just asking to be enjoyed. Outside: an imposing new grille and, on the Coupe, a distinctive new roof line. Inside: peace, quiet and convenience. With standard power steering to do most of the turning, standard power front disc brakes to do most of the stopping, and a standard Turbo Hydra-matic transmission to do the shifting. If you want the luxury and comfort of a car that leaves little else for you to do but enjoy the ride, you don't have to look beyond the '74 Caprice Classic. However, the freedom of the open road begins with the freedom of choice:

Monte Carlo. You'd think its looks were everything, until you drive it. It has steel-belted radial tires and a refined radial-tuned suspension. Power steering and power front disc brakes. We think you'll appreciate how well it handles, how smoothly it rides. For it's as elegant mechanically as it is in appearance.

Vega GT. This year's version of last year's Motor Trend Economy Car of the Year. (And Car and Driver Readers' Choice as Best Economy Sedan for the last three years.) With a reshaped nose, bigger bumpers, nicer carpeting, new stripes and new colors. Plus more good things to make it better. See what it's like to drive a winner.

Camaro. The way it looks is the way it goes. Quick, sleek and nimble. With a low, wide stance, responsive steering. And comfort that's rare in a car that handles so well. Plus classic new styling, and plushness from the cut-pile carpeting up.

Malibu Classic. A luxury Chevelle, new this year. With full foam seats. A fold-down front armrest. Wood-grained vinyl accents. Elegant inner door panels. Extremely tasteful upholstery and cut-pile nylon carpeting. That's just inside. The exterior is just as classic, in character and in detail, as the interior. Yet, it remains mid-size. And, it remains all Chevelle. With Chevelle handling and at a Chevelle price. Now that you've looked, come and see the new Malibu Classic—and all the 1974 Chevrolets. The ones shown here, plus Impala, Nova, Corvette, pickups, vans and all our new cars and trucks.

Four Circleville Students Named Merit Semifinalists

Paul Sarchet, Principal of Circleville High School announced today that four students have been named Semifinalists in the 1974 National Merit Scholarship Program.

These students are Byron Dean Gulick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron D. Gulick, 355 Sunset Drive, Jack Galen Lauderdale, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Lauderdale, Route 2, Tamara Ann Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller, 570 Wilmar Road and Elizabeth Ann Shollenberger, daughter of Mrs. Nancy Shollenberger, 131 Dunmore Road.

Circleville's four semifinalists will compete for nearly 3,100 merit scholarships to be awarded in the spring. This year marks the eighteenth annual program. To date 34,450 students have won Merit scholarships totaling more than $95.5 million.

The semifinalists were the highest scorers in each state on the Scholastic Aptitude Test—National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test administered last October to over one million students nationwide.

In addition to the money provided by the program, the semifinalists will find their achievement useful in seeking financial aid from other sources.

To become finalists, the semifinalists must receive endorsement of their schools, confirm their scores on a second examination, and provide evidence of their academic and other accomplishments.

Each of the finalists will be considered for one of the 1,000 National Merit $1,000 scholarships. These scholarships will be allocated on a state basis according to the state's percentage of the total U.S. high school graduating class.

Recipients of scholarships will be judged by a committee of experienced college admission officers and secondary school guidance counselors.

Many of the finalists will be considered for renewable four-year Merit Scholarships. Winners of the four-year scholarships may receive as much as $6,000 over the four college years.

Circleville's semifinalists have tentatively chosen fields of study when they enter college next fall. Byron plans to major in Biology with a career as a biological scientist. Jack intends to enter pre-medical school.

The girls have chosen equally challenging fields. Elizabeth is planning a career in law. Tamara has chosen the field of guidance counseling and plans to major in psychology in college.

Edward C. Smith, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation says, and all the Circleville staff agrees, "...they bring honor not only to themselves, but also to their families, their teachers, and their communities."

Say Metezembaum Choice of Demos

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's big county Democratic chairman have agreed to endorse Howard M. Metzenbaum of Cleveland for the party's nomination to the U.S. Senate in 1974, the Dayton Journal Herald says.

Such an endorsement, the newspaper said, "almost certainly will dash former astronaut John H. Glenn's 1974 Senate ambitions and could finish Glenn as a serious contender for future Democratic office."

The Journal Herald said the decision to endorse Metzenbaum came at an Aug. 28 meeting of chairmen from 11 of the 12 most populous counties at the governor's mansion in Columbus.

Richard Burgman, psychologist from the Scioto Paint Valley Guidance Center, will present a film entitled: "Some Personal Learnings About Interpersonal Relationships" — 10:30 Thursday morning at the Red Cross Office, 167 Watt St.

In the filmed lecture, Dr. Carl R. Rogers, founder of Clientcentered Therapy, shares his studies about interpersonal relationships and discusses the "mysterious business of relating with other human beings." He explains the rewards of coming in touch with another person through genuine communication. He reveals the difference between real communication and that which is superficial and not meaningful.

Interested agencies and individuals are invited to attend. There will be a discussion period afterwards.

Teacher Education Fight Arises

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Another round in the free-for-all over how Ohio will educate its future teachers is shaping up for next January when the 110th General Assembly reconvenes.

The battleground likely will be Substitute House Bill 198, which would create a teacher education planning commission.

The warriors will be diverse. Three groups stand out:

—Supt. Martin Essex and the state Department of Education and the state Board of Education.

—Ohio Education Association, the teachers' organization.

—Commission on Public School Personnel Policies in Ohio, a privately funded group based in Cleveland.

A major controversy concerns how to give student teachers more actual classroom experience and how much is necessary.

January is more than three months away, but the skirmishing continues. Stephen Stranahan of Toledo, chairman of the Commission on Public School Personnel Policies, recently issued what he called a sharp rejoinder "to recent assurances by the state Board of Education that problems in teacher education are well under control."

Stranahan said, "The state Department of Education does not have the answers. Nor does it have the

Then Stranahan, looking ahead to hearings before the House Education Committee, said, "We hope the General Assembly through its appropriate committee will continue to see that teacher education is not brushed under the rug, but given the

Hunt Seeks Dismissal

WASHINGTON (AP) — E. Howard Hunt Jr., saying illegal acts by "responsible government officials" deprived him of a defense, has asked a federal judge to withdraw his guilty plea in the first Watergate trial and dismiss the charges against him.

Lawyers for Hunt moved Monday in U.S. District Court to dismiss the burglary, conspiracy and wiretapping charges against him on the grounds "the investigation of this case was replete with deliberate obstruction of justice, destruction and withholding of evidence, perjury and subornation of perjury."

Last Friday, four other convicted Watergate defendants asked that their guilty pleas be withdrawn on the grounds that they had been misled by Hunt and "high officials in the executive branch of the government."

The government has until next Monday to respond to the petitions from all five men.

The other four defendants, all natives of Cuba, were Bernard L. Barker, Eugenio R. Martinez, Frank Sturgis and Virgilio R. Gonzalez.

priority attention and action that is so greatly needed."

Essex and John Meckstroth of Cincinnati, president of the state Board of Education, don't think it has been swept under the rug.

Meckstroth said the board already had resolved to make drastic changes in teacher preparations and planned to have sweeping new standards ready within six months.

So, both Essex and Meckstroth actively opposed S.H.B. 198.

The Ohio Education Association, jealous of teacher power, opposed the bill unless the planning commission held a majority of educators. The OEA wouldn't compromise.

Rumors say that OEA might consider a compromise next January, but that might be wishful thinking on the part of the bill's proponents.

It appeared almost certain neither Dr. Essex nor the state Board of Education would yield.

Guards Appeal Firing By State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ten guards fired last month when they refused to report to work at the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility have appealed to the state Personnel Board of Review.

The correctional officers asked the board Aug. 31 to order the Ohio Department of Correction and Rehabilitation to return to their jobs.

The guards were among those who called in sick several days after two colleagues were shot to death at the Lucasville prison.

HANK AARON's familiar uniform number is 44—but his record is full of 2's. Born in Mobile, he was 20 when he broke into the majors. Now, in his 20th season, he holds or is tied for 20 National League records (plus 12 major league records). He's played in 22 All-Star games and 2 World Series.

He was still only No. 2 in the all-time home run race as of midseason 1973—but well on his way to trading that spot to Babe Ruth!

A Message to Newspaper Carriers from Hank Aaron:

“You’ve Got To Have Pride!”

Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves is best known right now as the man most likely to succeed Babe Ruth as baseball's greatest home run producer. But he's great in every department—in the field, at the bat, and in his will to win.

What's Aaron's secret of success? Pride. "I take pride in what I'm doing every day I'm out there," he says. "You really have to have it in baseball."

Maybe that's why he admires newspaper carriers. They've got pride, too. Determination to get the job done, to serve their customers dependably and well. They earn good money for it, sure—but most of all, they enjoy the satisfaction that comes from giving their best.

And as for that money they earn, a lot of it goes into savings for the future. Like their parents and other Americans, many of them buy U.S. Savings Bonds regularly, either through Newspaper Carrier Thrift Clubs or at the bank. Some day those Bonds may help them go to college or launch a life's career—and meantime those savings are helping their country now.

Lukens Suit Means Big Job For Ohio Elections Boards

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State election officials, as well as those in all of Ohio's 88 counties, are being asked to supply voluminous information about every election they have conducted in the past 20 years.

The situation stems from a citizens' federal court suit that seeks to place the name of State Sen. Donald E. "Buz" Lukens of Middletown on 1974 Ohio Republican primary ballots. Lukens was disqualified as a candidate for the next five years after he failed to file a 1972 campaign expense statement on time.

The lawsuit by Randall E. Cesco and three other Lukens' constituents claims records from elections in Ohio since Oct. 1, 1953, will show that election laws in Lukens' case were not equally enforced.

They seek to have the laws declared unconstitutional, and to have his name ordered on the Republican gubernatorial ballot.

The suit was filed in district court at Cincinnati, which sent separate sets of questions to the defendants, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, the chairmen and all the members of the Butler County Board of Elections, and the chairmen of all

Doctor Shortage Easing; Rural Problems Remain

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— The president-elect of the American Medical Association said the shortage of doctors in the United States is decreasing but that doctors can't be forced to move to rural areas or inner cities.

Dr. Malcolm C. Todd, addressing the Cincinnati Academy of Medicine Tuesday night, said that extending medical aid to those areas is a matter of transportation and solving social problems.

"The doctor shortage?" I think we're conquering it in great part," he said. "What really remains to be done is to regulate some of the attendant social problems."

He quoted former President Lyndon Johnson who said 50,000 doctors were needed. Since the Johnson Administration, said Todd, 74,000 new doctors have joined the medical ranks.

Todd said many doctors simply do not live in the country or the inner city.

"If it isn't the doctor, himself, it may well be his wife who is unhappy."

There are complaints about shortages of doctors in rural areas and in the inner cities, he said.

Cancellation Of Football Gives Strike 'New Look'

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)— Youngstown School Supt. Robert L. Pegues Jr. says cancellation of high school football has injected a new element into the strike that has kept the schools closed for two weeks.

"When you cancel football, some people push the panic button," Pegues said.

A Cotton Pickin' Plant

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — The establishment of a cotton textile plant in the Texas High Plains area is feasible and the prospects for it to be a profitable enterprise are good, according to a joint study made by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and two national consulting organizations.

The study was undertaken at the request of the Texas Industrial Commission, the Natural Fibers and Food Protein Committee of Texas, many local residents and interests, including the Textile Research Center; and Roy B. Davis, widely known leader in the High Plains cotton industry, who has been associated with the research center in recent months.

The report indicated more than sufficient markets for cotton denim blends, cotton denims, cotton twill blends and cotton twills to support a $15 million plant employing some 400 persons.

The Texas Water Development Board has assured that sufficient water exists in the Lubbock area for such a plant. Success of the plant would require experienced management and competitively priced water, electricity, fuels and supporting services. The survey indicated all are available.

the other 87 county boards of election.

They were given 45 days to answer the questions, which seek the names of all candidates in the past 20 years, and detailed information about their filing of expense statements or their failure to do so, among other things.

Brown received a list of 46 questions, many of them requiring multiple answers. A separate set went to the board in Butler County—the largest in Lukens' Fourth State Senate District, and another to the other 87 chairmen.

Brown said Assistant Atty. Gen. Thomas Martin is preparing his answer to the complaint Cesco filed. The answer is due Oct. 2.

Assistant Secretary of State James F. Marsh said the office is going ahead preparing answers to the questions.

"We expect to finish it. We're making no attempt to avoid supplying the answers," he said.

Marsh added, however, that he does not expect that the information will show that Lukens was treated any differently than others over the years.

"I'd be surprised if he was," Brown's assistant said.

Marsh said even though the task faced by the county boards is "laborious," he does not know of a

Tornadoes Hit East; Fair In Most Sections

"We could, as doctors, simply ignore these matters, but I think we have a moral obligation to fill in the gaps of service as we can."

He said better transportation and someone to watch children while parents seek medical help could be beneficial in inner city areas. Rural areas need doctors in small towns. He said 15 miles is not too much to travel.

Todd said inducements could be offered to doctors to locate in rural areas, such as tax benefits and education benefits.

He said 10,000 physicians will be graduated from medical schools this year and 15,000 will be admitted in the fall.

Todd noted there are 64,000 foreign physicians in the United States, many of them hospital residents.

Many unsuccessful medical school applicants are seeking education elsewhere like Bologna, Italy and Lucerne, Switzerland.

There are 1,550 American students at Guadalajara, Mexico, Todd said, but he added that most of these will have difficulty achieving certification in the United States.

"In a situation like this you hear from people you don't otherwise hear from."

Pegues said a group of parents asked him Tuesday to rescind his order canceling football games, but he refused.

The strike began Sept. 4, the day before the new school year officially convened. Although school officials twice tried to hold classes despite the strike, schools had to be closed each time after only a handful of teachers and students crossed picket lines.

Pegues said earlier this week the schools would remain closed until teachers returned to the classroom.

The 1,750 strikers, including about 1,000 teachers, demanded an 8 per cent salary increase at the start of the new semester. The school board's highest offer released publicly was a 2 per cent immediate increase and another 2 per cent hike in January.

The teachers' strike also involves the use of specialty teachers and a residency rule requiring new teachers to live within the city limits.

Strike leaders and school officials have been meeting in closed door sessions since Sunday evening. There were no official reports of progress, although some teachers said they understood the meetings were making headway.

case in which a board is having extreme difficulty.

But in Ross County, officials pointed out they had a total of 132 candidates last year alone, and speculated about the task of running down that number over a 20-year period. Many counties had more candidates.

Butler County's board received a separate set of questions because that was the county in which Lukens failed to file a campaign expense statement within 45 days after the election last Nov. 6.

Lukens, a 41-year-old former congressman, went into federal court in Columbus after the Ohio Supreme Court upheld Brown's order disqualifying Lukens from running in next year's election.

The Cincinnati plaintiffs maintain that their inability to vote for Lukens, whom they support, amounts to a violation of their U.S. Constitutional rights under the First and 14th Amendments.

The First Amendment, they said, assures that citizens may "cast their votes effectively for the candidate of their choice." They claim their rights under the 14th Amendment are being violated because it entitles them to equal protection and due process under the law.

Bourbon Price Hike Indicated

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Showers and thunderstorms damped widely scattered areas of the nation today as fair skies held sway in most places.

The rains were confined to the Carolinas and southern Florida and the central and southern Plains just east of the Rockies.

Rainfall was light, generally less than half an inch.

Heavy rains washed the southern and northern Atlantic coasts Tuesday. Catawba, S.C., was soaked with 1.4 inches of rain in 20 minutes Tuesday afternoon. The ground was covered with marble-size hail.

Temperatures dipped into the 30s in parts of New York and Pennsylvania during the night. Readings in the 40s were common throughout the Great Lakes and middle Mississippi Valley.

Four tornadoes were sighted Tuesday in eastern New York and southern New England. Some property was damaged in eastern Long Island and near Danbury, Conn. No personal injuries were reported.

Strong winds whipped up waves of 5 to 6 feet on the U.S. side of Lake Ontario.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 37 at Bradford, Pa., to 83 at Phoenix, Ariz.

No Date Set For Reopening Fabrics Plant

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The director of the Ohio Department of Health met with officials of Columbus Coated Fabrics on Tuesday to determine when employees can return to work safely at the illness-plagued plant.

Health Director Dr. John Cashman said no date was set.

"Management is making some changes in the print shop, but we're not sure what we can expect from those changes," Cashman said.

Corwin Smith, president of Local 487 of the Textile Workers of America, said the company's medical consultant and chemist made presentations at the meeting.

About 130 workers in the company print shop walked off the job two weeks ago because of a mysterious nerve ailment that afflicted 11 of their co-workers. Smith said the number has risen to 47.

A state toxicologist traced the ailment to a solvent used in dyeing cloth. Company officials say they have discontinued use of the chemical.

Smith said the union has withdrawn a recommendation that workers stay off the job because some members were facing financial hardship.

A three-member medical team has proposed an 11-point safety program to correct the problems, and Cashman said the National Institute of Occupational Health and Safety has offered help in pinpointing the cause of the ailment and providing a solution.

ACLU Hits Punishment In Schools

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The American Civil Liberties Union of Ohio seeks $20,000 in damages for a 13-year-old black Springfield girl who claims she was beaten by two school administrators.

The ACLU filed a class action suit in U.S. District Court Tuesday challenging the constitutionality of corporal punishment.

The suit charged that Leatha Benita Sims was subjected to "physical and mental abuse by manhandling her in an effort to inflict corporal punishment."

Named as defendants were William Waln, principal of Schaeffer Junior High School in Springfield, and Max Launders, assistant principal.

The action was brought by the girl's mother, Linda Gail Sims of Springfield.

Benson Wolman, ACLU executive director, said the suit charges that corporal punishment is "cruel and unusual punishment" in violation of the Eighth Amendment.

He said the suit also claims the girl was denied equal protection of the laws guaranteed under the 14th Amendment by "an intentional practice of discriminatory use of corporal punishment against black students solely on the basis of their race."

Wolman said the suit seeks a court ruling preventing "the use of physical force on school children by school teachers, principals or administrators, other than as a bona fide method of self defense or defense of others or property."

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
The coolest weather of the season thus far has arrived for many parts of Ohio, and a new record for the date was set early today at Toledo, where the mercury dipped to 38 degrees.

There was a new record also at Cleveland which had a reading of 40 degrees. Other spots in the state reported early morning temperatures ranging through the 40s. Heavy fog settled into the valleys of southern and southeastern Ohio.

The morning's weather map showed a large area of high pressure dominating the weather over the eastern portion of the country with the high extending from Pennsylvania to Louisiana.

A low pressure center to the north of Lake Superior with a cold front extending from the center is expected to move rapidly eastward across southern Canada. The cold front will then move southeastward into northern Ohio Thursday and southward out of the state Thursday night.

The National Weather Service said a few showers might accompany the front into northern Ohio Thursday with temperatures in the 70s over the state.

Wilt Hedges On Report Of Coaching

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It was another in a long list of reports that have made the basketball career of Wilt Chamberlain as controversial as that of any athlete.

And Chamberlain said, "I have nothing to say" concerning a story Tuesday in the San Francisco Examiner that he would sign a $600,000-a-year contract this week as player-coach of the San Diego Conquistadors of the American Basketball Association.

The 37-year-old Los Angeles Laker center would neither confirm nor deny the report.

"I'm negotiating with the Conquistadors as possibly being a player and coach but that's as far as I can say," the 7-foot-1 Chamberlain told The Associated Press at a Hollywood Boulevard bookstore. Wilt was there to autograph copies of his book, "Wilt," in a private office.

"He does not want public autographing sessions," Wilt's public relations man commented. "As for what he's going to do, I don't know and I don't think Wilt does, either."

The Los Angeles Lakers of the National Basketball Association likely will sue if Wilt leaves the club because it holds his contract option for one more season.

"We expect Wilt to play this year and if he plays anywhere, he'll play here," said Pete Newell, Lakers general manager.

Star Bidder paid $4 to show.

The 2-9 daily double was worth $20.80.

It was only Slavic's second pre-seniors tourney, but he birdied the second, ninth and 13th holes with putts of 12, eight and five feet. He bogeyed one and 17.

Sky Blanket Wins Thistledown Race

CLEVELAND (AP)—Sky Blanket covered the six furlong distance in 1:13 and one-fifth to win the featured Allowance race at Thistledown Tuesday.

The 4-year-old filly was ridden by Antonio Graell and paid $8, $4.20 and $3. Leonardine was second, paying $11.80 and $5.80. Amber Cygnet paid $4.60 to show. The daily double combination of Yoi (6) and Fred's Orphan (6) paid $302.40.

JOLLEY STOPPED — Houston Oiler running back Lewis Jolley (40) is stopped after gaining seven yards against the Dallas Cowboys in the Astrodome in Houston, Tex. Dallas' D.D. Lewis (50) and Cliff Harris (43) make the tackle in the first period. Oilers won, 27-24.

Buckeye Gridders Practice Hitting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University football coach Woody Hayes told his Big Ten squad they will be practicing hitting this week in preparation for the Sept. 29 match with Texas Christian at home.

In drills Tuesday, junior safety Rich Tarson suffered a sprained ankle. Doug Franz, a senior alternate tackle, sprained his knee. Both were expected to return to practice before the next game.

Prep Gridder Succumbs

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A Sylvania High School junior injured during the first day of contact football drills Aug. 20 died in a hospital here Monday.

Doctors said Jeffrey Wharram, 16, never regained consciousness after he underwent brain surgery Aug. 21.

Four Seasons Operator Gets Year In Prison

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack L. Clark, who was accused of pocketing $10 million while investors in the nursing home chain he headed lost $200 million, has been sentenced to a year in prison.

The 47-year-old Clark is the former president and chairman of Four Seasons Nursing Centers of America, a once glamorous stock issue on the American exchange.

He pleaded guilty on June 4 to charges of conspiracy to defraud investors in the Oklahoma City-based corporation.

Four Seasons built a chain of 26 nursing centers and three child care facilities in Texas, Illinois, Wisconsin, Kansas, Ohio, Arizona, Nevada and Louisiana.

Brown Warns Team About Next Foes

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Cincinnati Bengals Coach Paul Brown warned the team, defeated 28-10 by Denver last week, that the Houston Oilers won't be a snap either.

Brown accused his team of over-confidence after the opening loss. He said Tuesday that the Bengals' tackling "was atrocious."

"It doesn't do any good to look at those pictures," said linebacker Ron Pritchard, over whom three first-half touchdowns were run, "as bad as we were."

Brown planned full practice sessions today and said, after viewing the films of Houston's 34-14 loss to the New York Giants, "It's hard to say how Houston lost."

"They just lost on four interceptions, and one of them was tipped. Yet, they moved the ball pretty well," Brown said, noting Don Pastorini's two touchdown passes in the second half.

"Houston's strength is on defense. They've got Tody Smith—Bubba's brother, that big rookie from Tampa, John Matuszak, Greg Sampson—a first round draft choice at Buffalo, and Elvin Bethea in their front four."

"They're all first round draft choices. I can't think of another team in the league with four like that."

"Our trouble now is to keep those front liners healthy," Brown said. "We're not counting on Doug Dressler for this game either."

Both running back Dressler and wide receiver Charlie Joiner suffered knee injuries in the final exhibition game with Green Bay and remained home from the trip to Denver.

"Joiner is in the same category as Doug," Brown said.

The Bengals suffered no injuries in the Denver game.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Most network radio series were put in their graves by television in the early 1950s.

Well, here it is the early 1970s and CBS is saying it'll start a new radio series on Jan. 6 — in prime time.

There've been no reports of panic in television circles yet. But Sam Cook Digges, head of the CBS Radio Division, and Hi Brown, producer of the coming show, think it could start a new aural trend at the network.

The new series, in the thriller category, is called the "CBS Radio Mystery Theater." It'll run seven nights a week, each 52-minute episode starting at 10:07 p.m. here. There'll be 200 new episodes and 165 repeats.

If the new show clicks, Digges says, it could lead to a new dramatic anthology series, a daytime soap opera and even a new comedy series — in short, a modern minirevival of the golden days of network radio.

Brown, a veteran radio producer whose credits date back to the 1930s, is equally hopeful. But the biggest kick for him right now is the fact that a network is even willing to give radio drama another try.

"It's an emotional jag for me," says Brown, who'll record most of the "Mystery Theater" shows in New York. "I could care less what it does for me financially."

He said the series — each show starts with the sound of a creaking door — will have a permanent host and tell a separate tale each night. The stories will range from the macabre to the occult, Brown said.

The series won't have staff writers or a stock acting company, he added. "It's an open show for all the fresh, proven and unproven talent we can find."

CBS says the series will be offered the network's 250 AM radio affiliates, then to other stations if an affiliate in a given market doesn't want the show.

The CBS-owned stations here and in Boston, St. Louis and Philadelphia won't be carrying the show because they have an all-news format, CBS says. It says other stations in those cities will air the series.

The show is the first new prime-time radio drama series on a network in more than a decade and a half. One new 30-minute series called "Zero Hour" began this summer, but it was sold to individual radio stations and wasn't offered by a network.

Last June, the NBC Radio network began running a science-fiction series called "X Minus One" every fourth Sunday evening. But it's an old series first heard in the mid-1950s, according to NBC.

Thumb Surgery Technique Seen Help For Many

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Surgeons, using graduate students and engineering facilities at the University of Cincinnati, have successfully implanted an artificial thumb knuckle that they believe may eventually help 50,000 arthritis and injury sufferers.

The first recipient was a paroled murderer, who declined use of his name. The man, who underwent the operation Friday, told doctors he could not use the thumb of his right hand because of an injury.

The doctors estimated 50,000 Americans may be helped to regain use of their thumbs through the technique. These include persons with injuries, arthritis and rheumatoid arthritis.

Irish Washwoman Wins British Bravery Medal

LONDON (AP) — The pretty woman known in Belfast as "Kate the laundry woman" has won a medal for bravery in operations against the Irish Republican Army, the British defense minister announced today.

For Kate was Lance Cpl. Sarah-Jane Warke of the Women's Royal Army Corps, an intelligence agent who saw her partner gunned down by a guerrilla squad last October.

She was awarded the Military Medal, Britain's third highest award for courage. She is the first in her corps to win the medal, which has been bestowed on only six servicewomen since 1918.

The British army refused to say what she looks like or where she is stationed now for fear vengeful guerrillas might try to kill her. For the same reason, Queen Elizabeth II will present her medal at a private, unpublicized ceremony at Buckingham Palace.

The Defense Ministry did admit that she is over 25 and single.

Sarah-Jane was the only woman among a group of British agents disguised as employees of the fictitious Four Square Laundry who toured Catholic quarters of Belfast seeking clues to IRA gunmen.

For months, she and Ted Stuart of the Royal Engineers drove their green pickup truck around areas where a British soldier in uniform would have been shot on sight by IRA snipers. The laundry they collected was taken to an army laboratory and checked for bloodstains and indications that the wearer had been using explosives or firearms.

The army said the information

Planning Commission Hears Report On Sewer District

Kermit Dountz, chairman of the sewer and water committee of the Pickaway County Regional Planning Commission, gave a report on the progress of forming a county-wide sanitary sewer district Tuesday at the regular meeting of the commission.

The county-wide district has been proposed in order to eliminate the red tape required in establishing small districts, to provide more operating funds and to enable the county to hire a full time sanitation engineer to oversee the operation of the sewage plants under the jurisdiction of the county commissioners.

Also attending the meeting were Tom Isaac and Carl White of the Housing opportunity Center, Columbus. They informed the local planning commission they had received a grant to study housing in the 8-county Mid Ohio Regional Planning Council area.

The study is to uncover and handle discrimination in housing, landlord tenant relations and provide a housing location service for the disadvantaged.

An official from the Mid Ohio Regional Planning was present to discuss the reorganization structure of the council and how it involves the eight-county planning region. The eight counties in the Mid-Ohio Council are: Pickaway, Franklin, Delaware, Union, Madison, Fayette, Licking and Fairfield.

The category does not include supervisory, agricultural, governmental or public education employees.

City Employs Nurse For Health Department

A public health nurse has been hired for the city of Circleville, Mayor Frank Barnhill informed city council members Tuesday.

Mrs. Tom Wells, 340 Walnut Creek Pike, has accepted the position at a salary of $3 per hour. Mayor Barnhill said she will attend public health nurse training sessions at the expense of the state.

The classes will be held in Chillicothe. Barnhill noted the salary offered Mrs. Wells is more than that appropriated for the post by council and asked that an ordinance changing the salary be approved.

He said a transfer of funds is unnecessary since the city has been without a health nurse for an extended period of time. Although at one time the City Schools contributed $1,500 to the city toward the nurse's salary, this is no longer the case. The schools have their own health nurse and the city nurse's services are no longer required.

Mayor Barnhill said the next step in improving the services provided by the city health department will be to employ a fulltime sanitarian. Those services are now being provided by the state department of health.

In addition to the ordinance increasing the salary of the city health nurse from $5,336 per year to $6,240 per year, councilmen approved two other ordinances and two resolutions.

The other ordinances amended the annual appropriations. A sum of $925 was transferred from the Federal Revenue Sharing Fund to the general fund to pay for the new tape recorder for Municipal Court. Records must be kept of criminal trials and hearings conducted in Municipal Court as required by the new rules of criminal procedure.

A sum of $1,200 was transferred from the general fund to Municipal Court Legal Supplies Fund to pay for new legal supplies also required by the rules of criminal procedure.

A resolution permitting Fulton

Cablevision to change its name to Circleville Cablevision Associates was approved. A resolution accepting the amounts and rates of taxation as determined by the Pickaway County Budget Commission was approved.

Council Briefs

Council President Joseph Bell reminded members a public hearing is scheduled 8 p.m. Oct. 2 for rezoning the Renick property in the general area between Nicholas Drive and Hargus Creek.

Mayor Frank Barnhill reported the pigeon eradication program has not been forgotten. Officials from the United States Fish and Wildlife Department have said such programs should be delayed until migratory song birds have left in the fall and actually work best when there is snow on the ground.

Service Director Atwood Jones announced a janitor for the city building has been employed. He also reported work is underway on increasing the radius of the corners at Main and Scioto, the installation of a storm sewer under South Court Street has been completed and the repair of Walnut Street has been completed.

The monthly financial statement of City Auditor Marvene L. Turner was presented to council. General Fund balance Oct. 31 is $105,322.45. The only deficit shown on the report was $4,010.97 in the police and firemen pension levy. Finance Committee Chairman David Goldschmidt explained that the rate certified by the budget commission for the pension fund is inadequate and moneys must be transferred from the general fund to make up the deficit.

Council members present were: Ben Gordon, David Crawford, Keith Wagner, David Goldschmidt, Robert Kenworthy, Harold Hoffman, Gladden Troutman.

Bhutto, who chatted with the vice president later in the day at a White House reception, said Agnew was in a "fine mood" and "laughing all the time."

The furor was triggered by a Washington Post story that said Agnew had discussed resigning with a senior Republican figure. The unnamed Republican told the Post he was "99 1/2 per cent sure" that Agnew would quit — probably before the end of this week.

It was the second time in three weeks that a possible Agnew resignation was reported. On Sept. 1, he was said to have discussed the subject with President Nixon, but both Agnew's staff and the White House denied that the subject came up in their 2 1/2-hour meeting.

House Votes Today On Nixon Wage Veto

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House is expected today to sustain President Nixon's veto of a bill increasing the minimum wage despite a determined effort by labor leaders to salvage the legislation.

House Democratic leaders failed in four previous efforts to muster the two-thirds majority needed to override a veto and a fifth effort failed in the Senate. Now they are letting labor make the main fight.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, has sent every House member a letter urging the veto be overridden and has called on all union local leaders to carry the message to their representatives in Congress.

Meany also sent the members a 12-page analysis of Nixon's veto message, rebutting it point by point and calling it "a collection of myth and distortion of fact."

Although the bill finally passed 287 to 130 last June, Republican and conservative Democratic opponents came within 20 votes of scrapping it for an administration-backed substitute.

In his veto message Nixon said the bill, which would raise the $1.60 an hour minimum to $2 this year and $2.20 next year, would increase unemployment and add to inflation.

The bill also would expand coverage of the minimum wage law by bringing five million state and local government employees and one million domestics under its protection.

Nixon has proposed a slower increase in the minimum — to $1.90 this year, $2.10 next year, $2.20 in 1975 and

$2.30 in 1976, with no increase in coverage, and a lower rate for teenage workers.

The difficulty facing the labor lobbyists is mainly one of arithmetic.

There are 192 Republicans in the House, and if all 435 members vote it only takes 146 to sustain a veto.

The House Republican Policy Committee, chief policy arm of the GOP leadership, overwhelmingly supported Nixon's position Tuesday and issued a statement urging the veto be sustained.

Elliott Roosevelt Scoffs At Bahama Death Plot Link

WASHINGTON (AP)—A convicted stock swindler says Elliott Roosevelt and a reputed big-time gambler offered him $100,000 to assassinate the Bahamian prime minister.

Roosevelt, son of former President Franklin D. Roosevelt and once mayor of Miami Beach, Fla., called the allegation "an utter and complete fabrication."

Louis P. Mastriana told the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations Tuesday that the assassination contract was offered because Prime Minister Lynden O.

Pindling allegedly failed to grant a gambling license to Michael McLaney. Mastriana identified McLaney as a onetime employee of U.S. gambling kingpin Meyer Lansky.

Mastriana served time in a federal penitentiary for illegal securities dealings in Florida and is serving an eight-year sentence for mail fraud in Texas.

Roosevelt, contacted at his Lisbon, Portugal ranch, said, "It is an utter and complete fabrication and outright lie made by a man who is a known con-artist and has been convicted, who has been put in jail, who has been adjudged by the courts of New Jersey as a mental incompetent, and who conned me and my associates at one time out of $10,000 in Miami."

Mastriana said he had had himself adjudicated insane purposely "so I could do anything." Later, he said, "I was examined by government psychiatrists who found me to be of sound mind and legally competent."

Mastriana testified that McLaney, who was convicted in 1971 of a securities violation, gave $1 million to Pindling for a 1968 political campaign. In return, Mastriana said, McLaney was to receive a gambling license in the Bahamas.

"But he didn't deliver," Mastriana said of the Bahamian prime minister. "They came to me and offered me $100,000 to kill, to whack (Pindling)," said Mastriana.

Mastriana identified "they" as Roosevelt and McLaney. Mastriana said he was paid $10,000 immediately. He said he got $2,500 in a check from McLaney to Roosevelt.

A committee staff member produced a photostatic copy of a check for that amount signed by McLaney and Roosevelt. The committee member said the check had been endorsed by Roosevelt over to Mastriana.

Mastriana said there was no assassination attempt made, because he said he feared he would be unable to escape from the island nation.

Mastriana said he had a concealed recording device on his body and had taped his conversations with Roosevelt. He said the equipment was furnished by the U.S. Postal Service, which he said he had worked for at that time "in an undercover capacity."

A U.S. Postal Service spokesman said there would be no comment on the allegation until a check of the files is completed.

'Bloodbath' In Chile Unlikely?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite thousands of arrests, the United States does not expect the military junta ruling Chile to engage in a blood bath, according to a high government official.

Americans caught in the convulsive overthrow of the Marxist Allende government evidently will be free to go home when the airports are opened, probably on Saturday, the official said in an interview.

Although a couple have been detained, the U.S. embassy in Santiago reports Americans generally are safe.

The military officers running Chile are considered here to be responsible professionals without the yen to engage in politics that is common in some other Latin American countries.

At the same time, the official said, they are likely to rule with a firm hand and to deal sternly with Chilean and other leftists found with caches of arms.

The Pinochet junta apparently will gain U.S. recognition on the theory that diplomatic relations do not necessarily imply approval of a country's political system.

Washington would be vastly surprised if the new regime reversed the nationalization policy that led to the expropriation of copper mines and other vast properties owned by American interests. This policy is deeply rooted in Chilean history, predating the late President Salvador Allende.

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Walter Schirra Sr., 80, father of astronaut Walter Schirra Jr. and a veteran of World War I, died Tuesday. He is credited with downing 11 German planes while an Army Signal Corp pilot.

Nixon Proposes Cash Help As Housing Answer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Terming the federal government "the biggest slumlord in history," President Nixon urged Congress today to authorize a new experiment that would provide the needy with direct cash payments to help meet their housing needs.

Nixon said the direct payments should be considered as a potential substitute for massive public housing projects.

In a long-promised special message, Nixon said that the cash payments appear to be "the most promising way to achieve decent housing for all our families at an acceptable cost."

Recommending that first priority be given to the elderly poor, Nixon said the cash subsidies "would be carefully scaled to make up the difference between what a family could afford on its own for housing and the cost of safe and sanitary housing in that geographic area."

The President said a final decision on the wisdom of the innovative approach probably would come "late in 1974 or early in 1975."

For the moment, Nixon said, there would be a continuing need to provide some federally subsidized housing projects. But he recommended, as a new approach, that developers make newly-built units "available at special rents for low-income families and the government in return would pay the developer the difference between such rents and fair market rents."

In the field of public housing, Nixon announced he was lifting his Jan. 5 suspension of "the section 23 program under which new and existing housing is leased for low-income families."

Nixon also proposed a major experiment designed to ease the home-buying burden on young families.

He asked Congress for authority to test a program that would gear mortgage payments to expected changes in family income.

"Rather than make the same flat payment over the life of the loan, families would make smaller payments in the earlier years — when they are hardest pressed — and larger payments later on — when their incomes are higher," Nixon said.

One Of Sextuplets Dies; Three Others Are Ailing

DENVER (AP)—One of the Stanek sextuplets has died from a lung disease common in prematurely born babies. A doctor says three of the other infants show signs of the same ailment.

Julia Stanek lived about 44 hours before severe hyaline membrane disease caused her death Tuesday night.

Skylab Crew Prepares For Return Trip

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—"It won't be long now," said Skylab 2 commander Alan L. Bean.

The three-man crew of the orbiting laboratory began preparations for its return to earth next Tuesday at the end of the 59-day space trip.

Bean made his remark Tuesday during a discussion with mission control about procedures for flying the Apollo ferry ship after leaving the space lab.

Bean, Owen K. Garriott and Jack R. Lousma also discussed with ground controllers the complicated plan for deactivating the station — shutting off some systems, turning others on and stowing equipment in preparation for a visit by the Skylab 3 crew starting Nov. 11.

The astronauts completed two earth resources surveys over the United States on Tuesday. They planned another today to gather data over the Great Lakes, New York state and the Atlantic ocean.

Doctors at Colorado General Hospital had given her two blood transfusions Tuesday afternoon and a respirator was used to aid her breathing.

Dr. Darrell Miller reported the condition of two of the sextuplets had declined, with both showing signs of the hyaline disease. They are Catherine, Julia's only sister, and an unnamed brother. Another boy, Steven, was reported in fair condition with indications of the ailment.

Miller said that two of the boys, Jeffrey and John, were in good condition.

The babies were about six weeks premature.

Miller said he talked to the mother, Mrs. Eugene J. Stanek, 34, and reported "she was moved by Julia's death, but seemed stoic and very accepting."

Main Cambodia Highway Clear

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—The Cambodian military command said today that Phnom Penh's highway to the sea has been cleared of Khmer Rouge insurgents again and reopened to traffic for the first time in nearly a month.

Col. Am Rong, the chief military spokesman, said government troops fell on the insurgents from four sides Tuesday at Sala Kruos, on the highway 17 miles west of Phnom Penh, and killed a large number.

Agnew Office Denies Rumor He'll Resign

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's office has rejected fresh speculation that he may resign, insisting instead that he is determined to clear himself of political corruption charges in Maryland.

Agnew himself refused to comment on the latest report that he was close to quitting, and the White House also would not comment.

Leaving a luncheon where he acted as host to visiting Pakistani Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, the vice president was confronted by newsmen and asked whether he was going to resign.

"Gentlemen, as you know it is my practice not to comment on stories from undisclosed sources," Agnew replied. Smiling tautly, he ignored their shouted pleas to say something more and drove away in his limousine.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices rose sharply today in active trading. Brokers said that the market's strength despite earlier dramatic downward movements in some bellwether stocks had attracted investors back to the market.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 9.40 at 900.66 at noon. The Dow last broke the 900 mark on Sept. 6.

Advances overpowered declines nearly 3 to 1 in active trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The broad-based NYSE index of some 1,500 common stocks was up .62 at 56.40.

On the American Stock Exchange, trading was active, and advances broadly led declines. The Amex market value index was up .71 at 100.53 at noon.

IBM was up 7½ points in heavy trading after its opening was delayed for the third straight session since a U.S. District Court ruling against the company in an antitrust suit with Telex. IBM had lost nearly 40 points in the last two sessions. Telex, which had gained more than 4 points in previous sessions, gave up ¾ point at 7½.

Twelve Arraigned In Common Pleas Court

Three of the defendants indicted by the September grand jury pleaded guilty to charges in common pleas court this morning. The court also accepted 11 pleas of not guilty and scheduled these cases for trial.

Judge William Ammer ordered presentence reports on the three persons entering guilty pleas. Richard Ray Parson, Columbus, pleaded guilty to forgery. Gary Lee Martin and Larry R. Webb of Columbus entered pleas of guilty to Grand larceny.

Webb and Martin are free at present on $2,000 recognizance bonds while Parson remains in jail under $2,500 bond.

Entering a plea of not guilty to incest was George Williams, Route 2, Ashville. The case is scheduled for trial on Oct. 29 at 9 a.m. Williams's $5,000 recognizance bond was continued.

Three charges against Arthur Lowery, 156 W. Water St. are set for trial on Oct. 11. Lowery faces two counts of breaking and entering an uninhabited building in the night season and one count of grand larceny. He is under three $1,000 recognizance bonds.

Kenneth Ray Harris, 402 N. Scioto St., pleaded not guilty to assault with a dangerous weapon and was scheduled for trial Oct. 15. Bond was continued at $500.

Two Cincinnati men, Harry Thomas Bolton and Ronald Lee Scott, pleaded not guilty to breaking and entering an uninhabited dwelling in the night season. Each man was released under

$5,000 recognizance bond. Bolton was scheduled for trial on Oct. 24 and Scott on Nov. 26.

Similar charges will be heard against Kenneth Willis Certain 386 Walnut St., on Nov. 19. Upon accepting Certain's plea of not guilty, Judge Ammer continued his bond at $1,000.

Requesting court appointed counsel at the arraignment were Willetta Sue Frey, Route 1, Lockbourne, Mack David Showalter, Mt. Sterling, and Richard L. LaFollette, 342 E. Mound St. These three persons did not enter pleas but filed the necessary papers for such counsel.

Mrs. Frey is charged with breaking and entering an inhabited dwelling in the night season and grand larceny. She is being held under $2,500 bond. Showalter remains under $2,000 bond on breacking and entering and grand larceny charges.

LaFollette, charged with three counts of insufficient funds, was released under a total of $2,500 bond.

Harold Jamie Colter is being held in Madison County jail and was not present at the arraignment. He was indicted for breacking and entering an inhabited dwelling in the day season and grand larceny.

Also coming before the court was Ronald Keith Lowery. Lowery changed his plea to guilty on a charge of breaking and entering an uninhabited dwelling in the night season. The prosecution dismissed a charge of grand larceny and a pre-sentence report was ordered.

Canada Newsprint Strikes Hit U.S. Paper Supply

MONTREAL (AP) — Strikes in Canada's newsprint industry have meant the loss of about 250,000 tons of production so far this year, a spokesman for the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association said today.

He noted that this is a small percentage of Canada's total annual output of about 10 million tons. But he said it came at a time of heavy demand for big fall issues of newspapers and magazines.

He also pointed out that customers in the United States are suffering most because the struck companies export most of their newsprint to the United States.

New Pension Reform Bill Awaits Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise pension reform bill was ready for Senate action today.

Senate leaders said they were hopeful of obtaining a final vote, although numerous amendments remained to be disposed of.

The compromise merges the provisions of separate versions from the Labor and Finance committees.

Several senators interested in making individual changes in the bill said they were prepared to offer their amendments today.

There seemed to be little chance, however, that any of the basic protections of the bill would be weakened.

These would establish vesting standards for the 40 million Americans covered by private pension plans, mandate that the plans be adequately funded, establish a government insurance program to make pension payments where a company goes out of business or a plan has insufficient assets, set up a voluntary portability program to enable an employee to transfer pension rights from one company to another and tighten standards for fiduciaries and trustees of pension funds.

Anders Celsius, the Swedish inventor of what we know as centigrade measuring, divided the heat gradient between freezing and boiling water into a handier 100 degrees than the Fahrenheit scale and inadvertently created the conversion problem for Americans.

Council Reviewing Chrysler Pact

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers' Chrysler council considers today the proposed contract with the nation's No. 3 auto maker.

UAW national leaders hope to end the strike by Monday. But they have met some resistance from local officials in efforts to get about 112,000 production workers back to their jobs by the first of the week.

The union struck Chrysler Corp. at midnight Friday when the old contract expired. Agreement on a new pact was announced Monday.

The 200-member council must approve the new pact before it can be submitted to the rank and file for ratification votes Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Ratification is obtained when a majority of the 69 Chrysler locals approves the pact.

Unanimous approval of the new contract, which emphasizes fringe benefits, was obtained from the union's International Executive Board on Monday and from the presidents of the locals on Tuesday.

Dr. Heckert Is Elected DuPont Vice President

The DuPont Company's Board of Directors elected Dr. Richard E. Heckert a director, senior vice president and member of the Executive Committee, effective Oct. 1. David H. Dawson, who has 40 years of service with the company, will retire Sept. 30 as a senior vice president and Executive Committee member, but he will remain on the board.

Dr. Heckert, 49, vice president and general manager of the company's Fabrics and Finishes Department, joined Du Pont in 1949 as a research chemist. Mr. Dawson, 65, has become widely known as a spokesman for the chemical industry on foreign trade and energy matters and has been prominent in community affairs in Wilmington.

The new senior vice president began his Du Pont career in the Central Research Department, working in the field of cyanocarbon chemistry. He holds several patents on inventions in this field and is the author of papers on this subject published in scientific journals.

In 1954 Dr. Heckert moved to the Film Department as a supervisor at the Cellophane Research and Development Laboratory in Richmond, Va. He later was promoted to assistant manager of the laboratory and, in 1957, was appointed technical superintendent of the Spruance cellophane plant in Richmond.

Dr. Heckert became technical superintendent of the Clinton, Iowa, cellophane plant in 1958. In May, 1959, he was appointed assistant manager of the Circleville, Ohio, plant for the manufacture of "Mylar" polyester film and was advanced to plant manager in October of that same year. He returned to Wilmington in February of 1963 and was named to the newly created position of director of supporting research in the Research and Development Division, advancing to director of the division the following June. He was named assistant general manager of the Film Department in 1965, assistant general manager of the Plastics Department in 1967 and general manager of the Fabrics and Finishes Department in January, 1969. In January, 1972, he was named a vice president.

Dr. Heckert was born Jan. 13, 1924, in Oxford, Ohio, and was graduated from Miami University in Oxford in 1944 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. From 1944 to 1946 he served in the United States Army as a technician with a special engineering detachment at Oak Ridge, Tenn., atomic energy facility. He then attended the University of Illinois, receiving the degrees of Master of Arts in 1947 and Doctor of Philosophy in organic chemistry in 1949.

He married the former Barbara Kennedy of Oxford, Ohio, in 1945. They have a son, Alex Y., and a daughter Andra. Dr. and Mrs. Heckert live on Glen Hall Road, near Unionville, Pa.

A Page Of Opinion

Processed Spuds

There is no doubt the traditional American diet of meat and potatoes has taken a beating in recent history. Not only has the fuss over meat prices caused experimentation with cheaper substitutes, but the potato has been going through some evolutionary changes of its own.

Potatoes formerly were baked, boiled or fried. Now a large percentage of them are frozen or dehydrated into packages for the housewife to heat and serve.

Per capita consumption of potatoes in the United States has declined for years, but the inroads made by processed potatoes have been dramatic. The average American consumes 70 pounds of fresh potatoes a year and 45 pounds of processed spuds.

Convenience foods of course have replaced fresh foods on many shelves of the supermarket. The trend is continuing.

The Department of Agriculture predicts that by the year 2000, 80 per cent of the Idaho potato crop will be going into processed foods. The kitchen stove may be one appliance with a limited future.

Billions For Pretense

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Dr. Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve, thought highly of Herbert Hoover's integrity, but considered him naive when it came to economics. Hoover failed to realize that there was one thing that government could do by waving a wand, and that was to create money.

In the early Thirties there was an excuse for the creation of money through government spending. Effective demand had fallen to a whisper; the farmers, glutted with corn, couldn't afford machinery. Joblessness was everywhere. Human nature being what it is, addicted to short-run thinking, the government had to do something to break the devastating downspiral of prices. As a reflex in academe, the economics departments quickly bred a race of Keynesians, young instructors to whom government spending became a matter of faith.

That was long ago, and the justification for heavy government spending has long since evaporated. Today we need all the food that farmers can produce without subsidy. Effective demand has been multiplied with every new issue of credit cards. With women working, many families have two breadwinners, making joblessness a matter of concern to a statistically marginal group.

In spite of the big change, however, the U.S. Senate is still topheavy with a generation weaned on the milk of Keynesianism. The big spenders still dominate in the upper House, making it virtually impossible for Richard Nixon to pull the budget into balance and stop inflation in its tracks.

A so-called Libertarian Task Force, sponsored by a curious combination of Ripon, or liberal, Republicans and academic conservatives of the stripe of Professor Yale Brozen of the University of Chicago Business School, has just completed a "fiscal rating" of the U.S. Senate for the full 92nd and the first quarter of the 93rd Congress. The Task Force, led by a 21-year-old Harvard student, Lawrence J. Siskind, put in some 2,500 man-hours of research into estimating the intended cost of 2,133 separate bills. One of the members of Siskind's advisory board was A. Ernest Fitzgerald, who was fired from his Pentagon job for revealing the $2.5 billion cost overrun of the C-5A.

Each Senator has been rated by the Task Force on his spending proclivities. The two ends of the scale tell us much about the fiscal heroes and villains who are playing out the inflationary drama, mostly a tragedy, as the Keynesian Era moves toward the bankruptcy of a Brazilian-type crisis.

The two worst spenders, well-intentioned men who have lived on, like two ancient dinosaurs, into an age meant for a new kind of animal, are Senator John O. Pastore of Rhode Island and Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota. They rate 100 on the big spending scale: if they could have their way, some $280 billion would be the "acceptable level" of government appropriations they would individually sanction. Pastore voted for $170 billion in appropriations during the 92nd Congress; to this he would have added, in the 93rd, some $109 billion more. Humphrey, in the 92nd Congress, voted for $170 billion appropriations, and has advocated spending $109 billion more to date in the 93rd.

Right behind Pastore and Humphrey on the "blow it all in" scale are Michigan's Senator Philip Hart (93 rating), Edmund Muskie of Maine (92), Jennings Randolph of Washington State (90), John V. Tunney of California (89), Alan Cranston of California (88), and Frank Moss of Utah (87). Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts, Claiborne Pell of Rhode Island and Walter Mondale of Minnesota are all tied at 86. McGovern's score is 84, and Jacob Javits of New York stands at 83.

The goodness of Hubert Humphrey's heart, as expressed in a willingness to spend other people's money, is practically bottomless. Whether it is to establish a national amateur sports fund or to promote national wild areas study, or to expand the food stamp program, or to create a workers' conservation corps for the elderly, Hubert is right in there pitching. Everything Humphrey advocates might be called a good in itself, but, added together, what Mr. Big Heart from Minnesota desires for his fellow countrymen would soon spell a ruined dollar.

At the other end of the scale are the Good Guys, those who realize that appropriations requiring higher taxes or more inflation are self-defeating. Senator William Roth of Delaware, no Keynesian he, leads the whole Senate with his anti-spending rating of zero on the 0-100 scale. Senator Bill Brock of Tennessee has a 13 rating. Norris Cotton of New Hampshire, Wallace Bennett of Utah, Harry Byrd of Virginia, James Buckley of New York, James Allen of Alabama, and Clifford Hansen of Wyoming are all in the 20-to-30 spending bracket. These are the leaders in realizing that by trying to bring goodies to everybody, you can bring worthlessness to the weekly pay check. Ask the Germans who remember the early Twenties; ask the Brazilians who lived through the post-World War Two years.

The Age of Keynes is dead. Why can't Senators Humphrey, Pastore and the rest let it be decently interred?

Claim Cambodia Growing Stronger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cambodian government is stronger now than when American air raids stopped a month ago, State Department officials say.

As evidence, these officials, who decline to be identified, point to the successful defense of Cambodia's second largest city, Kompong Cham, against a determined insurgent attack.

In addition, the officials say, the Cambodian government "is proceeding to implement important reforms to control inflation, assure adequate rice distribution and provide sufficient manpower" for its armed forces.

So, "despite the dire predictions for disaster following the Aug. 15 bombing halt," the officials state, "the situation in Cambodia appears to have improved significantly during the past month."

Led by President Nixon and Henry A. Kissinger, the administration had charged that moves by Congress to force an end to U.S. bombing in Cambodia would seriously undermine the Lon Nol regime.

Administration officials, military experts, and intelligence analysts nearly all agreed that without the massive B52 raids, the fall of Cambodia was only a matter of time, and a very short time at that.

The turnaround in the attitude of the State Department officials is the result of unexpected determination by the Cambodian military combined with some fortunate weather and shortages for the insurgents.

Seasonal rains have slowed the Communist forces and so has a lack of ammunition.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, former Cambodian ruler and figurehead leader of the insurgents, has acknowledged that the shortage has forced a delay until the December dry season of any major attack on Phnom Penh, the capital.

But the primary reason for the Cambodian success is the military, according to the State Department officials.

"Cambodian military forces — on their own — have turned back a major enemy offensive," the officials maintained.

The National Recovery Act was the subject of a talk before the Rotary Club at the Hotel Boggs by Prof. Theodore Beckman of the College of Commerce of Ohio State University.

Prof. Beckman was an authority on the NRA and provided valuable information for Rotarians and other interested parties who attended the meeting. Walter Nelson was in charge of the program.

Thirty milk distributors and producers met at the farm bureau office, E. Main St., and elected a committee of three to draw up a milk code for Pickaway County. The committee was composed of Ward W. Robinson, distributor; Clarence Ater, Route 3, producer and Charles Walters, Circleville Twp., producer-distributor.

The Circleville Oils were the 1933 champions of the city recreation baseball league after defeating the Walisa Sluggers by a score of 15-1. As soon as the game ended Dorcy Court-right, manager of the Oils and the man responsible for the city having recreational ball this year, announced it was the last game of the season as the lease for the use of the field from the Pennsylvania Railroad had expired. Later in the evening, Court-right took down the scoreboard, removed the bases and made plans to take down the backstops and fence.

The annual Barbecue and Corn roast at the Pickaway Country Club was held. It was the main event of the year and two hundred persons turned out for the event.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My mother had glaucoma and lost more than 50 per cent of her vision, mostly because she neglected herself.

With my family history, how can I avoid having the same thing happen to me?

Miss B. B., Wash., D. C.

Dear Miss B.:

You have pinpointed the reason for your mother's loss of vision. Neglect of early signs of glaucoma is probably one of the major reasons for the loss of vision.

This is particularly distressing to physicians because it indicates the failure of some people to respond to the vast national educational program about glaucoma.

There are some misconceptions that may be responsible for the fears about this condition.

Glaucoma is not a cataract. Glaucoma is not a cancer. Glaucoma is not contagious. Glaucoma is not a sign of brain tumor.

Glaucoma is a condition in which there is an increased pressure of the fluid within the eyeball.

The types of glaucoma and the fine anatomical differences are highly technical and a discussion of this does not serve to lessen the anxiety of people like you.

There is no reason you should go through life expecting that inevitably you will, like your mother, develop glaucoma.

Such fears are destructive to your happiness. Instead, you and all other people should avail themselves of regular eye examinations that include the measurement of the fluid tension within the eyeball.

The tonometer is an instrument by which the tension can be painlessly and rapidly measured. This is then recorded on the doctor's chart and kept as a reference and guide in future examinations.

When recognized early, glaucoma can be kept from progressing. Excellent modern drugs and surgery in carefully selected cases can now preserve the sight in most cases.

Is there complete agreement about the use of female hormones during the change of life to prevent the softening of bones that is said to accompany it? Mrs. J.R.A., R.I.

Dear Mrs. A.:

The softening of bone, or osteoporosis, is a common disorder that affects women during and after their change of life (menopause).

Calcium is absorbed from the bones and tends to make them more brittle.

When first it was recognized that there was a relationship between osteoporosis and a deficiency of female hormone, or estrogen, replacement therapy began.

There was at first a great deal of opposition to the use of estrogen, but slowly this attitude is changing. Today estrogen, calcium, and other drugs are being used in association with minerals and vitamins to retard the onset or progression of osteoporosis.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — If your business is home mortgages or home building, or if your ambition is to be a homeowner, you've learned to hold onto your hat, so to speak.

Every few years housing activity rises to a crest and then hurtles downward like a runaway roller coaster. Businesses and hopes are wrecked by the impact.

It happened in 1960, in 1966 and in 1969, accompanied each time by declarations from legislators that, for social if not business reasons, the ups and downs of the housing market must be flattened out.

Now, after what one observer remarks is enough rhetoric to be measured in millions of board feet, housing is in the midst of another serious tumble. Mortgage rates are rising, money is less available, construction is falling.

In the view of most homebuilders and many mortgage lenders, the basic problem is as always — that the Federal Reserve Board is seeking to fight inflation by allowing interest rates to rise.

Higher interest rates supposedly have a multiple impact on inflation: One, they discourage borrowing; two, they encourage people to put their money into savings instead of spending it.

This would appear to be helpful to the housing market, because savings and loan associations are designed specifically to channel funds into mortgages, but it's a bit more complicated than that.

Because they are committed to mortgages, and because it is considered socially desirable to keep money flowing into housing, thrift institutions have traditionally been permitted to offer savers a higher rate than commercial banks.

But now that rate advantage has been reduced to just onequarter of one per cent. Commercial banks now can offer 5 per cent on passbook savings, the thrift institutions 5.25 per cent, a very narrow advantage.

The more serious regulatory change, however, was in permitting lending institutions to offer a so-called wild card certificate, a savings device on which there is no rate limit on funds left on account for four years.

This permitted commercial banks

still another advantage. Since they are allowed to charge more on the money they lend to business, they understandably can offer more on wild card savings. Thrift institutions, being limited to making relatively low-cost mortgage loans, cannot compete.

In August alone about $1.2 billion poured out of savings and loan associations and another $300 million from mutual savings banks. And unless rate competition eases, hundreds of millions more will spill away.

Says Norman Strunk, executive vice president of the U.S. Savings and Loan League:

"The only way savings associations could boost savings rates substantially over a short period would be to require that new borrowers pay unconscionably high loan rates, which in itself would bring residential construction to a halt.

The flow isn't headed only to commercial banks. Many withdrawals are going into other areas where yields are higher. U.S. Treasury and federal agency securities, for example, offer up to 10 per cent.

Neither are thrift institutions the only ones being hurt. Insurance companies are finding customers borrowing the cash value of their policies, at rates limited by law to 5 and 6 per cent, and reinvesting the money elsewhere.

This practice also deprives the housing market, especially that for multifamily buildings because insurers simply have less money to lend.

"Apartment lenders are issuing no new mortgage commitments for 1973 or early 1974 payout," notes Advance Mortgage Corp. It adds that insurance companies are again seeking a piece of the action, a percentage of the builder's profits, in addition to interest on the loan.

The impact on housing is reflected in this estimate of future starts by the National Association of Homebuilders: fourth quarter 1973, 1.7 million; first quarter 1974, 1.6 million; second quarter, 1.5 million. By comparison, the number of starts for the past two years was between 2.25 million and 2.5 million.

Meanwhile, prices continue to rise, leaving no easy solution for the couple contemplating a purchase.

Answers To Questions About Social Security

(Q) I have already made over $10,800 this year. Now that I've changed jobs, I'm still contributing to social security. Since I'll end up paying more than I should, can't I get some money back?

(A) Yes. You'll get a refund after you file your Federal income tax return for 1973. The tax return is designed to show any overpayment of social security taxes during the previous year.

(Q) I'm attending beauty school and get monthly social security student payments on my father's earnings record. I work part time as a babysitter, and a friend tells me these earnings count for social security. Is this true?

(A) Yes it is if the same person pays you $50 or more in cash wages in any calendar quarter (January-March, April-June, July-September, October-December). As little as $3.85 weekly from the same employer can amount to $50 by the end of the 13 weeks in a calendar quarter. The law requires your employer to report your wages if they amount to $50 or more per quarter and send the social security contributions to the Internal Revenue Service. Only cash wages count — not room and board or other kinds of payments.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Answers And Advice

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "Empty Arms" moved me. (She was the mother who gave up her illegitimate child for adoption, and wondered if the ache would ever go away.)

My husband and I were childless until some incredibly kind and unselfish mother gave up her newborn baby, who an agency placed in our home. My husband and I are bursting with joy, and plan to raise this beautiful little girl in a home filled with love and happiness. When she starts to ask questions, I shall tell her about her wonderful, generous "other mother" who loved her so much she gave her up.

I only wish I could tell our "other mother" that I would have given anything in the world to have shared her burden during the pregnancy and the birth, and how eternally grateful I am for her enormous sacrifice.

Abby, please tell "Empty Arms" that, anonymously though she is, I love her with all my heart, and pray that her arms, like mine, will soon be overflowing.

OVERFLOWING

DEAR ABBY: I, too, had "Empty Arms" when I gave up my fatherless child 13 years ago. But every year the ache grows more bearable.

I was only 16 then. But I kept my self-respect, went back to school, and worked my way through college as a waitress.

I am now married to a prominent man in public life, and we have a wonderful family of our own. (Yes, he knew all about me, and it made no difference.) Every year on my first-born's birthday I suffer just a little, but I have no regrets because, in my heart, I know I made the right decision. Time heals. And so does love.

BEEN THERE

DEAR ABBY: That "Empty Arms" letter hit me right between the eyes. How I envy her courage and good sense.

(Q) I recently read about a new Federal payment program for the aged, blind, and disabled. I know the program doesn't start for a while yet, but I heard that social security offices are now taking applications. Can you tell me who should apply now?

(A) The new supplemental security income payments will begin next January. The only people who should apply now are people 65 and over, or blind, or disabled who are not now getting State or local assistance payments and who believe they may be eligible for the new Federal payments. For information, contact any social security office.

(Q) I'm 63 now and my ex-husband and I had been married 23 years before we were divorced. But I couldn't get any social security payments on his work record when he died 2 years ago because I hadn't been receiving any support payments from him. Has there been a change in this requirement?

(A) Yes. The support requirement was eliminated. As long as your marriage lasted 20 years and your husband had worked long enough under social security, you are eligible for benefits. You should contact any social security office to apply for benefits.

When I was young and foolish, I thought I was in love and gave myself to a man who skipped town as soon as I told him I was pregnant.

In those days only the rich could afford abortions, so I had to bear a child I didn't want. I felt my baby would be better off if I gave him to a couple who really wanted a child, but my mother talked me out of it. She said God would punish me for giving up my own flesh and blood.

I had to work two jobs to make ends meet, so my mother, who was a widow, raised my son. He didn't turn out good. In fact, he's serving time right now for armed robbery, but it's not all his fault. He never had a father's love and guidance.

I want to congratulate "empty Arms" for doing what she did. I'm sorry I didn't give my son a better break in life.

TOO LATE

DEAR ABBY: Tell "Empty Arms" for me that she can get over the ache of having given up her child, but it will take a lot of self-discipline.

I could have written that letter myself 15 years ago, and I confess, I read it through teardimmed eyes. For the first few years, on "his" birthday I used to get smashed. Then with the help of my local Mental Health Clinic (which charged me only what I could afford to pay—and that wasn't much) I learned to forgive myself. I had a lot of growing up to do. But thank God, I made it, and "Empty Arms" can make it too, if she tries. God bless her!

ME, TOO

Recreation Tax Break Postponed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An impasse over discrimination caused the legislature to postpone until next year an attempt to give the owners of Ohio recreational lands a break on their property taxes.

Sen. William H. Mussey, R-14 Batavia prime sponsor of a constitutional amendment that was to appear on the November ballot, said deliberations will resume when the legislature reconvenes in January.

He had hoped to get the proposal before voters this fall along with a similar resolution that would empower the legislature to extend similar tax relief to Ohio farmers. The latter will appear on the ballot as Issue No. 1.

Mussey's resolution cleared the Senate, 27-5, last June and later received a vote of 77-12 in the House, but not until the lower chamber added an amendment that would place into the constitution a restriction with regards to discrimination.

However, the Senate rejected the House amendment and the proposal went to a joint conference committee which failed to reach an agreement before the legislature adjourned Aug. 28. Mussey said he will seek a compromise in the committee so that his proposal can be placed on next May's primary ballot.

The amendment would prohibit the legislature from providing any property tax relief for the owners of property who discriminate as to its use on the basis of race, creed, sex, religion, or national origin.

Mussey and other senators objected. They said that while they were sympathetic with the intent of the House amendment, they did not believe it was appropriate.

"We felt that this did not belong in the constitution, and could be taken care of in the implementation," Mussey said.

"I researched the constitution line for line, and could not find a single other place where such language was used with regard to taxation."

Mussey said it would create problems because "there are boys camps, girls camps, and other recreational facilities operated by religious groups. It just wouldn't be workable."

The Batavia Republican's proposal, like the one involving farm property, would allow the legislature to provide that recreational lands be taxed on the basis of their current use rather than their current value.

Suburban housing and industrial development have sent property tax assessments soaring in many areas, putting farmers and others relying on their land for agricultural income in a bind to meet their higher taxes. The constitution presently requires that property taxes be based solely upon current market value.

News Of Interest To Women

6 The Circleville Herald, Wednesday September 19, 1973

MR. AND MRS. DARWIN E. SMITH

Miss Constance G. Flowers Bride Of Darwin E. Smith

Calvary United Methodist Church in Circleville was the setting for the wedding of Miss Constance G. Flowers and Mr. Darwin E. Smith, 4 p.m. Aug. 25th, with the Rev. Roy Osborn performing the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis A. Flowers, 138 Walnut St. and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith, Tarlton.

The church was decorated with altar vases and standing vases of white gladioli and pink carnations, two seven-branch candelabra decorated with garlands of spengeri and pink carnations. White satin bows marking the pews were centered with pink carnations and spengeri. A program of music preceding the ceremony was played by organist, Miss Nanissa Anderson.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She selected for her wedding a floor length gown of organza and Venice lace fashioned with a fitted bodice, high neckline with ruffle collar and long fitted sleeves with ruffled cuffs. The A-line skirt fell from the empire waistline with lace motifs over both the bodice and skirt and lace edging the hemline.

The bride's silk illusion mantilla was edged in matching Venice lace and held with a pillbox bridal bonnet. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink sweetheart roses, purple statice and baby's breath with a shower of satin peccot ribbon.

Maid of honor, Miss Barbara Souders wore a lavender floor length dress with white flocking. The gown was enhanced with ruffles around the V-shaped neckline. She wore a white picture hat trimmed with lavender lace, bow and streamers. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink sweetheart roses accented with ming fern and satin peccot ribbon.

Bridesmaid, Miss Joy Spradlin, was dressed as the honor attendant and carried a matching bouquet.

Miss Becky Featherston of Columbus and Miss Melissa Bosch of Lancaster, cousins of the bride, were flower girls. They carried white straw baskets with petals of pink roses.

Ring bearer was Master Keith Featherston of Columbus. He carried a satin pillow with lace and ribbons holding the rings.

SERVE CHEESE FOR DESSERT

For dessert tonight or sometime soon, break that sweet, high calorie, low nutrition habit. Serve your family something delightfully different — a platter of cheese and fresh fruit. This may be as simple or as elaborate as you choose. We have many types of cheese on sale during our Wisconsin Cheese Festival, and our Top Fresh Produce Department is full of delicious fall fruit. If you haven't tried serving cheese for dessert, you might start with the following: Gouda — mild, nut like flavor, creamy yellow inside; Brick — mild to sharp flavor, creamy yellow interior; Colby — mellow flavor, firm, soft, open texture. Generally, three types of cheese is a sufficient number for a dessert tray. To compliment the flavor of the cheese, serve clusters of delicious green grapes, wedges of crisp, tart Jonathan apples and slices of juicy pears. Crackers or salted nuts might be added for additional flavor variety. To complete your dessert, adults may desire a light dessert wine, while children will enjoy the tanginess of cider to accompany this tasty and nutritious ending to their meal.

SERVE CHEESE FOR DESSERT

For dessert tonight or sometime soon, break that sweet, high calorie, low nutrition habit. Serve your family something delightfully different — a platter of cheese and fresh fruit. This may be as simple or as elaborate as you choose. We have many types of cheese on sale during our Wisconsin Cheese Festival, and our Top Fresh Produce Department is full of delicious fall fruit. If you haven't tried serving cheese for dessert, you might start with the following: Gouda — mild, nut like flavor, creamy yellow inside; Brick — mild to sharp flavor, creamy yellow interior; Colby — mellow flavor, firm, soft, open texture. Generally, three types of cheese is a sufficient number for a dessert tray. To compliment the flavor of the cheese, serve clusters of delicious green grapes, wedges of crisp, tart Jonathan apples and slices of juicy pears. Crackers or salted nuts might be added for additional flavor variety. To complete your dessert, adults may desire a light dessert wine, while children will enjoy the tanginess of cider to accompany this tasty and nutritious ending to their meal.

Air Force Told To Rehire Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Service Commission ruled Tuesday that the Air Force acted improperly in firing A. Ernest Fitzgerald three years ago and ordered him reinstated with back pay.

Fitzgerald, a former Air Force management analyst, had contended he was fired in retaliation for disclosing cost overruns on the C5A aircraft project in testimony before Congress.

Herman D. Staiman, chief of the Civil Service Commission's field examining office, did not uphold Fitzgerald's reasoning. But he found that Fitzgerald's dismissal was for "other purely personal reasons" and therefore was contrary to regulations providing for reductions in force.

Fitzgerald was fired from his $28,900-a-year post as deputy for management systems on Jan. 5, 1970, and was told it was because of an overall reduction in force.

Lieutenant Governorship Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Many Democrats who would like to make up the party's 1974 state ticket would like to see former astronaut John Glenn Jr. change his mind about running for lieutenant governor.

It isn't likely, unless someone can change what seems to be a completely made-up mind. Glenn wants to make another bid for U. S. Senate and says at this point he is interested in nothing else.

Gov. John J. Gilligan is known to be looking over other prospects to share the ticket with him next year. He and the lieutenant governor candidate will run separately, but Gilligan is sure to have a lot to say about the No. 2 candidate so the party will have a team in spirit if not in law.

Leaders of the Democratic-controlled Ohio House would seem a likely place for the governor to turn.

Dental Hygiene

Course Saved

By Contributor

OGDENSBURG, N.Y. (AP) — The 3,200 public school students here are learning how to care for their teeth because of an unknown woman's penchant for dental hygiene.

The full-time dental hygiene course was among the first programs to get the ax from the Greater Ogdensburg City School District Board of Education when the district was feeling a financial crunch.

The decision disturbed one city woman who wants to remain anonymous. She called Supt. John Karan to defend the students' need for dental hygiene instruction.

Monday night, the school board agreed to accept the woman's gift of $34,260 to retain the three dental hygiene teachers and reinstate the program.

More Large Banks

Boost Interest Rate

NEW YORK (AP) — Several more large banks have raised their prime interest rate to the record-high level of 10 per cent.

The increases from 9½ were announced Monday despite a government request for supporting data from two other major banks that began the current round of prime rate hikes.

and at least one leader makes no secret he is ready to accept the nod. Rep. Richard F. Celeste, D-5 Cleveland, the House majority whip, is reportedly deeply interested in making a bid for lieutenant governor, but would like to get the nod either overtly or covertly from Gilligan, close associates say.

Celeste carried the ball in several key legislative programs for the governor in the 1973 session, and had a hand in producing a House-Senate compromise in a successful code of ethics bill which Gilligan called his No. 1 legislative priority.

Celeste, a second-term representative, impressed some political observers with his vote-getting ability in the 5th District of crucial Cuyahoga County where he polled 60 per cent of the votes in 1972. He overcame a 52-48 per cent Republican district registration edge.

Senate Democratic Leader Anthony O. Calabrese, D-22, Cleveland, was the party's candidate for lieutenant governor in 1970. He ran well against long-time GOP incumbent, Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, Brown won by only 155,186 votes out of 2,954,488 cast.

However, Gilligan and Calabrese, a tough political fighter and strong party voice for many years, have basic difference in style as well as philosophy. Their legislative differences in recent months seem only to have broadened the gap.

Meanwhile, Celeste — and no doubt others — are awaiting some word on Gilligan's preference. Friends describe the 35-year-old Celeste as "a party man," and say he will go along with the governor's choice. He reportedly would make the race for secretary of state if the No. 2 spot isn't open to him.

Seek Public Vote Cash

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new drive for public financing of federal election campaigns was launched today at hearings before the Senate elections subcommittee.

"Watergate is only the latest demonstration of the long overdue need to cleanse elections of the corrupting curse of huge private campaign contributions," said Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., spokesman for a bipartisan group of senators seeking such legislation.

"The only way to clean up the political process ... is to provide substantial financial support for elections from public funds," he said.

Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, in prepared testimony for the subcommittee, called public financing "our last best hope to restore full confidence in public officials and government."

The subcommittee's four days of hearings are expected to boost support for public financing of presidential and congressional campaigns, although the passage of such a bill this year is regarded as unlikely.

Watergate Panel

To Hear Hunt

On Resumption

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate committee announced Tuesday it will resume public hearings on Monday with the testimony of Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt, then question three other witnesses as part of the political sabotage phase of its probe.

Chairman Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., said the panel will hear from Hunt, then White House secret agent John J. Caulfield, presidential speech writer Patrick J. Pat Buchanan, and a man identified as John Ragan.

Ervin also said the panel will meet in executive session Wednesday with former special presidential counsel Charles W. Colson to determine whether Colson be called as a witness.

Colson was tentatively stricken from the witness list last week after his lawyer reportedly told the committee that Colson expected to be indicted in connection with the Ellsberg burglary. It also has been reported that Colson has indicated he would take the Fifth Amendment and refuse to testify if he were not given immunity.

Cincy Agency Faces

License Revocation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Commerce officials say they have moved to revoke the license of a private Cincinnati employment agency.

The department said the Employers Service Bureau has been charged with five violations of Ohio licensing law. The firm has 30 days to ask for a hearing on the proposed license revocation.

Come see the '74 Oldsmobiles.

"But dad, all you said was that Cutlass Salon had reclining seats. You didn't say it came in a new coupe, too."

Last year Cutlass Salon was a new kind of American car—a sedan built for its roadability.

This year there's a Salon two-door

coupe. Like the sedan, it has a new, lower steering ratio for quicker response. Steel-belted radial tires to grip the road. Special suspension for tight cornering.

"Look Walter! Now we can get an air conditioner that filters smells."

Not only does Tempmatic regulate temperature inside your car to a preset level, it also charcoal filters the air. The filter acts to reduce many offensive odors from the air entering the car. It's available on all full-size Oldsmobiles.

The '74 Delta 88 coupe has a brand new roofline. Hydraulic bumper systems, front and rear. And underneath—a suspension system that's as tough as ever.

Olds Delta 88. It's really put together. More than just another pretty car.

"Hey! I didn't know we could get these new little windows in the Toronado."

Order a Toronado with an opera roof and you get opera windows and a padded canopy of oxen-grain vinyl. You can also order a new interior with rich velour upholstery, a high-energy ignition system, and True-Track braking.

The 1974 Toronado has a new instrument panel with a message center that lights up to warn you when certain things such as your gas, oil pressure, seat belts, etc., require your attention; there's even an exceptionally accurate digital clock, with quartz-crystal controlled movement.

Front-wheel-drive Toronado. Engineering can be beautiful.

Engineers Nix

Canal Proposal

BUFFALO (AP) — The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has announced that an All-American Canal connecting Lakes Erie and Ontario is not economically justified.

In the report released Monday, the Buffalo district office of the Corps said that some major waterway improvement was needed in the Great Lakes area either in the form of a new waterway or major structural improvements to the Welland Canal in Ontario, Canada.

"A decision must be made by 1980, assuming maximum funding support, to prevent constraint of waterborne traffic by 1990," the report said.

U.S. Review Of Kent Incident Seen

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— The Plain Dealer said today the U.S. Department of Justice will review for the first time secret testimony given the special Ohio grand jury which investigated the May 4, 1970 incident at Kent State University.

A Justice Department source was quoted as saying there is an apparent difference between testimony of some witnesses and the final report written by the state grand jury.

The Plain Dealer quoted Ohio Atty. Gen. William Brown that if his department is asked to make grand jury testimony available to the justice department that request will be reviewed to see "whether they have authority to see the testimony."

That testimony includes statements from a score or more Ohio national guardsmen who were involved in the May 4 incident in which four Kent State students were shot to death and nine others wounded.

The state grand jury report, which later was quashed by a federal court order, blamed students and faculty members for antiwar protests which resulted in the bloody confrontation between demonstrators and guardsmen.

The grand jury exonerated the guardsmen of responsibility for the slayings.

Marathon Boosts Gas Price To Station Owners

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—Gas costs Marathon Oil Co. filling station owners in the Midwest one penny a gallon more today.

A Marathon spokesman said Tuesday the price hike would go into effect at midnight. Affected are about 3,800 retail outlets in Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky.

The increase covered all grades of gasoline, but did not effect Marathon heating oil, the spokesman said.

"Under Phase 4, The Cost of Living Council has allowed us to pass along increased costs of domestic and foreign crude oil," he explained.

Dealers aren't so lucky. Economic controls prohibit them from passing the increased cost along to motorists at the gas pumps.

Police Investigate Canton Bar Explosion

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Police say they have recovered parts of an explosive device and several gas-filled plastic bags from a Canton bar where an explosion Monday caused $2,000 to $3,000 damage.

The blast occurred early in the morning at the Three Deuces Bar. Canton detectives said no one was injured.

illustrated by a flood of wedding presents, a spate of souvenir booklets, an emergent industry of engraved china tea mugs and reports of becoming color television rentals.

But some strident notes have brought a discord to the wedding march — mainly created by well-meaning admirers of the princess.

The house the young couple will call home, the cruise they'll call their honeymoon and one of their biggest wedding gifts have all come in for heavy criticism.

It's a far cry from the public goodwill that presaged the Nov. 20, 1947, wedding of Anne's mother, then Princess Elizabeth, to navy Lt. Philip Mountbatten, now Prince Philip.

Britain had then just emerged from an exhausting World War and the royal festivities were a glittering excuse to forget for a while the rigors of austerity. Food was rationed but fancy was free as the young couple approached their big day.

Now, in a richer, brighter Britain the biggest newspaper stories so far have centered on attacks against some marriage sidelines.

Capt. Phillips, 25, will work as an instructor at Sandhurst Military Academy and the royal couple will live in a five-bedroom Georgian mansion nestling between trees there. They will pay the defense ministry 8 pounds—$19.20—a week for the house.

Hay Run Watershed Project Progresses

Eleven landowners interested in the present drainage problems of the Hay Run Ditch project, located in western Pickaway County, met Sept. 5, at the Atlanta United Methodist Church.

Don Archer, manager of the Pickaway County ASCS office, presented the plans which had first been developed in 1965. During the evening's discussion, variations to the original plans were presented and discussed. Harry Wolfe, a New Holland contractor, was present to help answer questions. Other contractors have also been invited to present bids on the proposed project.

Mrs. M. A. Greenwood of Williamsport was elected chairman of the group. George Skinner of Clarksburg and J. C. Roberts of New Holland were elected secretary and treasurer respectively.

John Skinner and Harry Morris of Williamsport were appointed to contact Henry McCrady, County Engineer, with regard to necessary bridge dredging. The entire purpose of the proposed project is to improve crop

'Divorce Sale'

Success In More Ways Than One

CHESTERLAND, Ohio (AP)—When Mr. and Mrs. George Najar decided to untie the knot, it was a good time to clear out the garageful of junk they'd collected in eight years of marriage.

They erected a sign announcing, "Divorce Sale," and put ads in the local newspapers.

After two weeks of sales, the garage is starting to clear up. And that's not all.

"We've found we can work together on something and communicate with each other," Mrs. Najar said. So they've decided to postpone the divorce.

Is It A Bird?
Is It A Plane?

WASHINGTON (AP) — From out of the past, shouldering through city traffic jams, comes the latest heavyweight hope for getting America moving again.

It's "Superbus," so-called officially as the hero of a new government transportation project. But veterans of the commuter crush know it better as the double-decker.

Now it's tentatively toing the comeback trail after retirement forced in the mid-1950s by those who said it was too costly to run, the National Geographic Society reports.

The idea is that these "high capacity" buses may help ease rush hour overcrowding by providing a seat for every passenger. And some point out that double-deckers are two buses in the space of one.

Train Derailed In Union Station

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An estimated 18 to 20 cars of an eastbound Penn Central freight train ran off the rails Tuesday at Union Station, fire officials reported.

A battalion chief said firefighters laid hose and stood by with foam in case a tank car filled with a flammable gasoline additive ignited.

Fire officials said a viaduct over the tracks collapsed on the derailed cars. Power lines and water mains were reported broken.

No injuries were reported.

land drainage which would result in more efficient use of the farm lands in the area.

Fourteen interested landowners were present for the second meeting Sept. 12. Don Archer and Tom Mountain were also present from the Federal ASCS office. George Skinner, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved as read. Bid prices from contractors were discussed, and it was decided to advertise for bids which will be opened at the next meeting Sept. 26, at 7:30 at the Atlanta Church.

Costs to each individual landowner were discussed. George McGhee of Williamsport proposed that a published list of each person's percentage and costs in the project be made open to all interested parties. John Skinner seconded the motion, which carried unanimously.

Don Archer was asked to present the entire revised project. John Skinner and Harry Morris reported on their meeting with Henry McCrady, the county engineer, with favorable results.

J. C. Roberts, Harry Morris, John Skinner, George Skinner, George McGhee, John Day, James Hamman and Don Archer met at 8:30 the next morning with Joe Rooney of Circleville, a state highway representative, to discuss problems with state highway bridges located in the project.

George McGhee proposed that the group share equally the cost of tile openings on each open-ditch property owner, and the motion was carried unanimously. It was agreed that there should be 24-foot outlets used from each tile opening into the ditch.

All concerned landowners are urged to attend the Sept. 26 meeting at the Atlanta United Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m.

Stolen Cross Is Returned

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A 60-year-old bronze cross that was stolen from the high altar of Trinity Episcopal Cathedral near downtown Cleveland has been returned.

Dean Perry Williams of the cathedral said Tuesday a church maintenance man received a telephone call from bar manager James Fabrick saying the cross had been left at his tavern a few blocks away.

Fabrick said a man in the bar Monday afternoon took the 40-pound cross from under the topcoat he was wearing, deposited it in an alcove and walked away.

Williams had promised there would be no prosecution if the cross were returned before the 66th anniversary of the consecration of the cathedral Sunday. The cross disappeared late Saturday when the cathedral was open to the public.

Alleged Art Lover Being Held By Police

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Bruce Howard Riley, 19, who claims he is an art lover, was charged with burglary and assault with a deadly weapon after, police said, he forced a guard to give him a 4 a.m. tour of the Cincinnati Art Museum Tuesday.

Police said Riley forced the guard to give him the tour by brandishing a machete.

McKinley Smith, 55, the guard, was hospitalized later with a possible heart attack, police said.

County Gridders In League Action Friday

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

It will be league grid action for all three county high schools Friday night with Westfall hosting Adena in a Scioto Valley tilt, Teays Valley at Olentangy in a Metropolitan League clash and Logan Elm at Canal Winchester in a Mid-State fray.

It will be the first league action for Westfall and Teays Valley while Logan Elm will be looking for its first Mid-State win after suffering a 22-0 setback Friday at the hands of Millersport.

Westfall will be going into the Adena game after a 16-14 win over Madison Plains last week. The Mustangs are now 1-1 for the season.

"The win over Madison Plains was a big one for us as it was a rivalry game and a shot in the arm to our kids," Westfall Coach John Glanton commented.

Adena, a perennial powerhouse in the SVC, will field another strong unit against the Mustangs. Primarily a running team, Adena will operate from the Wishbone T with Bob Garrison, 195-pound fullback, carrying the brunt of the attack. They also have good outside speed in halfback Richie Beverly.

The line is anchored by Phil Houser, 6-foot, 250-pound tackle, who also doubles as middle guard in the 5-2 defense.

The Mustangs will move from various offensive formations with quarterback Dave Shannon directing the attack. The 6-1 and 5-2 defense of Westfall is anchored by linebacker Artie Dick.

Randy Hildenbrand, Mustang end, suffered a rib injury in the Madison Plains game as it is doubtful if he will see any action Friday night.

The offensive unit of the Mustangs will be: Bill Kiser, center; Tim Lett and Tim Hegarty, guards; Walter Garland and Jim Dawson, tackles; Randy Puckett at one end and Eric Schleich and Joe Angles sharing duties at the other; Shannon, quarterback; Dick, fullback; Rick Gaa and Terry Hegarty, halfbacks.

On defense it will be: Tim Hegarty, middle guard; John Long and Dick, linebacks; Dawson and Kiser, tackles; Puckett at one end and Schleich and Angles both seeing duty at the other; Gaa and Shannon, cornerbacks; Dave Bullock and Gary Thompson, halfbacks.

Teays Valley will be going into the Olentangy fray off a big win over the Circleville Tigers last week. The Vikings are now 1-1 for the year.

Olentangy operates from the triple option out of the Houston series with a balanced running and passing attack. The Braves have a fine quarterback in Mike Rannebarger who can run and throw. They have good size with better than average speed. A pair of 230-pound tackles make the Braves' line quite formidable.

Mike Pettibone, Viking fullback, suffered an arm injury in the Circleville game and is questionable for Friday night. If he is unable to play, the fullback duties will be shared by Bill Breon and Don Burgoon. Outside of some bumps and bruises, the rest of the Viking squad is healthy.

Teays Valley will move from a power I with split end, featuring off tackle slants, sweeps, the always dangerous Viking trap and the passing of Chuck Glitt.

Offensively the Vikings will start: Lance Henson and Boyd Palsgrove at the ends; Lee Stiles and Dennis Stir, tackles; Bill Hurley and Keith Pettibone, guards; Karl Snyder at center; Glitt, quarterback; Breon or Burgoon, fullback; Steve Williams, halfback;

Terry Lambert, tailback.

The defensive unit will be: Henson and Keith Pettibone, ends; Brad Black and Steve Gray, tackles; Hurley, middle guard; Breon and Mike Reed, linebacks; Tony Sayre and Bob Weber, invert backs; Lambert and Glitt, safeties.

Canal Winchester is undefeated, owning wins over Bexley and Lancaster Fisher.

LE coach Bob Stant had a chance to personally scout the Indians against Fisher last Saturday.

"They run from a full house T or wing T, have good size and are quick," he reports. Primarily a power team, they pass only when necessary he said.

"To beat them we must stop the run and this has been the weakest point in our defense," Coach Stant said.

"We are making some adjustments in our personnel on defense. Right now the only starters we are sure of are Steve Rawlins and Brian Barr at ends, Terry Crumley, Brad Luckhart and Steve Sargent in the secondary," the coach announced. The shakeup will come in the interior line and the linebacking corps.

On offense Brad Luckhart will start at split end, Jeff Reichelderfer at tight end, Seth Driesbach and Marty Fullen at tackles, Stewart Jones and Brian Herron at guards, Chris Payne at center. Steve Sargent will be calling the signals again. Dan Ramey will start at fullback, Wayne Lintchum at I back and Steve Rawlins or Crumley at halfback.

Barr was named defensive player of the week against Millersport and Dan Ramey the offensive player of the week by the Logan Elm coaching staff.

Aaron's Biggest Handicap Is Mystique of Babe Ruth

NEW YORK (AP) — Babe Ruth didn't need as much time as Henry Aaron to hit his 714 home runs, baseball traditionalists will argue.

That's true, the younger fans will admit—but Ruth didn't have to put up with some of the travail that Aaron has had to face in his career, like coast-to-coast travel and night games.

Perhaps the biggest handicap Aaron has had to overcome is the memory and mystique of Ruth. What it comes down to is that it's easy to set a record when nobody's done it before. But to break one, especially one set by a legend, is a different matter entirely.

Roger Maris discovered that 12 years ago en route to breaking the Babe's one-season record of 60 homers. Aaron, with 711 home runs, is discovering the same thing now. Threaten a legend and your whole world is shaken.

Consider, for a moment, the "records" Ruth was pursuing when he began busting fences. When his major league career was beginning as a pitcher with the Boston Red Sox, the modern-era (post-1900) record for homers in a season was 24, set in 1915 by Gavvy Cravath of the Philadelphia Phillies. Cravath, whose 13-year career with the Red Sox, Chicago White Sox, Washington Senators and Phils ended in 1920, also owned the modern-era lifetime homer record with 119.

For purists, the pre-Ruth alltime career homer record was Roger Connor's 131 in an 18-year career that ended in 1897 and the single-season mark was Ned Williamson's 27 with the 1884 Chicago Cubs.

What it all means is that, back then, nobody made a big deal about records. There was no pressure on Ruth when he hit 29 homers with the Red Sox in 1919 and none when he hit his 132nd with the New York Yankees two years later, when he finished the season with 59, the record he himself broke six years after that in 1927.

Aaron, completing his 20th season in the majors, has remained silent when the comparisons with Ruth are flung at him. And, remarkably, he has shown no visible signs of reacting to the intense pressure, the flood of hate mail he has received and the downgrading by those who view him as a threat to the sanctity of the legend.

Ruth played for 22 years before retiring in 1935—but (and this is what a lot of his supporters will loudly proclaim) he batted only 8,399 times in that span. And in 11 of those years, he was a part-time pitcher, which conceivably cut down a bit on his at-bats.

Through Tuesday night, Aaron had batted 11,264 times. That's 2,865 times more than Ruth, the Bambino's supporters brag. And, they add pointedly, the Babe had a career batting average of .342 while Aaron's is .311.

other American League hurler to accomplish the feat was Bender, in 1910-1911.

Ironically, both Grove and Bender pitched for the A's...when the team was in Philadelphia.

Hunter reached the 20-victory mark for the third straight season Tuesday night as the A's edged the California Angels 5-4 and maintained their 7½-game lead over Kansas City in the AL West race.

In other AL games Tuesday night, Baltimore downed Detroit 6-2, Kansas City defeated Minnesota 4-3, Boston topped New York 4-2, Cleveland overcame Milwaukee 6-5, and Texas beat Chicago 7-2.

Orioles 6, Tigers 2

The Orioles moved closer toward clinching their fourth East title in the past five years—they finished third last year—beating the Tigers 6-2, and reducing their "magic number" to five over runner-up Boston.

Royals 4, Twins 3

Kurt Bevacqua drove in two runs with a triple and a sacrifice fly, and scored another, pacing Kansas City's 4-3 decision over Minnesota. Amos Otis smashed his 26th homer of the season for the Royals, giving him 278 total bases for the year, a club record.

Red Sox 4, Yankees 2

Bill Lee hurled a seven-hitter against the Yankees for his 17th triumph, and became Boston's biggest left-handed winner since Mel Parnell won 21 games in 1953. Homers by Reggie Smith, his 19th, and Cecil Cooper, his second, backed Lee's pitching in the Red Sox' 4-2 victory.

Indians 6, Brewers 5

Pitcñ hitter Johnny Ellis, the first batter to face reliever Chris Short in the bottom of the ninth, slammed a two-run homer, lifting Cleveland to a 6-5 victory over Milwaukee and thwarting Jim Colborn's bid to become the first 20-game winner in the Brewers' brief history.

Rangers 7, White Sox 2

Jim Spencer's two-run homer and Jeff Burroughs' 27th homer of the season supported rookie Jim Bibby's five-hit pitching and helped Texas beat Chicago 7-2.

Aces Lose Rod Brobst For Season

Amanda-Clearcreek's football hopes suffered a setback when Rod Brobst, senior defensive end and offensive tackle, underwent knee surgery Monday in Doctor's West Hospital, Columbus, and will be lost for the season.

He was injured in the game against Fairfield Union Friday night. Doug Starner, a very promising sophomore, broke a finger in the game and will be out of action for approximately four weeks.

"Rod's loss is a severe blow to us as he was one of the building blocks of the 1973 team," Amanda-Clearcreek Coach Jim Flanagan stated. "It will not seem the same without him in an 'Aces' uniform and we hope that he knits properly.

"Although we are hurt physically and face Mid-State champion Berne Union Friday night, we are undaunted and I wouldn't trade this group of young men for a $1,000,000," Flanagan commented.

Kuntz Loft Wins Pigeon Race

The Circleville Pigeon Club held its second 150-mile race from Lexington, Ky., with the Homer Kuntz Loft taking first place with a speed of 1098.257 yards per minute.

Kuntz also captured fourth place with 1081.528 YPMs and won special and loft derbies. Stan Crosby Loft took second and third with speeds of 1084.553 and 1082.876 YPMs and won the bird derby.

Stage Set For Showdown Between King and Riggs

HOUSTON (AP) — The $100,000 winner-take-all tennis showdown between Billie Jean King and Bobby Riggs in the Astrodome will be like no other tennis extravaganza ever held. Promoter Jerry Perenchio has seen to that.

"It's certainly going to be more fun than Watergate," Perenchio said of the internationally televised battle of the sexes that has been tagged "The Match of the Century."

To be sure, the match has captured the fancy of the nation and will have a wider audience than the Watergate hearings. It'll be beamed into 40 countries and be shown nationally by ABC.

The scene surrounding courtside for Thursday night's match on the floor of the Astrodome will look more like a college football rivalry than a tennis match.

"We're going to have a cheering section for both of them," Perenchio said. "Bobby will have 'Bobby's Boosters' and Billie Jean will have about 100 women players on her side. We're going to try to have some fun with this thing."

Five-time Wimbledon champion Billie Jean has played all over the world. Riggs, who won the 1939 Wimbledon title, has played in some pretty bizzare matches.

But it's unlikely either has ever played to the accompaniment of an entire marching band.

Adding to the noisy throng, expected to reach 40,000, will be the University of Houston marching band.

"When something like this catches on, it just runs its own course," Perenchio said. "It's helped take the people's mind off Watergate and inflation. They needed something to laugh about."

Both Riggs and Mrs. King apparently will be laughing all the way to the bank regardless of who wins.

Although billed as a winner-take-all match, the loser may net as much as $100,000, Perenchio said.

Perenchio is a partner with Riggs in all of his side promotions such as tennis endorsements and commercials.

"We've done about $800,000 so far," Perenchio said. "If he doesn't win they'll say Bobby who? If he wins, we could run it up to $2.5 million."

"He's got people standing in line to buy buttons for $3 that say 'I was hustled by Bobby Riggs,'" Perenchio said.

After winning her first two matches in a women's tournament on Monday, Mrs. King went into semi-seclusion to prepare for the match, leaving Riggs and Perenchio to the promoting.

Riggs continued to work out in a huge plastic covered bubble on the Astrodome parking lot and take on all comers.

OSU Players Lead Nation In Offense

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Archie Griffin leads the nation in two categories and teammate Neal Colzie is on top in another department after the first big week of college football, the NCAA announced today.

Griffin, a sophomore tailback from Columbus, is No. 1 in all-purpose running with a 249.0-yard average and leads in kickoff returns with an average of 60.0 yards.

Colzie, a defensive back from Coral Gables, Fla., is atop the punt returns with an average of 26.3 yards.

Ohio State fullback Harold Henson, who scored three touchdowns in the opening 56-7 romp over Minnesota Saturday, is tied for second nationally in scoring with 18 points. Fred Solomon of Tampa leads with a 20-point average.

Henson led the nation in touchdowns in 1972 with 20, an all-time Ohio State record.

Miami also is No. 1 in two team categories. The Mid-American member paces the nation in total defense with a yield of 72 yards a game and is tied for the lead in scoring defense with six other schools. The leaders haven't given up a point.

Gene Swick, Toledo's quarterback, is second in total offense with a 287.0-yard average and No. 3 in passing with 17.0 completions per contest

Trumbull School Levies Defeated

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Trumbull County voters have rejected for the fifth time a levy to build a joint vocational school.

The levy, which would have provided local funds to match a $5.3 million state grant, was defeated by a vote of 7,477 to 6,831 in Tuesday's special election.

In another special election in Trumbull County, Brookfield Township voters rejected a 4.5 mill school operating levy by a vote of 768 to 715. Brookfield school officials say that issue will be on the ballot again in November.

Ohio Plant Struck

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP) — A dispute with management over the payment of union dues has resulted in a walkout by about 180 employees of the USCO Division of the Uniroyal Corp., a company spokesman said.

Representatives of Local 777 of the United Textile Workers Union would comment on the matter.

Air Force Names Top Enlisted Man

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has chosen CM. Sgt. Thomas N. Barnes as its top enlisted man. A spokesman said it was the first time any of the military services have selected a black for the highest-ranking enlisted position.

Barnes, 43, is a native of Chester, Pa. He is now serving as senior enlisted adviser at Randolph Air Force Base, Tex.

In his new job as chief master sergeant of the Air Force, Barnes will advise Air Force Secretary John L. McLucas and Air Force Chief of Staff George S. Brown on enlisted matters.

Senate Panel OKs Kissinger Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee Tuesday approved the nomination of Henry A. Kissinger to be secretary of state.

The committee voted 16 to 1 to recommend Senate confirmation of President Nixon's choice to succeed William P. Rogers.

Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., said he voted against Kissinger as a symbolic protest against prolongation of the Vietnam war.

Kissinger, German-born former Harvard professor, is to retain his position as assistant to President Nixon for national security affairs.

Confirmation by the full Senate could come within the week.

The nomination was cleared for a committee vote with a report Monday by a two-member subcommittee that Kissinger's role in national security wiretapping "was not such as to bar him from confirmation by the Senate."

The report was filed by Sens. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J. and John Sparkman, D-Ala., who received an FBI summary of electronic surveillance of 13 government officials and four newsmen between May 1969 and February 1971.

Kissinger told the committee publicly that the telephone taps were recommended by the FBI and the attorney general to determine the source of leaks of national security information, and that he was required to identify individuals who had access to information of the type leaked.

The committee made public a two-paragraph conclusion of the Case-Sparkman report.

The two senators said the fact that the administration made the FBI summary available to them, after first resisting, "is a good omen for the development and continuation of the mutual trust which must exist between the Department of State and the executive branch in general and the Congress if the foreign policy of the nation is to have maximum support of the American people."

Meantime, Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., announced he would vote against confirmation as "symbolic testimony against Kissinger's role in the needless prolongation of the Indochina war, as well as the 1971 tragedy of Bangladesh."

Dedicate World's Biggest Airport

GRAPEVINE, Tex. (AP) — Texas, a big state that likes to do things in a big way, dedicates the world's largest airport Thursday.

The Dallas-Fort Worth Airport is a $700 million venture sprawling over 17,500 acres of North Texas prairie midway between the two cities.

The airport is larger in area than Manhattan Island.

It initially will have 18,500 employees and 81,500 passengers daily — an airport population of 100,000 every day.

When it officially opens for business late next month, it will have 66 gate positions, ultimately 434 for passengers and cargo.

The airport will be completed in three phases. Runways will be 11,400 feet long at first. But plans call for two later runways of 20,000 feet. Planners presume that will take care of anything aircraft designers may come up with in the future.

The airport's 25,000-ton air conditioning system also is the world's biggest, enough to cool three Empire State buildings.

The "world's largest" claim, however, will be lost next year when Montreal completes its Mirabel Airport on 18,000 acres.

The Dallas-Fort Worth Airport dramatizes a new age of cooperation between the two cities, historic rivals.

"There's nothing like being cosigner on a $412 million bond issue to make you friends," says Fort Worth Mayor R. M. Stovall. "It will bring us together economically, environmentally and socially."

The airport was financed through an unusual political and economic alliance that bridged decades of bitter rivalry between the cities.

The land was purchased by the cities, but the construction is being financed through sale of joint revenue bonds.

Airport users will help foot the bill. It will cost 25 cents just to enter the airport property to drop off a friend. A telephone call also will cost a quarter. And there will be a 450-room hotel, restaurants, clubs, shops and other money-eaters to tantatize visitors and air passengers.

A cab ride from either city will cost more than $15. A bus ride is $2.50.

Simply put, the airport is four circular terminals, bisected by a 10-lane highway and bounded by parking space for 20,000 cars.

Being biggest is not what's best about the new airport, according to Tom Sullivan, the man behind the design. His goal was a return to the simplicity of the days when a passenger bought tickets at a single counter, then walked across the sod to his waiting plane.

Sullivan, who designed LaGuardia and Kennedy airports in New York, sees the venture as "taking a giant step forward into the simplicity of the past."

State To Stock Steelhead Trout

By JIM DAUBEL
Written for Associated Press

In the wake of Michigan's success, the State of Ohio is quietly gearing up for a serious effort to populate Lake Erie with steelhead trout.

The Ohio Division of Wildlife is rearing 90,000 rainbow trout of the steelhead strain at its hatchery on Erie's South Bass Island.

They will be released next spring as year-old fingerlings in Lake Erie tributary streams as yet unselected, said Russ Scholl, state fisheries biologist.

The steelhead is a breed of rainbow trout that lives part of its life in rivers, part in open water.

The anadromous species hatch from eggs in coastal freshwater streams then migrate to the sea, later returning to spawn and thereafter repeating the cycle annually for five or six seasons.

Inland steelhead follow essentially the same pattern except the fish live most of the time in large freshwater lakes such as Michigan, Huron and, on a much smaller scale, Erie.

Because they mature in big waters where food is abundant, steelhead grow many times the size of rainbow trout confined to rivers and streams.

In Michigan, where different strains run the rivers to spawn virtually all year but primarily in spring and fall, 10-pound steelhead are not unusual. It takes a fish in excess of 15 pounds to qualify as a trophy.

Considering various biological factors, the steelheads' chances in Lake Erie seem questionable, although Scholl is optimistic.

Scholl said lake-run rainbows "have 10 times more potential than coho," which Ohio has stocked by the thousands since 1968.

Steelheads he noted, are not doomed to a three-year life cycle. Cohos, stocked by Ohio in numbers up to 275,000 a year, live 18 months in the hatchery and another 18 months in Lake Erie before returning to the streams of their release where they spawn and die.

Because Ohio rivers do not support natural reproduction, salmon must be stripped of eggs and sperm and fertilized artificially to perpetuate the species.

The outcome of a major steelhead stocking effort is anybody's guess. It will be several years before the answer becomes clear.

The most capacious cycle in the world was built in 1968 in Switzerland. It seated 28 riders.

Four Circleville Students Named Merit Semifinalists

Paul Sarchet, Principal of Circleville High School announced today that four students have been named Semifinalists in the 1974 National Merit Scholarship Program.

These students are Byron Dean Gulick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron D. Gulick, 355 Sunset Drive, Jack Galen Lauderdale, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Lauderdale, Route 2, Tamara Ann Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller, 570 Wilmar Road and Elizabeth Ann Shollenberger, daughter of Mrs. Nancy Shollenberger, 131 Dunmore Road.

Circleville's four semifinalists will compete for nearly 3,100 merit scholarships to be awarded in the spring. This year marks the eighteenth annual program. To date 34,450 students have won Merit scholarships totaling more than $95.5 million.

The semifinalists were the highest scorers in each state on the Scholastic Aptitude Test—National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test administered last October to over one million students nationwide.

In addition to the money provided by the program, the semifinalists will find their achievement useful in seeking financial aid from other sources.

To become finalists, the semifinalists must receive endorsement of their schools, confirm their scores on a second examination, and provide evidence of their academic and other accomplishments.

Each of the finalists will be considered for one of the 1,000 National Merit $1,000 scholarships. These scholarships will be allocated on a state basis according to the state's percentage of the total U.S. high school graduating class.

Recipients of scholarships will be judged by a committee of experienced college admission officers and secondary school guidance counselors.

Many of the finalists will be considered for renewable four-year Merit Scholarships. Winners of the four-year scholarships may receive as much as $6,000 over the four college years.

Circleville's semifinalists have tentatively chosen fields of study when they enter college next fall. Byron plans to major in Biology with a career as a biological scientist. Jack intends to enter pre-medical school.

The girls have chosen equally challenging fields. Elizabeth is planning a career in law. Tamara has chosen the field of guidance counseling and plans to major in psychology in college.

Edward C. Smith, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation says, and all the Circleville staff agrees, "... they bring honor not only to themselves, but also to their families, their teachers, and their communities."

Say Metzenbaum Choice of Demos

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's big county Democratic chairman have agreed to endorse Howard M. Metzenbaum of Cleveland for the party's nomination to the U.S. Senate in 1974, the Dayton Journal Herald says.

Such an endorsement, the newspaper said, "almost certainly will dash former astronaut John H. Glenn's 1974 Senate ambitions and could finish Glenn as a serious contender for future Democratic office."

The Journal Herald said the decision to endorse Metzenbaum came at an Aug. 28 meeting of chairmen from 11 of the 12 most populous counties at the governor's mansion in Columbus.

Interested agencies and individuals are invited to attend. There will be a discussion period afterwards.

Teacher Education Fight Arises

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Another round in the free-for-all over how Ohio will educate its future teachers is shaping up for next January when the 110th General Assembly reconvenes.

The battleground likely will be Substitute House Bill 193, which would create a teacher education planning commission.

The warriors will be diverse. Three groups stand out:

—Supt. Martin Essex and the state Department of Education and the state Board of Education.

—Ohio Education Association, the teachers' organization.

—Commission on Public School Personnel Policies in Ohio, a privately funded group based in Cleveland.

A major controversy concerns how to give student teachers more actual classroom experience and how much is necessary.

January is more than three months away, but the skirmishing continues. Stephen Stranahan of Toledo, chairman of the Commission on Public School Personnel Policies, recently issued what he called a sharp rejoinder "to recent assurances by the state Board of Education that problems in teacher education are well under control."

Stranahan said, "The state Department of Education does not have the answers. Nor does it have the staff or budget for close surveillance of teacher education in the 53 accredited teacher training institutions in Ohio; for assisting colleges and school districts in coordinating their efforts to provide needed field experience; and for direction of fundamental research in standards for certification.

Then Stranahan, looking ahead to hearings before the House Education Committee, said, "We hope the General Assembly through its appropriate committee will continue to see that teacher education is not brushed under the rug, but given the

WASHINGTON (AP) — E. Howard Hunt Jr., saying illegal acts by "responsible government officials" deprived him of a defense, has asked a federal judge to withdraw his guilty plea in the first Watergate trial and dismiss the charges against him.

Lawyers for Hunt moved Monday in U.S. District Court to dismiss the burglary, conspiracy and wiretapping charges against him on the grounds "the investigation of this case was replete with deliberate obstruction of justice, destruction and withholding of evidence, perjury and subornation of perjury."

Last Friday, four other convicted Watergate defendants asked that their guilty pleas be withdrawn on the grounds that they had been misled by Hunt and "high officials in the executive branch of the government."

The government has until next Monday to respond to the petitions from all five men.

The other four defendants, all natives of Cuba, were Bernard L. Barker, Eugenio R. Martinez, Frank Sturgis and Virgilio R. Gonzalez.

priority attention and action that is so greatly needed."

Essex and John Meckstroth of Cincinnati, president of the state Board of Education, don't think it has been swept under the rug.

Meckstroth said the board already had resolved to make drastic changes in teacher preparations and planned to have sweeping new standards ready within six months.

So, both Essex and Meckstroth actively opposed S.H.B. 198.

The Ohio Education Association, jealous of teacher power, opposed the bill unless the planning commission held a majority of educators. The OEA wouldn't compromise.

Rumors say that OEA might consider a compromise next January, but that might be wishful thinking on the part of the bill's proponents.

It appeared almost certain neither Dr. Essex nor the state Board of Education would yield.

Guards Appeal Firing By State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ten guards fired last month when they refused to report to work at the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility have appealed to the state Personnel Board of Review.

The correctional officers asked the board Aug. 31 to order the Ohio Department of Correction and Rehabilitation to return to their jobs.

The guards were among those who called in sick several days after two colleagues were shot to death at the Lucasville prison.

He's "2" much

HANK AARON's familiar uniform number is 44—but his record is full of 2's. Born in Mobile, he was 20 when he broke into the majors. Now, in his 20th season, he holds or is tied for 20 National League records (plus 12 major league records). He's played in 22 All-Star games and 2 World Series.

He was still only No. 2 in the all-time home run race as of midseason 1973—but well on his way to trading that spot to Babe Ruth!

A Message to Newspaper Carriers from Hank Aaron:

"You've Got To Have Pride!"

Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves is best known right now as the man most likely to succeed Babe Ruth as baseball's greatest home run producer. But he's great in every department—in the field, at the bat, and in his will to win.

What's Aaron's secret of success? Pride. "I take pride in what I'm doing every day I'm out there," he says. "You really have to have it in baseball."

Maybe that's why he admires newspaper carriers. They've got pride, too. Determination to get the job done, to serve their customers dependably and well. They earn good money for it, sure—but most of all, they enjoy the satisfaction that comes from giving their best.

And as for that money they earn, a lot of it goes into savings for the future. Like their parents and other Americans, many of them buy U.S. Savings Bonds regularly, either through Newspaper Carrier Thrift Clubs or at the bank. Some day those Bonds may help them go to college or launch a life's career—and meantime those savings are helping their country now.

Lukens Suit Means Big Job For Ohio Elections Boards

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State election officials, as well as those in all of Ohio's 88 counties, are being asked to supply voluminous information about every election they have conducted in the past 20 years.

The situation stems from a citizens' federal court suit that seeks to place the name of State Sen. Donald E. "Buz" Lukens of Middletown on 1974 Ohio Republican primary ballots. Lukens was disqualified as a candidate for the next five years after he failed to file a 1972 campaign expense statement on time.

The lawsuit by Randall E. Cesco and three other Lukens' constituents claims records from elections in Ohio since Oct. 1, 1953, will show that election laws in Lukens' case were not equally enforced.

They seek to have the laws declared unconstitutional, and to have his name ordered on the Republican gubernatorial ballot.

The suit was filed in district Court at Cincinnati, which sent separate sets of questions to the defendants, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, the chairmen and all the members of the Butler County Board of Elections, and the chairmen of all the other 87 county boards of election.

They were given 45 days to answer the questions, which seek the names of all candidates in the past 20 years, and detailed information about their filing of expense statements or their failure to do so, among other things.

Brown received a list of 46 questions, many of them requiring multiple answers. A separate set went to the board in Butler County—the largest in Lukens' Fourth State Senate District, and another to the other 87 chairmen.

Brown said Assistant Atty. Gen. Thomas Martin is preparing his answer to the complaint Cesco filed. The answer is due Oct. 2.

Assistant Secretary of State James F. Marsh said the office is going ahead preparing answers to the questions.

"We expect to finish it. We're making no attempt to avoid supplying the answers," he said.

Marsh added, however, that he does not expect that the information will show that Lukens was treated any differently than others over the years.

"I'd be surprised if he was," Brown's assistant said.

Marsh said even though the task faced by the county boards is "laborious," he does not know of a case in which a board is having extreme difficulty.

But in Ross County, officials pointed out they had a total of 132 candidates last year alone, and speculated about the task of running down that number over a 20-year period. Many counties had more candidates.

Butler County's board received a separate set of questions because that was the county in which Lukens failed to file a campaign expense statement within 45 days after the election last Nov. 6.

Lukens, a 41-year-old former congressman, went into federal court in Columbus after the Ohio Supreme Court upheld Brown's order disqualifying Lukens from running in next year's election.

The Cincinnati plaintiffs maintain that their inability to vote for Lukens, whom they support, amounts to a violation of their U.S. Constitutional rights under the First and 14th Amendments.

The First Amendment, they said, assures that citizens may "cast their votes effectively for the candidate of their choice." They claim their rights under the 14th Amendment are being violated because it entitles them to equal protection and due process under the law.

Tornadoes Hit East; Fair In Most Sections

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Showers and thunderstorms damped widely scattered areas of the nation today as fair skies held sway in most places.

The rains were confined to the Carolinas and southern Florida and the central and southern Plains just east of the Rockies.

Rainfall was light, generally less than half an inch.

Heavy rains washed the southern and northern Atlantic coasts Tuesday. Calawba, S.C., was soaked with 1.4 inches of rain in 20 minutes Tuesday afternoon. The ground was covered with marble-size hail.

Temperatures dipped into the 30s in parts of New York and Pennsylvania during the night. Readings in the 40s were common throughout the Great Lakes and middle Mississippi Valley.

Four tornadoes were sighted Tuesday in eastern New York and southern New England. Some property was damaged in eastern Long Island and near Danbury, Conn. No personal injuries were reported.

Strong winds whipped up waves of 5 to 6 feet on the U.S. side of Lake Ontario.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 37 at Bradford, Pa., to 83 at Phoenix, Ariz.

No Date Set For Reopening Fabrics Plant

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The director of the Ohio Department of Health met with officials of Columbus Coated Fabrics on Tuesday to determine when employees can return to work safely at the illness-plagued plant.

Health Director Dr. John Cashman said no date was set.

"Management is making some changes in the print shop, but we're not sure what we can expect from those changes," Cashman said.

Corwin Smith, president of Local 487 of the Textile Workers of America, said the company's medical consultant and chemist made presentations at the meeting.

About 130 workers in the company print shop walked off the job two weeks ago because of a mysterious nerve ailment that afflicted 11 of their co-workers. Smith said the number has risen to 47.

A state toxicologist traced the ailment to a solvent used in dyeing cloth. Company officials say they have discontinued use of the chemical.

Smith said the union has withdrawn a recommendation that workers stay off the job because some members were facing financial hardship.

A three-member medical team has proposed an 11-point safety program to correct the problems, and Cashman said the National Institute of Occupational Health and Safety has offered help in pinpointing the cause of the ailment and providing a solution.

ACLU Hits Punishment In Schools

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The American Civil Liberties Union of Ohio seeks $20,000 in damages for a 13-year-old black Springfield girl who claims she was beaten by two school administrators.

The ACLU filed a class action suit in U.S. District Court Tuesday challenging the constitutionality of corporal punishment.

The suit charged that Leatha Benita Sims was subjected to "physical and mental abuse by manhandling her in an effort to inflict corporal punishment."

Named as defendants were William Waln, principal of Schaeffer Junior High School in Springfield, and Max Launder, assistant principal.

The action was brought by the girl's mother, Linda Gail Sims of Springfield.

Benson Wolman, ACLU executive director, said the suit charges that corporal punishment is "cruel and unusual punishment" in violation of the Eighth Amendment.

He said the suit also claims the girl was denied equal protection of the laws guaranteed under the 14th Amendment by "an intentional practice of discriminatory use of corporal punishment against black students solely on the basis of their race."

Wolman said the suit seeks a court ruling preventing "the use of physical force on school children by school teachers, principals or administrators, other than as a bona fide method of self defense or defense of others or property."

Bourbon Price Hike Indicated

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A big Louisville distiller, "surprised" at the increasing cost of grain, bottles and even labels, is considering raising the price of bourbon.

A spokesman for Brown-Forman Distillers Corp., maker of Early Times and Old Forester, says the present rise in grain prices "is going to affect us in the future, though we do buy in advance of our needs."

The rising cost of grain is only one of the increasing expenses distillers face, the spokesman said. Other items costing more are paper for labels, the bourbon bottles themselves, and even the plastic used to seal them.

Doctor Shortage Easing; Rural Problems Remain

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The president-elect of the American Medical Association said the shortage of doctors in the United States is decreasing but that doctors can't be forced to move to rural areas or inner cities.

Dr. Malcolm C. Todd, addressing the Cincinnati Academy of Medicine Tuesday night, said that extending medical aid to those areas is a matter of transportation and solving social problems.

"The doctor shortage?" I think we're conquering it in great part," he said. "What really remains to be done is to regulate some of the attendant social problems."

He quoted former President Lyndon Johnson who said 50,000 doctors were needed. Since the Johnson Administration, said Todd, 74,000 new doctors have joined the medical ranks.

Todd said many doctors simply do not live in the country or the inner city.

"If it isn't the doctor, himself, it may well be his wife who is unhappy."

There are complaints about shortages of doctors in rural areas and in the inner cities, he said.

Cancellation Of Football Gives Strike 'New Look'

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Youngstown School Supt. Robert L. Pegues Jr. says cancellation of high school football has injected a new element into the strike that has kept the schools closed for two weeks.

"When you cancel football, some people push the panic button," Pegues said.

A Cotton Pickin' Plant

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — The establishment of a cotton textile plant in the Texas High Plains area is feasible and the prospects for it to be a profitable enterprise are good, according to a joint study made by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and two national consulting organizations.

The study was undertaken at the request of the Texas Industrial Commission, the Natural Fibers and Food Protein Committee of Texas, many local residents and interests, including the Textile Research Center; and Roy B. Davis, widely known leader in the High Plains cotton industry, who has been associated with the research center in recent months.

The report indicated more than sufficient markets for cotton denim blends, cotton denims, cotton twill blends and cotton twills to support a $15 million plant employing some 400 persons.

The Texas Water Development Board has assured that sufficient water exists in the Lubbock area for such a plant. Success of the plant would require experienced management and competitively priced water, electricity, fuels and supporting services. The survey indicated all are available.

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

The coolest weather of the season thus far has arrived for many parts of Ohio, and a new record for the date was set early today at Toledo, where the mercury dipped to 38 degrees.
There was a new record also at Cleveland which had a reading of 40 degrees. Other spots in the state reported early morning temperatures ranging through the 40s. Heavy fog settled into the valleys of southern and southeastern Ohio.
The morning's weather map showed a large area of high pressure dominating the weather over the eastern portion of the country with the high extending from Pennsylvania to Louisiana.
A low pressure center to the north of Lake Superior with a cold front extending from the center is expected to move rapidly eastward across southern Canada. The cold front will then move southeastward into northern Ohio Thursday and southward out of the state Thursday night.
The National Weather Service said a few showers might accompany the front into northern Ohio Thursday with temperatures in the 70s over the state.

Mullin was also given eight separate five-years-to-life terms on second-degree murder convictions.
The 26-year-old Mullin has claimed he received telepathic messages to kill 10 people.

Wilt Hedges On Report Of Coaching

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It was another in a long list of reports that have made the basketball career of Wilt Chamberlain as controversial as that of any athlete.
And Chamberlain said, "I have nothing to say" concerning a story Tuesday in the San Francisco Examiner that he would sign a $600,000-a-year contract this week as player-coach of the San Diego Conquistadors of the American Basketball Association.
The 37-year-old Los Angeles Laker center would neither confirm nor deny the report.
"I'm negotiating with the Conquistadors as possibly being a player and coach but that's as far as I can say," the 7-foot-1 Chamberlain told The Associated Press at a Hollywood Boulevard bookstore. Wilt was there to autograph copies of his book, "Wilt," in a private office.
"He does not want public autographing sessions," Wilt's public relations man commented. "As for what he's going to do, I don't know and I don't think Wilt does, either."
The Los Angeles Lakers of the National Basketball Association likely will sue if Wilt leaves the club because it holds his contract option for one more season.
"We expect Wilt to play this year and if he plays anywhere, he'll play here," said Pete Newell, Lakers general manager.

Error Leo Bar Wins Beulah Race

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Error Leo Bar Jr. notched his fifth win in nine starts this season with a two-length victory over Huntress on Tuesday in the feature quarterhorse event at Beulah Park.
The 4-year-old sped the distance in 22.74 seconds, less than a second off the track record.
The winner paid $3.60, $2.80 and $2.40, while Huntress returned $3 and $2.80 to place.
Star Bidder paid $4 to show.
The 2-9 daily double was worth $20.80.

Waters Scores Ace In Pre-Senior Golf

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tom Waters stepped into the ninth tee and hit his first shot into the cup on a bounce and a roll Tuesday in Ohio Golf Association Pre-seniors tournament play at the Riviera Country Club.
But Waters' fellow Class-B competitor, Pandel Slavic, turned in the low score of the day, a scorching 35-36—71 for the par 72 layout.
It was only Slavic's second pre-seniors tourney, but he birdied the second, ninth and 13th holes with putts of 12, eight and five feet. He bogeyed one and 17.

The 2-3 daily double combination of Nuthin To Eat and Pana Prince returned $90.60. The crowd of 4,471 wagered $420,732.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Sky Blanket covered the six furlong distance in 1:13 and one-fifth to win the featured Allowance race at Thistledown Tuesday.
The 4-year-old filly was ridden by Antonio Graell and paid $8, $4.20 and $3. Leonardine was second, paying $11.80 and $5.80. Amber Cygnet paid $4.60 to show. The daily double combination of Yoi (6) and Fred's Orphan (6) paid $302.40.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University football coach Woody Hayes told his Big Ten squad they will be practicing hitting this week in preparation for the Sept. 29 match with Texas Christian at home.
In drills Tuesday, junior safety Rich Tarson suffered a sprained ankle. Doug Franz, a senior alternate tackle, sprained his knee. Both were expected to return to practice before the next game.

Four Seasons Operator Gets Year In Prison

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack L. Clark, who was accused of pocketing $10 million while investors in the nursing home chain he headed lost $200 million, has been sentenced to a year in prison.
The 47-year-old Clark is the former president and chairman of Four Seasons Nursing Centers of America, a once glamorous stock issue on the American exchange.
He pleaded guilty on June 4 to charges of conspiracy to defraud investors in the Oklahoma City-based corporation.
Four Seasons built a chain of 26 nursing centers and three child care facilities in Texas, Illinois, Wisconsin, Kansas, Ohio, Arizona, Nevada and Louisiana.

Brown Warns Team About Next Foes

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Cincinnati Bengals Coach Paul Brown warned the team, defeated 28-10 by Denver last week, that the Houston Oilers won't be a snap either.

Brown accused his team of overconfidence after the opening loss. He said Tuesday that the Bengals' tackling "was atrocious."

"It doesn't do any good to look at those pictures," said linebacker Ron Pritchard, over whom three first-half touchdowns were run, "as bad as we were."

Brown planned full practice sessions today and said, after viewing the films of Houston's 34-14 loss to the New York Giants, "It's hard to say how Houston lost."

"They just lost on four interceptions, and one of them was tipped. Yet, they moved the ball pretty well," Brown said, noting Don Pastorini's two touchdown passes in the second half.

"Houston's strength is on defense. They've got Tody Smith—Bubba's brother, that big rookie from Tampa, John Matuszak, Greg Sampson—a first round draft choice at Buffalo, and Elvin Bethea in their front four."

"They're all first round draft choices. I can't think of another team in the league with four like that."

"Our trouble now is to keep those front liners healthy," Brown said. "We're not counting on Doug Dressler for this game either."

Both running back Dressler and wide receiver Charlie Joiner suffered knee injuries in the final exhibition game with Green Bay and remained home from the trip to Denver.

"Joiner is in the same category as Doug," Brown said.
The Bengals suffered no injuries in the Denver game.

Cincy Reds Head For Coast

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The Big Red machine headed for the West Coast today, hoping to mop up and clinch the Western Division of the National League.

Don Gullett outdueled Houston's Jerry Reuss 1-0 Tuesday, ending a home stand that saw Cincinnati pull six games out front after trailing the Los Angeles Dodgers most of the season.

Brown Jug Has Co-Favorites

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Joe O'Brien may have to face the problem of whether to drive Melvin's Woe or Armbrro Nesbit in a Little Brown Jug raceoff. He'd love it.

"I wouldn't complain. I'd like to make a decision like that," said the 56-year-old veteran driver after the draw son.

Cincinnati goes first to San Francisco for games with the Giants tonight and tomorrow, then to Los Angeles for three games before returning home for three games next week with San Diego.

The Reds, who will win on any combination of six Cincinnati victories or Los Angeles losses, have now won 54 of their last 75 games and had a seven-game winning streak until the Astros took the first of a two-game series Monday.

Gullett struck out 11 and Reuss, 11-7, fanned seven in the hour and 55-minute, two-night game Tuesday.

It was the season high for Gullett, 18-8, in his best major league season. He needs only two more victories for his first 20-victory season, but said he is more concerned about the playoffs.

"It's the dream of every pitcher to win 20 games," said the Cincinnati lefthander, who credits his good season to development of a fork ball as an off-speed pitch.

"I have two starts left, and I'm going to give it 110 per cent. But I'm really looking forward to the playoffs with the Eastern Division team.

"The first two games will start here in Cincinnati at 4 p.m.," he said, certain of a Cincinnati triumph in the West. "The sun will be low and it's really an advantage for pitchers who throw hard, like me. It's tough on the hitters."

Gullett gave the Astros only four hits, two to former Red Tommy Helms. He credited Cincinnati pitching coach Larry Sheppard with teaching him "control, you have nothing if you don't have it."

"This has to be my best game of the season, better than my four-hitter in Atlanta. I struck out five or six on fastballs and four more off the fork ball. It was a good pitch for me today and I'm getting more and more confidence in it. I'm not giving it away anymore, I just grab it and go."

The only run in the game came in the eighth inning when Reuss, with two out, walked Tony Perez and Johnny Bench.

Ken Griffey ran for Perez and scored on Andy Kosco's pop-fly single to right field.

Elsewhere in the National League, Philadelphia and Chicago split a pair, the Phils taking the first 5-2 and the Cubs the second 3-2; Cincinnati blanked Houston 1-0; San Diego dropped Atlanta 9-4 and Los Angeles downed San Francisco 3-1.

Mets 6, Pirates 5

Ted Williams, one of the greatest batters to ever play the game, said hitting a baseball was sport's most difficult feat.

For Don Hahn, a .233 hitter, it doesn't sound hard.

"It looked good enough to hit, so I swung at it," Hahn said of his two-run single that capped a five-run ninth, rallying the Mets to a 6-5 victory over Pittsburgh.

Padres 9, Braves 4

Steve Arlin held Atlanta to five hits and Hank Aaron to a single and a long out in hurling the San Diego Padres to a 9-4 victory.

Aaron lofted a long fly in the sixth that seemed destined to put No. 712 on the Atlanta scoreboard in lights. But the ball died on the warning track and Gene Locklear put it away.

Phils 5-2, Cubs 2-3

Chicago's Bill Bonham stopped Philadelphia on three hits, 3-2, after Greg Luzinski's 28th homer, a two-run shot, carried the Phils to a 5-2 decision in the opener.

Dodgers 3, Giants 1

Joe Ferguson raced home with the tie-breaking run in the seventh on Roy Cey's infield grounder, sparking a three-run inning and the Dodgers beat the Giants 3-1.

Southern Cal Favored Over Georgia Tech

NEW YORK (AP) — Do you know the only college football team in the country to face USC two weeks in a row?

The answer is Georgia Tech, which entertains the No. 1-ranked University of Southern California Trojans on Saturday.

Last weekend, favored Tech got caught looking ahead to USC and lost...to USC...41-28. That USC, however, was the University of South Carolina.

The upcoming USC, coming off a 17-0 struggle against Arkansas, isn't likely to be that kind to the Yellow Jackets despite the following ungrammatical words of caution from Coach John McKay:

"If we don't play better this week, even though Georgia Tech got beat, they've got better players than Arkansas. We have to play at Atlanta in the afternoon and we're in over our heads unless we play quite a bit better than we did."

The prediction: Southern Cal 42, Georgia Tech 14.

Last week's count was 41 right—including the Michigan-Iowa (31-7) and Arizona-Wyoming (21-7) scores on the nose—13 wrong and two ties for a percentage of .759. For the season, it's 56-21-2—.727.

Nebraska 45, North Carolina State 17; Nebraska beat UCLA 40-13. N.C. State is smaller and quicker than the Bruins. Nebraska beats all kinds.

Alabama 38, Kentucky 13: The series stands 25-1-1 for Alabama. Kentucky opened its new field last weekend by beating Virginia Tech but the Wildcats are about to become a 1-1 team in Commonwealth Stadium.

Michigan 28, Stanford 10: Wolverines get even for that 1972 Rose Bowl defeat.

Texas 30, Miami, Fla. 6: And Miami still has to play Oklahoma, Houston, Alabama, Florida, Notre Dame, etc., etc.

Penn State 35, Navy 13: Joe Paterno takes it easy on Navy's George Welsh, a former Penn State aide.

Notre Dame 42, Northwestern 7: Notre Dame gets its Irish up.

Tennessee 31, Army 7: Tennessee's

Bill Battle, a former Army assistant coach, has fond memories of West Point. The feeling may not be mutual for long.

Louisiana State 28, Texas A&M 7: Bayou Bengals have been known to stumble against the Aggies...and that's no Aggie joke.

Arizona State 49, Washington State 20: Sun Devils become moon devils in the Arizona night.

Houston 38, South Carolina 14: South Carolina's Paul Dietzel has gone to the Veer...but Houston's Bill Yeoman invented it.

Oklahoma State 30, Arkansas 20: Razorbacks gave it their all against Southern Cal and may not have too much left.

UCLA 35, Iowa 7: Bruins have had two weeks to dwell on their loss to Nebraska. Iowa is between Michigan and Penn State.

Colorado 38, Wisconsin 10: Nebraska is next for Wisconsin. Gone Wisconsin.

Pitt 20, Baylor 17: Panthers stunned Georgia with a 7-7 tie and may be better than anyone thought.

Tulane 21, Boston College 14: One of the better games of the week.

Upset Special of the Week—Maryland 24, North Carolina 22. Tar Heels' record 15-game Atlantic Coast Conference winning streak comes to an end.

Two BGSU Players Gain MAC Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two Bowling Green stars who led the Falcons' to a 41-14 surprise football victory over Syracuse are the Mid-American Conference Offensive and Defensive Players of the Week.

Tailback Paul Miles, a senior from Paulding, Ohio, scored two touchdowns and rushed for 113 yards, the 11th time in 21 varsity games he has surpassed 100 ground yards.

Linebacker John Villapiano, Oakhurst, N.J., senior and brother of Oakland Raiders linebacker Phil Villapiano, earned the defensive honors for 22 tackles, nine of them solo efforts. He also threw three runners for losses totaling 16 yards, forced one fumble and intercepted a pass.

Tuesday for Thursday's $120,000 Little Brown Jug.

It's possible, too. Melvin's Woe is the 3-1 co-favorite with Ricci Reenie Time and Armbrro Nesbit is next at 7-2 for the final leg of pacing's Triple Crown.

Melvin's Woe is in the weaker first division of nine horses. Armbrro Nesbit is in the second division, considered much tougher with J.R. Skipper, Steady Airliner and Ricci Reenie Time.

A field of 17 3-year-old pacers, third largest in the Jug's 28 years, led to the divisions and the record purse for the highlight of four days of Grand Circuit racing at the Delaware County Fairgrounds.

The first four finishers in each division return for a raceoff. If a different horse from the first two winners prevails, the three victors race in a fourth heat. A horse must capture two heats to win the Jug.

O'Brien, a graying Californian, did not want to discuss who would be his second driver. Instead, he talked about the strengths of both horses.

"Melvin's Woe usually comes from behind although he can leave fast, too," said O'Brien of the colt, a son of 1965 Jug winner Bret Hanover. Melvin's Woe, owned by Thurman Downing of Cleveland, has won 14 of 20 starts and $108,080 this year.

"Armbrro Nesbit likes to leave fast," O'Brien continued. "But both have shown enough to warrant starts here."

Armbrro Nesbit, owned by Canadian Duncan MacDonald, impressed with a 1:59 3-5 triumph in rain and mud last week at Liberty Bell. It was his fourth victory in 19 starts and pushed his 1973 earnings past $100,000.

Valiant Bret and Smog, the winners of the first two jewels of the Triple Crown this year, are part of the field. However, the two have been sharp recently and are not prime favorites.

Valiant Bret, who took The Messenger in 2:00 3-5, is listed at 9-2, with Lucien Fontaine driving. Smog, the Cane victor in 1:58 4-5, is 8-1 and will be driven by Vernon Dancer.

Ricci Reenie Time, driven by Harold "Sonny" Dancer Jr., has been on a hot streak after failing to win his first nine starts this season. He's won four of his last five for his owners, Ricci Farms of Long Branch, N.J.

The probable odds and horses in order of post positions, with drivers in parentheses:

First Division—7-2 Rob Ron Ritzar (Keith Waples), 12-1 Playboy Hanover (Terry Holton), 3-1 Melvin's Woe (O'Brien), 9-2 Valiant Bret (Fontaine), 10-1 Racing Knight (Dick Buxton), 8-1 Keystone Smartie (Billy Houghton), 8-1 American Skipper (Glen Garney), 8-1 Smog (Vernon Dancer) and 6-1 Gay Skipper (Jack Ackerman).

Second Division—10-1 Faraway Bay (Buxton), 9-2 J.R. Skipper (John Chapman), 8-1 Billy Joe Byrd (George Sholtz), 8-1 Honey Cane (Bill Walters), 5-1 Otaro Hanover (Herve Filion), 6-1 Steady Airliner (Dick Farrington), 3-1 Ricci Reenie Time (Harold Dancer Jr.) and 7-2 Armbrro Nesbit (O'Brien).

NEW YORK (AP) — Most network radio series were put in their graves by television in the early 1950s.

Well, here it is the early 1970s and CBS is saying it'll start a new radio series on Jan. 6 — in prime time.

There've been no reports of panic in television circles yet. But Sam Cook Digges, head of the CBS Radio Division, and Hi Brown, producer of the coming show, think it could start a new aural trend at the network.

The new series, in the thriller category, is called the "CBS Radio Mystery Theater." It'll run seven nights a week, each 52-minute episode starting at 10:07 p.m. here. There'll be 200 new episodes and 165 repeats.

If the new show clicks, Digges says, it could lead to a new dramatic anthology series, a daytime soap opera and even a new comedy series — in short, a modern minirevival of the golden days of network radio.

Brown, a veteran radio producer whose credits date back to the 1930s, is equally hopeful. But the biggest kick for him right now is the fact that a network is even willing to give radio drama another try.

"It's an emotional jag for me," says Brown, who'll record most of the "Mystery Theater" shows in New York. "I could care less what it does for me financially."

He said the series — each show starts with the sound of a creaking door — will have a permanent host and tell a separate tale each night. The stories will range from the macabre to the occult, Brown said.

The series won't have staff

Shooting Ruled Accidental

A shooting occurring 7:14 p.m. Tuesday in Pickaway was ruled as accidental by Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Don Thompson. Forty-three-year-old Eugene Gerald Mitchell, Route 1, Gregory Trailer Court, Ashville, was taken to Mercy Hospital, Columbus, for buckshot wounds in the leg and back, received in the incident at his home. Sheriff's authorities were notified by Mitchell's wife to come to the place of the shooting. Deputy Thompson entered the home and observed a double barrel shotgun lying on the floor of the living room. According to sources Mrs. Mitchell accidentally released the safety of the shotgun injuring her husband. Harrison Township Emergency Squad was at the scene working on Mitchell's leg. Mrs. Mitchell and her daughter, Vickie Marie Redman, were taken to the Sheriff's office for a statement of the accident and later to Mercy Hospital where Mitchell was admitted. Mitchell is to have surgery today.

Thumb Surgery Technique Seen Help For Many

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Surgeons, using graduate students and engineering facilities at the University of Cincinnati, have successfully implanted an artificial thumb knuckle that they believe may eventually help 50,000 arthritis and injury sufferers. The doctors estimated 50,000 Americans may be helped to regain use of their thumbs through the technique. These include persons with injuries, arthritis and rheumatoid arthritis.

Irish Washwoman Wins British Bravery Medal

LONDON (AP) — The pretty woman known in Belfast as "Kate the laundry woman" has won a medal for bravery in operations against the Irish Republican Army, the British defense minister announced today. For Kate was Lance Cpl. Sarah-Jane Warke of the Women's Royal Army Corps, an intelligence agent who saw her partner gunned down by a guerrilla squad last October. She was awarded the Military Medal, Britain's third highest award for courage. She is the first in her corps to win the medal, which has been bestowed on only six servicewomen since 1918. The British army refused to say what she looks like or where she is stationed now for fear vengeful guerrillas might try to kill her. For the same reason, Queen Elizabeth II will present her medal at a private, unpublicized ceremony at Buckingham Palace. The Defense Ministry did admit that she is over 25 and single. Sarah-Jane was the only woman among a group of British agents disguised as employees of the fictitious Four Square Laundry who toured Catholic quarters of Belfast seeking clues to IRA gunmen. For months, she and Ted Stuart of the Royal Engineers drove their green pickup truck around areas where a British soldier in uniform would have been shot on sight by IRA snipers. The laundry they collected was taken to an army laboratory and checked for bloodstains and indications that the wearer had been using explosives or firearms. The army said the information obtained gave vital leads to guerrillas' hideouts. Security sources in Belfast reported the undercover operation helped pinpoint dozens of terrorists.

Planning Commission Hears Report On Sewer District

Kermit Dountz, chairman of the sewer and water committee of the Pickaway County Regional Planning Commission, gave a report on the progress of forming a county-wide sanitary sewer district Tuesday at the regular meeting of the commission. The county-wide district has been proposed in order to eliminate the red tape required in establishing small districts, to provide more operating funds and to enable the county to hire a full time sanitation engineer to oversee the operation of the sewage plants under the jurisdiction of the county commissioners. Also attending the meeting were Tom Isaac and Carl White of the Housing opportunity Center, Columbus. They informed the local planning commission they had received a grant to study housing in the 8-county Mid Ohio Regional Planning Council area. The study is to uncover and handle discrimination in housing, landlord tenant relations and provide a housing location service for the disadvantaged. An official from the Mid Ohio Regional Planning was present to discuss the reorganization structure of the council and how it involves the eight-county planning region. The eight counties in the Mid-Ohio Council are: Pickaway, Franklin, Delaware, Union, Madison, Fayette, Licking and Fairfield.
